Senate Passes Watered-Down Kennedy Tax Bill

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Senate today passed President John F. Kennedy's badly mauled tax revision bill preserving in it the billion-dollar incentive tax cut for companies to invest in new machinery and equipment.

The provision, to encourage American firms to modernize their plants—so they can produce at lower cost and compete better in world trade—is regarded by the administration as sufficient justification for the measure along with a number of loophole-closing provisions.

But the Senate version still is a far cry from the bill which Kennedy proposed to Congress April 20, 1961.

Aside from the tax credit for companies investing in new machinery, the second most important Kennedy proposal was tax withholding on dividend and interest income.

That was knocked out of the bill by the Senate Finance Committee, and its decision was sustained by the Senate. The House had given Kennedy a victory by keeping this in the measure.

A letter-writing blitz from hundreds of thousands of savers and investors helped defeat it in the Senate.

The administration had estimated that withholding would bring into the Treasury about 780 million dollars a year in taxes now evaded or not paid through ignorance.

With Senate action on the bill, a Senate-House conference committee will now undertake to adjust differences.

Rep. Wilbur D. Mills (D-Ark.), who will head the House delegation, has said he will fight in the conference to retain the withholding plan, but most supporters of the plan think the odds are slim.

As Kennedy originally proposed the bill, it would have yielded about 600 million dollars more in revenue from loophole closers than the investment credit would have cost.

Teacher Suit Might Test Tenure Law

Court Hearing Set Tuesday Into Sausalito Dismissal

Dismissal of Sausalito teacher Mabel Ingram Jensen from her post at Richardson Bay School May 9 was described today by her attorney as "amounting to a test case of the 1961 teacher tenure law."

Preliminary arguments are to be heard Tuesday at 2 p.m. in superior court in the suit filed for Mrs. Jensen against the Sausalito School District by attorney Peter T. Galiano.

Mrs. Jensen charges in the suit she was illegally dismissed from her job as fourth grade teacher without due process of law.

Denial of due process of law in this case, Galiano says, consisted of Mrs. Jensen's being dismissed without notice of a hearing, without having charges filed against her, without having a chance to cross examine witnesses against her and to present a defense to the charges.

Prior to Sept. 15, 1961 a teacher could be fired at the end of a school year for any reason or no reason in a district the size of Sausalito, Galiano explained.

After that date, following an amendment to the education code for district of Sausalito's size, a teacher could be dismissed for cause only at the end of a school year.

Mrs. Jensen taught three years in the district as a probationary teacher, beginning January, 1959. She received her attorney stated, evaluations during this time of "satisfactory," "excellent," "outstanding" and commendations for her performance as a teacher by associates and administrative personnel.

"No one said she was not a good teacher,' 'Galiano said.

May 9 of this year she was notified by the school board president, George R. Kowski, that her services were not needed for the 1962-63 school year.

When she asked for an explanation, she was given on May 18 these "accusations" by Supt. Marcus F. Davis:

Lack of ability to motivate students, difficulty in handling discipline cases and weak in adapting to new situations.

Douglas J. Maloney, assistant county counsel who is handling the case for the district, said "it considerably could be a test case." As with any litigation, he said, there are several issues involved. "There is inherent in the suit a question of the interpretation of this law and what it means."

He also said there has been a similar case in San Diego County in which the court rul-

Annexation Of Tomales Area On Tap

A controversial plan to unify the Tomales Joint Union High School District with surrounding elementary school districts will be approved or rejected by the State Board of Education in Oceanside Oct. 12 or 13.

At that time a recommendation approving the unification will be presented to the board by an augmented Marin County Committee on School District Organization, which includes the basic committee plus members representing each district affected by the plan.

The unification plan has been protested by persons in the Point Reyes area, who say they want to join a unified district in the Tamalpais area or build a second high school farther south in West Marin.

Members of the county unification committee last night appointed Roy Parks of Tomales, a trustee for the Tomales Joint Union High School

VOTE REGISTRATION OPEN UNTIL SEPT. 13

Voters in Marin County have until Sept. 13 to register for the Nov. 6 general election.

Anyone who failed to vote in the last general election, or changed residence or changed name by marriage must re-register, said County Clerk George H. Gnoss.

Requirements for registration include residence in the state one year, the county 90 days and the precinct 54 days prior to Sept. 13. Voters must be at least 21 years old on or before Nov. 6 and must be United States citizens for at least 60 days prior to the election.

The county clerk's office will be open for registration today, tomorrow and next week through Thursday from 8 a.m. until 9 p.m.

Voters may register also with deputy registrars at any of the following locations:

Alto Firehouse, Bel Aire Pharmacy, Pepper's Store in Bolinas, Corte Madera Firehouse and City Hall, Fairfax Firehouse and City Hall, John F. Nielsen Jr. in Forest Knolls, Greenbrae Pharmacy, Homestead Grocery, Handy Dandy Delicatessen in Ignacio, Inverness Store, Kentfield Firehouse, Lagunitas General Store, Larkspur Firehouse and City Hall, Marin City Firehouse, Hap Edde Chevron Station in Marinwood.

Bruce F. Laughlin in Marshall, Mill Valley Firehouse, (also in Mill Valley: Bill's Drugs, Lawson and Dyer Pharmacy and Florence W. McCourtney, 4 Manor Terrace), Novato Firehouse Nos. 1 and 2, Point Reyes Station Firehouse, Ross Firehouse, San Anselmo Firehouses Nos. 1 and 2 and City Hall, San Rafael Firehouses Nos. 1, 2 and 3, (also in San Rafael: Carpenters' Hall and Painters' Union Hall) Dandy Market in San Rafael Meadows.

Santa Venetia Pharmacy, Sausalito Firehouse and City Hall, (also in Sausalito: Margaret Jewett, 309 Caledonia Street, and Camilla C. Haegelin, 311 Second Street), Stinson Beach Realty, Tamalpais Valley Firehouse and Tamalpais Valley Community Store, Terra Linda Pharmacy, Corinthian Pharmacy in Tiburon, Deickman's Store in Tomales and Tarr General Store in Woodacre.

Special registration booths will be open each day from noon until 8 p.m. at the following markets:

Nave Shopping Center, Novato; Lee Brothers, Novato; Roger Wilco Market, Ignacio; Purity Store, San Rafael; Shoreline Market, Tamalpais Valley; Littleman's, Corte Madera Shopping Center; Lucky Market, Fairfax; United Market, San Anselmo and Lee Brothers, Marinwood.

Voters who are ill may telephone the county clerk's office, and a deputy registrar will call for registration.

Sputnik Part Falls On U.S.

WASHINGTON (AP)—The space agency disclosed today that the main part of Sputnik IV has re-entered the atmosphere, and that a piece of metal found in Wisconsin is being studied as a possible remnant of the Soviet satellite.

Sputnik IV, launched 28 months ago, apparently broke up over Wisconsin early yesterday, causing a rash of reports of flaming unidentified flying objects.

The chunk of metal was found on a street in Manitowoc, 85 miles north of Milwaukee. It was spotted first by two patrolmen, Ron Rufboldt and Marvin Bauch.

When they heard the report that flaming objects apparently were part of Sputnik IV they went back and retrieved the chunk. (See photo, page 4)

Board Appoints Aide To Bruce

Higher Salary Voted

John F. Barrows, 32-year-old associate administrative analyst for the City of San Diego, was unanimously confirmed by Marin County supervisors today as the new assistant county administrator.

He was top choice from a field of 100 by both Administrator Alan Bruce and a three-man selection committee which picked three out of a final 10. One of the three was unable to appear for a board interview today and withdrew.

After spending an hour, from 9 to 10 a.m. in closed executive session, interviewing the remaining two the board occupied almost another hour in discussion without Bruce's presence — a situation puzzling to Bruce because when he left the board had seemed agreed on Barrows.

SALARY TALK

A development just after Barrows was invited in to be advised of the board's choice revealed that the time evidently had been spent in argument over salary to be paid, with a generous attitude prevailing.

Barrows' current San Diego salary is $749 monthly. Bruce had persuaded him to start at $760, being the second step of Range 30. But the board finally agreed to hire him at the third step, $795, because he will face a higher cost of living in Marin County.

Barrows is married and has two children.

When Barrows was called in Chairman Walter R. Castro advised him that he was the board's unanimous choice and asked when he could go to work. Barrows said he'd like Oct. 8, the Monday before the move to the civic center.

FUSSELMAN OPPOSES

Supervisor William D. Fusselman said that "frankly, I was opposed to the third step" because he felt that others now in county service might feel unhappy and because he feared such a situation "produces a subconscious dragging of feet. But I'm glad to see everyone get as much money as they can."

As Barrows started to leave Bruce said he "very sincerely

Fusselman Is Due Civic Center Keys

Supervisor William D. Fusselman was unanimously picked by his fellow supervisors today to receive five keys to the civic center administration building from the contractor at dedication ceremonies Oct. 13.

He made no bid for the job but accepted gracefully when Chairman Walter R. Castro had a sudden inspiration, following much Fusselman fussing on the subject of keys generally. Up to then Castro had been due for the honor.

"I move that as oldest member of the board, Mr. Fusselman, accept the keys," said Castro, adding "You're entitled to it."

"I've got more hair than you have, too!" grinned Fusselman as Clerk George Gnoss called the roll. This seemed to register Fusselman as "yes."

Fusselman first showed interest in the key situation during discussion Tuesday of dedication plans, and he then committed Administrator Alan Bruce to providing five keys rather than one.

Today Fusselman showed the matter was still on his mind by saying that "we're all equal on this board and provision of one key wouldn't be proper procedure for there would be inference that only one person was entitled to it."

His colleagues indicated sentiments that the chairman was logical recipient from contractor Robert B. Rothschild. But snag developed when it was found the program allowed Rothschild three minutes for presentation, with 15 minutes for the supervisors, or a three-minute talk by each supervisor.

Colleagues said Castro should speak for all but he declined. Fusselman declared he felt impelled to tell Rothschild what a fine job he'd done.

Castro suddenly proposed that Fusselman take the five keys and deliver the talk of acceptance, which idea was hailed by all.

U.S. Accuses USSR Of Berlin 'Distortion'

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The United States today accused Russia of trying to divert world attention from its "failure to carry out its responsibilities" in Berlin and Germany. It said the Soviets painted a "completely distorted picture" of the situation in the divided city.

That was the formal State Department reaction to yesterday's Soviet note charging the United States, Britain and France with provoking incidents along the Berlin wall and protecting fascist elements within West Germany.

The State Department said the Soviet note was "completely unresponsive" to Western proposals that four-power representatives on the scene get together. The West proposed a four-power discussion of tension arising from the erection of the wall by the Communists Aug. 13, 1961.

The Soviet note actually rejected the idea of four-power talks on the scene. State Department officials said it was "unresponsive" in that it was primarily "a lengthy compilation of the fallacious and unsupported charges which the Soviet Union has made in the past with references to the Federal Republic (West Germany) and the situation in West Berlin."

State Department spokesman Henry Cox said the United States still wanted a four-power meeting at the local level in Berlin "to bring about a reduction of tensions in Berlin and an amelioration of the inhumane consequences of the wall."

The Soviet note ostensibly was a reply to British, French and American notes of Aug. 24 and a U.S. note of Aug. 27 calling for a four-power meeting. The West, in those notes, blamed Russia for increasing tension within the Berlin area.

The State Department said it was continuing to study the Soviet note "in consultation with our Allies."

WORLD NEWS IN BRIEF

Rail Strike Full Force Felt

CHICAGO (UPI) — The economic impact of the strike against the Chicago and North Western Railway hit the Midwest with full force today and appeals for a quick settlement mounted.

From Wyoming to Chicago, the stoppage of the nation's third largest railroad meant plant shutdowns, workers laid off, construction hobbled, and farm products stranded.

A federal mediator entered another round of talks with the railroad and union leaders in hope of solving the job security dispute.

Fair's Ninth Day

SACRAMENTO (AP) — The California State Fair moved into its ninth day today with attendance continuing above last year's.

A total of 52,718 persons entered the gates yesterday, 10,537 higher than the same day in 1961. It brought the attendance so far to 574,755, 21,630 more than the same time last year.

Estes Empire Sold

EL PASO, Tex. (AP) — Morris D. Jaffe, 40-year-old president of Fed-Mart Stores of San Antonio, yesterday purchased all assets of the Billie Sol Estes business empire.

Purchase price was 5.8 million dollars but with interest payments and grain payments due creditors, Jaffe will pay a total of 8.7 million dollars.

Cuba Missile War

MIAMI, Fla. (AP) — The Cuban Revolutionary Council said last night that arms shipments being sent into Cuba by the Soviet Union would be used to interfere with U. S. missile launchings.

Dr. Jose Miro Cardona, president of the Cuban exile group, said in a statement: "In different sections of Cuba, principally in the north coast of the province of Pinar del Rio, missile rocket bases and electronic equipment are being installed for warlike operations."

'U-2s Over China'

HONOLULU (UPI)—The Honolulu Advertiser today reported that high-altitude American U-2 airplanes may be going over parts of the China mainland.

According to a story by military reporter Scott Stone, "a high-ranking Chinese nationalist officer has said privately that the U-2s are being used to photograph the coast of the China mainland.

"It is also known that the U.S. has some very excellent maps of portions of the China mainland. The maps obviously came from an aerial source."

Laos, Czech Pact

VIENTIANE, Laos (AP) —Laos announced today the establishment of diplomatic relations with Czechoslovakia.

Shah Shows Concern

BOOEN, Iran (UPI)—The Shah of Iran, on the second day of his inspection of the earthquake-shattered area around this city expressed concern today about a shortage of water for the 30,000 survivors of the disaster.

The Shah, his eyes grim behind dark glasses, camped out last night. He is touring an area the size of Massachusetts and Connecticut by phone, helicopter and jeep.

About 3,200 bodies have been recovered here.

New Symphony Head

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI)—Josef Krips, conductor and musical director of the Buffalo Philharmonic Orchestra, has been named conductor of the San Francisco Symphony Orchestra effective with the 1963-64 season.

J. D. Zellerbach, president of the San Francisco Symphony Assn., announced yesterday that Krips would succeed Enrique Jorda, whose resignation is effective at the end of the 1962-63 season.

Slayer Is Given Execution Stay

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—Paul K. Imbler, 48, convicted Los Angeles murderer, won from the State Supreme Court today an order staying his execution, scheduled Sept. 12.

The Supreme Court also ordered the state to show cause why Imbler should not be granted a new trial on his plea of newly discovered evidence. Imbler was found guilty of the Jan. 4, 1961, murder of Morris Hasson, a grocer, during the robbery of Hasson's store.

Imbler's attorney, Jules C. Goldstone, told the Court he had evidence which would discredit eyewitnesses who had testified they saw Imbler at the scene of the crime.

Minerals from 11 states are used in the manufacture of ceramic tile.

Lions Will Give Civic Center Tours

Members of the recently founded Civic Center Lions Club will give guided tours of Marin County's new civic center to Lions and their guests from 51 clubs in the North Bay area Sept. 15.

The Lions will be gathering at the Corte Madera Lions Club recreational hall for the district governor's cabinet meeting Sept. 15 and 16.

Ray Knapp of the Civic Center club said he hopes that all the Lions, their wives and guests who wish to see the new civic center can be accommodated on the tour.

Woman Hits Steering Wheel Of Car; Hurt

Mrs. Virginia Hall, 42, of 10 Hazel Avenue, Larkspur, was treated at Marin General Hospital late Tuesday for a chest contusion after she said she hit the steering wheel of her car when a front wheel rolled off and the vehicle sharply halted.

The accident happened in the 700 block of Magnolia Avenue, the Larkspur Fire Department reported.

Russ Venus Failures Told

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Soviet Union has struck out in five of six attempts to send spacecraft to Mars and Venus —and the sixth turned into a long foul, U.S. space officials report.

Twice within the past two weeks, they said, the Soviets tried to beat or match America's launching of Mariner 2 now hurtling 8,000 miles an hour toward Venus. Both Soviet attempts went haywire, added the report.

It ticked off the two space flops this way—

One effort on Aug. 25—two days before Mariner rocketed into the sky — broke up in space. Its fragments are orbiting earth. This failure was reported unofficially earlier.

But the U.S. space agency disclosed last night a second attempt last Saturday not previously reported. The Soviets saw this one misfire, too.

The only shot that approached success was a Venus probe in 1961, said the report, but its radio blacked out before it got even close to the planet.

The chronicle of Soviet space troubles was contained in a letter to chairmen of the Senate and House Space committees from James E. Webb, chief of the National Aeronautics and Space Administration.

The Congress members had urged Webb to make public information on Soviet space misadventures since the Soviets only talk about their successes.

Along this line, Rep. George P. Miller (D-Calif.) today laced into "Monday morning quarterbacks whose teeth start chattering after every Russian 'spectacular' in space."

Miller, chairman of the House Space Committee, told the House in a prepared speech that these critics had demanded more emphasis on military needs in space after the Soviet Union put two manned spaceships in twin orbits.

"Our defense officials are not dolts, and I suspect that their decisions are based on information and intelligence which is somewhat superior to that of their lay critics," said Miller.

With an eye toward keeping space from becoming a battleground, the Kennedy administration has announced that the United States has "no program to place any weapons of mass destruction in orbit."

Sun's Gravity Pulls Mariner Along

PASADENA (AP) — The sun's gravitational pull has captured the Venus-bound spacecraft Mariner 2.

But there's no cause for alarm—scientists planned it that way.

At a point 1.6 million miles out in space yesterday solar gravity became strong enough to overcome the earth's weakening pull on the 447-pound spacecraft.

For the rest of its uncalculated lifetime, Mariner 2 will be a tiny satellite of the sun.

Scientific interest in it will cease next Dec. 14 when the 12-foot-tall vehicle streaks past Venus at a distance of 9,000 miles.

Its scientific instruments, designed to help determine whether life could exist on the cloudy planet, then will be turned off and Mariner 2 will become another hunk of space junk orbiting the sun.

Scientists at Jet Propulsion Laboratory, where Mariner 2 was built, calculated both the dwindling earth gravity and the increasing solar gravity in figuring its trajectory through space.

Italian tennis star Orlando Sirola is 6 feet 7 inches tall.

MARIN FIRE CALLS

YESTERDAY:

10:48 a.m., Marinwood—Fire in clothes dryer in home of L. J. Leverman at 320 Johnstone Drive; caused by overheated nylon clothes in dryer which caught fire; extensive damage to machine estimated at approximately $100.

12:41 p.m., Mill Valley—Lockout at 12 Valley Circle.

6:10 p.m., Tiburon—Fire, caused by backfire through carburetor, in car of Mrs. Peggy Bolcerek, Unit C-19, Hilarita housing, at Tiburon Boulevard opposite housing development; no damage.

WORLD NEWS IN BRIEF

Rail Strike Full Force Felt

CHICAGO (UPI) — The economic impact of the strike against the Chicago and North Western Railway hit the Midwest with full force today and appeals for a quick settlement mounted.

From Wyoming to Chicago, the stoppage of the nation's third largest railroad meant plant shutdowns, workers laid off, construction hobbled, and farm products stranded.

A federal mediator entered another round of talks with the railroad and union leaders in hope of solving the job security dispute.

Fair's Ninth Day

SACRAMENTO (AP) — The California State Fair moved into its ninth day today with attendance continuing above last year's.

A total of 52,718 persons entered the gates yesterday, 10,537 higher than the same day in 1961. It brought the attendance so far to 574,755, 21,630 more than the same time last year.

Estes Empire Sold

EL PASO, Tex. (AP) — Morris D. Jaffe, 40-year-old president of Fed-Mart Stores of San Antonio, yesterday purchased all assets of the Billie Sol Estes business empire.

Purchase price was 5.8 million dollars but with interest payments and grain payments due creditors, Jaffe will pay a total of 8.7 million dollars.

Cuba Missile War

MIAMI, Fla. (AP) — The Cuban Revolutionary Council said last night that arms shipments being sent into Cuba by the Soviet Union would be used to interfere with U. S. missile launchings.

Dr. Jose Miro Cardona, president of the Cuban exile group, said in a statement: "In different sections of Cuba, principally in the north coast of the province of Pinar del Rio, missile rocket bases and electronic equipment are being installed for warlike operations."

'U-2s Over China'

HONOLULU (UPI)—The Honolulu Advertiser today reported that high-altitude American U-2 airplanes may be going over parts of the China mainland.

According to a story by military reporter Scott Stone, "a high-ranking Chinese nationalist officer has said privately that the U-2s are being used to photograph the coast of the China mainland.

"It is also known that the U.S. has some very excellent maps of portions of the China mainland. The maps obviously came from an aerial source."

Soblen Blocks Deportation With Death Try

LONDON (UPI) — Runaway Soviet spy Dr. Robert A. Soblen blocked his return to the United States and a life term in prison for at least another 24 hours today by swallowing an overdose of barbiturates.

Soblen lapsed into unconsciousness in an ambulance taking him to London Airport from Brixton Prison to board a waiting New York-bound jetliner. The ambulance was quickly diverted at the airport entrance and rushed him to nearby Hillingdon Hospital. There was no report as to where Soblen obtained the barbiturates.

A Home Office spokesman said he had taken the barbiturates, and he remained unconscious throughout the day.

This evening, a home office spokesman said he would have to remain in the hospital for "at least another 24 hours." Therefore, the spokesman said, no new arrangements were being made at present for his departure at a later date.

Solomon Kaufman, one of Soblen's London attorney's, said the deportation order was not affected legally by Soblen's "illness."

"It is no longer a matter for lawyers," he said. "All legal processes have now been exhausted and one can only hope for leniency from the home secretary. Either that, or the Americans should relent in their hitherto merciless pursuit of Dr. Soblen."

Kaufman said there is no time limitation on the British deportation order.

"It is at the home secretary's discretion to put him on any plane he thinks fit," he said.

Earlier, a hospital announcement had said Soblen was still unconscious five hours after he took an overdose of drugs.

At 5:55 p.m., hospital officials said Soblen still was unconscious that there "was no change in his condition." The officials said another statement will be issued by the hospital at 10:30 a.m. tomorow.

TAX BILL

The House cut out considerable revenue but still passed a bill on the plus side because it retained withholding.

The Senate version will add to the Treasury deficit. Estimates range from a Treasury forecast of a 210-million-dollar annual loss to a 555-million-dollar red ink figure compiled by congressional experts.

The measure is only a step toward the broad revision of the tax laws.

Kennedy has said that next year he will propose a substantial across-the-board income tax cut effective as of Jan. 1, 1963.

The investment credit provision—the key one of this bill—would permit most companies to deduct from their taxes up to 7 per cent of what they spend on new machinery and equipment. Utilities would be allowed 3 per cent.

thanked the board for the action it has just taken." He later said the pay action took him by surprise but he thought it well justified and a sound move.

Born in Jamestown, N. Y., Barrows went to high school there, then graduated in 1952 from Allegheny College, Pa. He majored in political science and public administration.

The following year he received a Master's degree from the Maxwell School of Public Administration at Syracuse, N.Y., considere done of the top schools in this field in the United States.

He served as line officer and administrative officer for various Navy commands from 1953 to 1956 as lieutenant junior grade.

Between January, 1957, and June, 1958, he was a senatorial legislative assistant in Washington, D.C. Joining the San Diego municipal administration in August of 1958, he served for two years as assistant administrative analyst.

For the past two years he has been associate administrative analyst with such duties as reviewing budget requests and recommending changes to the city manager, preparing special reports, dealing with interdepartmental problems and studying improvements in administrative organization and methods.

ed in favor of the school district. In that case, Mesna vs. Vista Unified School District, said Maloney, it was a question of the manner in which the teacher was dismissed.

Meanwhile Mrs. Jensen, who lives with her retired husband, Erland K. Jensen, at 305 Marin Street, Mill Valley, is unemployed. She said yesterday "I am ready, willing and able to go back to to the school district."

Mrs. Jensen has taught 13 years fulltime and two years as a substitute. She began her teaching at Cary, Ky., where she taught one year. She then taught eight years at Pineville, also in Kentucky. Then she said she raised a family.

She returned to teaching in California, teaching one year at Lagunitas fulltime and two years as a substitute throughout the county. She joined the Sausalito School District three years ago and taught in different schools.

Ex-Convict Tries To Hang Self In Jail

A 48-year-old ex-convict and former state hospital inmate tried to hang himself in Marin County jail last night, sheriff's officers reported.

Hugh Littleton Ryder of 109 Union Street, San Rafael, made a rope from his shirt and shoe laces and tied one end around the window bars at the north end of the drunk tank. When Asst. Jailer Newell Snyder made a routine check at 11:28 p.m., inmate Richard Payne told him he had just pulled Ryder down. Ryder was beginning to "turn blue," Payne said.

Snyder called Dr. Richard W. Wolk, county physician's staff member, and Dr. Wolk ordered Ryder taken to Napa State Hospital after examination.

San Rafael police had booked Ryder two hours earlier on charges of being drunk and disturbing the peace. Police said he had entered the Danish Old People's Home at 326 Mission Avenue last night, posing as an agent of the Federal Bureau of Investigation.

According to police, Ryder was released last week from Mendocino State Hospital after treatment as an alcoholic. He also has served time in San Quentin Prison, police said.

Belvedere Man Jailed For Molesting Boy

John M. Kyle, 55, of Belvedere was placed in Marin County jail at 11 p.m. yesterday by Belvedere police on charges of molesting a newspaper boy at his home Saturday.

Parents of the 9-year-old Belvedere boy reported to police that their son was molested when he delivered the newspaper at about 6 p.m. to Kyle at his home at 4 Eucalyptus Road. Kyle is free on $2,500 bail and is to appear in municipal court at 1:30 p.m. Tuesday.

Condemned Slayer Asks Early Death

Condemned killer Melvin T. Darling drafted a petition to the courts today to speed up his date with death.

"I can't stand the petty agitations on Death Row," said the 29-year-old Oakland murderer of Alex A. Malcomson III, 36, a grandson of Henry Ford.

Darling is scheduled to die Oct. 1. He wants it speeded up to Sept. 24.

In San Francisco, Superior Court Judge Charles Perry, who set the execution date, said he fixed it at the earliest possible time legally at Darling's request.

Superior Court Judge Gerald S. Levin, to whom Darling is addressing his petition, said he saw no valid legal reason for stepping into the situation.

Darling told an interviewer that "I committed the murder, I suppose in part for money, but more for self-destruction."

Malcomson was pistol-whipped, shot and strangled in a San Francisco hotel room last Oct. 22.

District, to present arguments at the state board meeting for unification. Mrs. David Baty of Point Reyes Station was chosen to argue against unification. A specific time during the two-day meeting has not yet been set for the hearing.

State board members will approve or disapprove the proposal immediately after hearing arguments from the floor, according to Edwin L. Blackmore, county coordinator for rural education. The proposal, if approved, would then go to a vote in the districts affected. The unification proposal would join the high school district with the Point Reyes School District, West Marin Union School District, Tomales Bay Union District and Sonoma districts including American Valley, Bloomfield, Bodega Bay and Watson.

In other action, the committee agreed to mail all proposals for unification of the Tamalpais Union High School District to districts involved and request the districts' reactions to the proposals in time for the Oct. 3 meeting of the committee.

A schedule for meetings through October includes these dates: Wednesday, Sept. 12, Sept. 19, Oct. 3, Oct. 17 and Oct. 31. The committee laid plans to consider unification plans in the San Rafael-Dixie school districts area and the Novato-San Jose school district areas after October meetings with the Tamalpais groups.

Mill Valley Lions Barbecue Is Sunday

Mill Valley Lions Club members will hold their annual barbecue at 1 p.m. Sunday at Boyle Park.

Games will be part of the activities; Joe Canet, police captain, will be chef for his fifth year and tend the sauces for about 2,000 chicken dinners. The event is to be filmed in color for the club, according to William Gilmore, president.

Ex-Convict Tries To Hang Self In Jail

A 48-year-old ex-convict and former state hospital inmate tried to hang himself in Marin County jail last night, sheriff's officers reported.

Hugh Littleton Ryder of 109 Union Street, San Rafael, made a rope from his shirt and shoe laces and tied one end around the window bars at the north end of the drunk tank. When Asst. Jailer Newell Snyder made a routine check at 11:28 p.m., inmate Richard Payne told him he had just pulled Ryder down. Ryder was beginning to "turn blue," Payne said.

Snyder called Dr. Richard W. Wolk, county physician's staff member, and Dr. Wolk ordered Ryder taken to Napa State Hospital after examination.

San Rafael police had booked Ryder two hours earlier on charges of being drunk and disturbing the peace. Police said he had entered the Danish Old People's Home at 326 Mission Avenue last night, posing as an agent of the Federal Bureau of Investigation.

According to police, Ryder was released last week from Mendocino State Hospital after treatment as an alcoholic. He also has served time in San Quentin Prison, police said.

Belvedere Man Jailed For Molesting Boy

John M. Kyle, 55, of Belvedere was placed in Marin County jail at 11 p.m. yesterday by Belvedere police on charges of molesting a newspaper boy at his home Saturday.

Parents of the 9-year-old Belvedere boy reported to police that their son was molested when he delivered the newspaper at about 6 p.m. to Kyle at his home at 4 Eucalyptus Road. Kyle is free on $2,500 bail and is to appear in municipal court at 1:30 p.m. Tuesday.

Condemned Slayer Asks Early Death

Condemned killer Melvin T. Darling drafted a petition to the courts today to speed up his date with death.

"I can't stand the petty agitations on Death Row," said the 29-year-old Oakland murderer of Alex A. Malcomson III, 36, a grandson of Henry Ford.

Darling is scheduled to die Oct. 1. He wants it speeded up to Sept. 24.

In San Francisco, Superior Court Judge Charles Perry, who set the execution date, said he fixed it at the earliest possible time legally at Darling's request.

Superior Court Judge Gerald S. Levin, to whom Darling is addressing his petition, said he saw no valid legal reason for stepping into the situation.

Darling told an interviewer that "I committed the murder, I suppose in part for money, but more for self-destruction."

Malcomson was pistol-whipped, shot and strangled in a San Francisco hotel room last Oct. 22.

District, to present arguments at the state board meeting for unification. Mrs. David Baty of Point Reyes Station was chosen to argue against unification. A specific time during the two-day meeting has not yet been set for the hearing.

State board members will approve or disapprove the proposal immediately after hearing arguments from the floor, according to Edwin L. Blackmore, county coordinator for rural education. The proposal, if approved, would then go to a vote in the districts affected. The unification proposal would join the high school district with the Point Reyes School District, West Marin Union School District, Tomales Bay Union District and Sonoma districts including American Valley, Bloomfield, Bodega Bay and Watson.

In other action, the committee agreed to mail all proposals for unification of the Tamalpais Union High School District to districts involved and request the districts' reactions to the proposals in time for the Oct. 3 meeting of the committee.

A schedule for meetings through October includes these dates: Wednesday, Sept. 12, Sept. 19, Oct. 3, Oct. 17 and Oct. 31. The committee laid plans to consider unification plans in the San Rafael-Dixie school districts area and the Novato-San Jose school district areas after October meetings with the Tamalpais groups.

White Youths To Continue Negro Vote Drive Despite Shotgun Blasts

DAWSON, Ga. (UPI) — Seven young white integrationists, one of whom was blasted with shotgun pellets yesterday, said today they will continue to urge Negroes to register to vote.

The six, along with about 40 Negroes who live in this south Georgia racial trouble spot, held a two-hour voter registration meeting last night at nearby Sasser.

FBI agents kept the meeting under observation and no incidents were reported.

John Chatfield, 20, a Trinity College student from Bradford, Vt., was struck twice in the left arm by shotgun pellets fired into a Negro home where he was staying early yesterday.

"I'm not leaving," Chatfield said. "I'll be here at least another six months. We're going over to Sasser again to canvass Negro homes."

Chatfield said he thought the Justice Department should investigate the shooting, which slightly wounded two of his co-workers. Chatfield's wound was the only one which required treatment.

The Student Non-Violent Coordinating Committee (SNCC), which sponsors the voter registration team here, said a gunman drove past the home of Mrs. Carolyn Daniel shortly after midnight and fired a number of blasts in the small concrete block house at close range.

Ralph Allen of Hartford, Conn., a member of the team, said 12 charges were blasted in the front door of the house.

Police at first said they knew nothing of the shooting at the Daniel home but later acknowledged it had been fired upon.

San Marin Held Building Boost

Construction of the planned community of San Marin northwest of Novato will "generate a million dollars a month in construction outlay for the next seven to 10 years," Daniel P. Coleman of San Rafael said today on a radio KTIM "Marin Sounding Board" panel discussion.

Coleman, whose firm did the planning for the project, clarified that it will not contain any industrial areas or other employment-producing facilities aside from the obvious service needs of a generally balanced community but indicated a possible over-all outlay by the developers of around 120 million dollars.

With Kitty Oppenheimer as moderator of an hour program to be rebroadcast by tape recording at 12:30 p.m. Sunday, four panelists ranged through many aspects of the big job from the matter of its name to how it will be policed.

"I liked the first name selected (Greenborough)," said C. F. Greene, assistant district engineer of the Division of Highways.

Coleman said postal authorities feared conflict with Greenbrae and that San Marin was then chosen as establishing the location of the development, coupled with a feeling that "it's time Marin County was canonized."

"I haven't heard from the churches as to whether there is such a saint," remarked David Van Pelt, principal county planner.

E. R. Miller of Greenbrae, who spoke as representative of the developers, executed a fast sidestep on one question as to whether sales in San Marin will be restricted, specifically "will anybody be able to purchase?"

Having said it is hoped to start construction activity next month, Miller said: "As to who is eligible to buy, I am not sure I understand the question."

Miller said that although it may seem odd that the developers are called Sunset International Petroleum Corp., the company terminated oil operations in 1960 and entered the field of real estate development. A major factor in this work is association with Carlos Tavares, San Diego developer responsible for the city of Claremont.

Greene said he "heartily endorsed" the help of county planners in arranging reservation of 35 acres as a "corridor" for major future state or county road westward but believed there would be no early decision by the State Highway Commission on the route of the projected major road west of Highway 101.

"Such reservation of space constitutes a strong argument for this route," he added, saying that only minor disruption would be entailed as compared with another possibility.

Policing under present county control is under the sheriff's office, it was pointed out in response to a question, but Van Pelt mentioned that the community can in future provide its own protection under a community services district if desired.

Questioned as to possible political future of the area, Coleman said San Marin might remain in the county, be annexed to Novato or become a city in itself.

"At this time the developers have no set policy," he said. "We were confident we would be well treated by the county and we have been. The future is a matter for time to tell."

GETS AWARD AT SCOTTISH GAMES

Young Miss Marches Into Men's Field With Bagpipe Under Arm

By LOREN MacARTHUR

If you ring the doorbell at 826 Hacienda Way in Santa Venetia, you may not be heard.

A most unusual 13-year-old is likely to be practicing her music lesson there in the backyard. Pamela Davis plays the bagpipes, and it's enough to start Scots' tongues awagging whenever she announces the fact.

Scotsmen have piped since the Middle Ages, and they're more than a bit canny about a young woman who enters the field.

Bagpipe under arm, Miss Davis marched onto a competition platform Sunday, here-to-fore reserved for men, and piped a Scottish tune. She marched off again with a top prize for her piping, much to the astonishment of the clansmen gathered there.

"Contestant 161 has won third place," said the announcer, "only he's a she."

Among the 202 competitors at the 17th annual Scottish Gathering and Games, held this year in Santa Rosa, Miss Davis was the sole Scotswoman entered to play the pipes. She took a third prize for novice playing.

"It takes a lot of wind," "Miss Davis said. "I had a bad heart and lungs before I started playing when I was 11. Now they're fine."

Pamela smiled when asked how she felt about invading a man's field. "I don't think of it that way," she said and got up to demonstrate a bit of piping.

"Why don't you play on the patio, dear?" said Mrs. Davis. "It's definitely an outdoor-type instrument."

Miss Davis piped "Jim McBay's Welcome," a tune to turn the stoniest of Scottish hearts, and explained she first decided to be a piper at the age of four. She lived in Willits, though, where bagpipes were as scarce as city slickers.

She couldn't find a piper willing to teach her piping until she met Roderick H. Aya of Belvedere, a San Francisco tax accountant. Aya studied with the late piping master, Alex Gray of San Francisco, whose piping was to Scots what good opera is to a devotee.

How does Aya feel about a young miss playing the pipes?

"Anybody who loves the pipes as much as she does should play them. When I first told her I'd take her on, you'd think the Gates of Heaven had opened for her. Her effort is something you seldom find in a student."

Miss Davis, who entered Terra Linda High School this week, said she practices a good half hour each day, usually in the backyard.

"The third day after we moved here there were about 25 kids lined up on the fence to watch Pam," said Carol, Miss Davis' 11-year-old sister. James, 10, slept through his sister's entire performance. "I play the bongos," he announced after awakening.

Phyllis, 16, plays the clarinet. "She just can't see the pipes," explained Mrs. Davis.

James Davidson Sr. is general foreman for Echo-Phoenix Electrical Corp. of San Francisco.

There's one thing, though, that Miss Davis can't do. Scotsmen still won't let her wear kilts.

Corte Madera Sanitary Manager Gets Pay Hike

William A. Adam, secretary-manager of the Corte Madera Sanitary District, Tuesday night was given a $900 a year salary raise, one-fourth the $3,600 hike he asked July 17.

Directors voted 5-0 to raise his pay to $9,600 a year, effective Oct. 1, after a report by Harold Callahan, San Rafael auditor, recommending that his pay be set at between $875 and $900 a month.

Adam's previous pay of $8,700 a year came to $725 a month; the new rate will be $800.

The directors awarded a contract for a force main connection to the Paradise Pumping Station to Linscott Co. of San Rafael at $33,960, a bid of about $20,000 less than the figure submitted when bids were opened on Aug. 7.

The board reviewed and amended a draft of a proposed ordinance to supplant eight old ordinances governing the district's activities and returned it to its legal advisors for final rewriting.

The board will hold an adjourned meeting at 7:30 p.m. Sept. 18 to consider sewerage plans of the Park View Terrace and Mariners Highlands subdivisions.

Last Ferryboat On Bay Ending

By BILL BOYARSKY

SACRAMENTO (AP)—The last of the San Francisco Bay Area ferryboats will be exiled to Florida Sept. 15, replaced by a toll bridge.

That's the day a 6,215-foot-long span over the Carquinez Strait—25 miles northeast of San Francisco—opens, providing cheaper and speedier transportation between the cities of Benicia and Martinez.

It takes the small ferryboat Carquinez 15 minutes to make the pleasant crossing. The motorist has to pay at least 65 cents.

Bridge tolls will be 25 cents and drivers will be able to speed across a wide, four-lane span with a 10-foot median barrier.

The Carquinez is a surprisingly young victim of technological advance, built for the state only six years ago to replace an ancient vessel. The State of Florida purchased her for less than $90,000.

She's the last boat on the oldest major ferry line in California, a 115-year-old route established by Gen. Mariano Guadalupe Vallejo to link his vast ranching domain.

The Benicia-Martinez ferry was part of the Pony Express route. Before that, it carried legislators when Benicia was California's capital in 1853-54.

And one day in 1889, fight fans crowded aboard and sailed to Benicia, where they saw Gentleman Jim Corbett knock out Joe Choynski in 27 rounds.

The boat is expected to be packed on its final journey with nostalgic Bay Area residents who remember when the bay and nearby waters were criss-crossed with ferry lines.

The new bridge cost about 14.2 million dollars. It is 138 feet above the water.

It's construction was finished just 25 months after the first contract was awarded, mostly because of engineering innovations.

The pier footings, made of concrete, were built on shore, floated into place, anchored and sunk into position. The piers themselves were built with a new method in which the form were packed up at a rate of about 10 inches an hour until the height of 100 to 130 feet was reached.

Class In English Planned For Adults

A class in English fundamentals and arithmetic will be given at Manzanita School in Marin City for the fall quarter of the Tamalpais Adult Evening School, Principal Harry G. Russell announced today.

Instructor Dirk West said the course includes a review of the principles of elementary English and practical problem-solving in arithmetic. There is no fee. The class is set for Mondays, 7:30 to 9:30 p.m.

Registration for the Marin City class can be made at Manzanita School or at Drake or Tamalpais high schools.

GETS AWARD AT SCOTTISH GAMES

Young Miss Marches Into Men's Field With Bagpipe Under Arm

By LOREN MacARTHUR

If you ring the doorbell at 826 Hacienda Way in Santa Venetia, you may not be heard.

A most unusual 13-year-old is likely to be practicing her music lesson there in the backyard. Pamela Davis plays the bagpipes, and it's enough to start Scots' tongues awagging whenever she announces the fact.

Scotsmen have piped since the Middle Ages, and they're more than a bit canny about a young woman who enters the field.

Bagpipe under arm, Miss Davis marched onto a competition platform Sunday, here-to-fore reserved for men, and piped a Scottish tune. She marched off again with a top prize for her piping, much to the astonishment of the clansmen gathered there.

"Contestant 161 has won third place," said the announcer, "only he's a she."

Among the 202 competitors at the 17th annual Scottish Gathering and Games, held this year in Santa Rosa, Miss Davis was the sole Scotswoman entered to play the pipes. She took a third prize for novice playing.

"It takes a lot of wind," "Miss Davis said. "I had a bad heart and lungs before I started playing when I was 11. Now they're fine."

Pamela smiled when asked how she felt about invading a man's field. "I don't think of it that way," she said and got up to demonstrate a bit of piping.

"Why don't you play on the patio, dear?" said Mrs. Davis. "It's definitely an outdoor-type instrument."

Miss Davis piped "Jim McBay's Welcome," a tune to turn the stoniest of Scottish hearts, and explained she first decided to be a piper at the age of four. She lived in Willits, though, where bagpipes were as scarce as city slickers.

She couldn't find a piper willing to teach her piping until she met Roderick H. Aya of Belvedere, a San Francisco tax accountant. Aya studied with the late piping master, Alex Gray of San Francisco, whose piping was to Scots what good opera is to a devotee.

How does Aya feel about a young miss playing the pipes?

"Anybody who loves the pipes as much as she does should play them. When I first told her I'd take her on, you'd think the Gates of Heaven had opened for her. Her effort is something you seldom find in a student."

Miss Davis, who entered Terra Linda High School this week, said she practices a good half hour each day, usually in the backyard.

"The third day after we moved here there were about 25 kids lined up on the fence to watch Pam," said Carol, Miss Davis' 11-year-old sister. James, 10, slept through his sister's entire performance. "I play the bongos," he announced after awakening.

Phyllis, 16, plays the clarinet. "She just can't see the pipes," explained Mrs. Davis.

James Davidson Sr. is general foreman for Echo-Phoenix Electrical Corp. of San Francisco.

There's one thing, though, that Miss Davis can't do. Scotsmen still won't let her wear kilts.

Corte Madera Sanitary Manager Gets Pay Hike

William A. Adam, secretary-manager of the Corte Madera Sanitary District, Tuesday night was given a $900 a year salary raise, one-fourth the $3,600 hike he asked July 17.

Directors voted 5-0 to raise his pay to $9,600 a year, effective Oct. 1, after a report by Harold Callahan, San Rafael auditor, recommending that his pay be set at between $875 and $900 a month.

Adam's previous pay of $8,700 a year came to $725 a month; the new rate will be $800.

The directors awarded a contract for a force main connection to the Paradise Pumping Station to Linscott Co. of San Rafael at $33,960, a bid of about $20,000 less than the figure submitted when bids were opened on Aug. 7.

The board reviewed and amended a draft of a proposed ordinance to supplant eight old ordinances governing the district's activities and returned it to its legal advisors for final rewriting.

The board will hold an adjourned meeting at 7:30 p.m. Sept. 18 to consider sewerage plans of the Park View Terrace and Mariners Highlands subdivisions.

Last Ferryboat On Bay Ending

By BILL BOYARSKY

SACRAMENTO (AP)—The last of the San Francisco Bay Area ferryboats will be exiled to Florida Sept. 15, replaced by a toll bridge.

That's the day a 6,215-foot-long span over the Carquinez Strait—25 miles northeast of San Francisco—opens, providing cheaper and speedier transportation between the cities of Benicia and Martinez.

It takes the small ferryboat Carquinez 15 minutes to make the pleasant crossing. The motorist has to pay at least 65 cents.

Bridge tolls will be 25 cents and drivers will be able to speed across a wide, four-lane span with a 10-foot median barrier.

The Carquinez is a surprisingly young victim of technological advance, built for the state only six years ago to replace an ancient vessel. The State of Florida purchased her for less than $90,000.

She's the last boat on the oldest major ferry line in California, a 115-year-old route established by Gen. Mariano Guadalupe Vallejo to link his vast ranching domain.

The Benicia - Martinez ferry was part of the Pony Express route. Before that, it carried legislators when Benicia was California's capital in 1853-54.

And one day in 1889, fight fans crowded aboard and sailed to Benicia, where they saw Gentleman Jim Corbett knock out Joe Choynski in 27 rounds.

The boat is expected to be packed on its final journey with nostalgic Bay Area residents who remember when the bay and nearby waters were criss-crossed with ferry lines.

The new bridge cost about 14.2 million dollars. It is 138 feet above the water.

It's construction was finished just 25 months after the first contract was awarded, mostly because of engineering innovations.

The pier footings, made of concrete, were built on shore, floated into place, anchored and sunk into position. The piers themselves were built with a new method in which the form were packed up at a rate of about 10 inches an hour until the height of 100 to 130 feet was reached.

Class In English Planned For Adults

A class in English fundamentals and arithmetic will be given at Manzanita School in Marin City for the fall quarter of the Tamalpais Adult Evening School, Principal Harry G. Russell announced today.

Instructor Dirk West said the course includes a review of the principles of elementary English and practical problem-solving in arithmetic. There is no fee. The class is set for Mondays, 7:30 to 9:30 p.m.

Registration for the Marin City class can be made at Manzanita School or at Drake or Tamalpais high schools.

PEN PAL FAR AWAY — Dominic Nwoke Nzerem, 25, shows a TOS robe from his native Nigeria to Mrs. George S. Crotts Jr. and Mary Crotts, 9. Nzerem has come to live in the Crotts' San Rafael home while he studies at College of Marin. He hopes to become a surgeon. (Independent-Journal photo)

Native Of Nigeria Arrives In Marin To Live With Pen Pal, And Study

By RICHARD LYTTLE

A man who brushes his teeth with a stick, wears a colorful hgbada and okpu, and has a driving ambition to become a surgeon in his native Nigeria has come to San Rafael to live in the home of his pen pal.

Dominic Nwoke Nzerem, 25, arrived by jet at San Francisco Airport Friday and started his studies at College of Marin yesterday. A correspondence that began a year ago between Dominic and George S. Crotts Jr. of 29 Harcourt Street made it all possible.

As Mrs. Crotts explained, her husband had been helping the older Crotts children, Mary, 9, and Betsy, 8, write their pen pal letters. He decided he wanted a pen pal of his own. (The youngest child, Gregory, 2, does not yet have a pen pal.)

Through the people-to-people program in New York, Crotts got Nzerem's name.

The two men had a common ground for correspondence. Crotts is in charge of central office equipment for Pacific Telephone and Telegraph Co. at Sausalito. Nzerem, for five years after his graduation from Roman Catholic secondary school in his native town of Orlu, has been working for Post and Telegraph.

The men exchanged letters about once a week. In one letter Nzerem told how difficult it was to get a higher education in Nigeria and how much he wanted to become a doctor. Crotts told of the free education in the United States and recommended it highly.

From this exchange the idea grew for Nzerem's adventure. Friends in the church and members of his tribe helped raise the money for his flight. It was a difficult job, but he had help from many.

"If I have hope, there must be a way," Nzerem explained in soft, precise English.

Mrs. Crotts laughed. "All it took was determination," she said, "and Dominic is determined."

Doctors are badly needed in Nigeria, Nzerem said. He figures it will take him at least eight years to become a surgeon. He will study for two years at College of Marin, then two years at University of San Francisco. After that he hopes to win a scholarship to carry him on into medical school.

He plans to wear his brightly patterned hgbada or robe and okpu or hat to college, at least during the fall months. But he has already found the Marin County climate cold. The cotton robe may give way to his European suit sooner than he plans.

Officials at Ross General Hospital have offered Nzerem a spare room where he will stay during the week. It will be within walking distance of the college. On weekends, he will stay with the Crotts family.

Staying at the hospital will also permit him some on-the-spot observation of medical practice.

Nzerem, oldest of 11 children, is the son of a farmer. Farming methods in Nigeria are still very primitive. Yams, casabas and cocoyams (something like potatoes) are all cultivated by hand. There are no tractors, no oxen.

Nzerem said there are many Mohammedans in the northern part of Nigeria, but Christians predominate in the rest of the recently independent country, made up of former British colony and protectorate. He is a Catholic and attended Catholic primary and secondary schools.

He said there are actually two types of Christians. Those with just one wife are "real Christians," while those with two or more wives are considered "foreign Christians." Nzerem said he knows of some men with as many as 25 wives.

Many wives are a sign of power and wealth, he explained. Owning a cow also gives a man the respect due wealth and power, he said.

So far, Nzerem, likes the United States, California and Marin very much.

"Americans, as far as I have seen, they are friendly people. They like to ask many questions." California, he said, has plenty of food, and people eat too much.

Nzerem brought gifts for Mr. and Mrs. Crotts and their three children. They include skin purses and a TOS robe and TOS cap for Crotts himself. (The name TOS comes from T. O. S. Benson, Nigerian minister of information, who wears this type of white robe.)

He also brought a large supply of tooth picks. These are sticks about the size of a pencil. He chews one end until its fibers become shredded. Then he scrapes it vigorously over his large, straight and very white teeth.

"It is very healthy," he said. "I recommend it."

Fuchsia Society Meets Tomorrow

Mr. and Mrs. C. F. Clark of San Rafael will show slides taken on a 1,000-mile boat trip along the Indian Passage from Vancouver, B.C., to Skagway, Alaska.

Recent Marin Small Business Operation Run Into Big Figures

Small business operations can run into big figures.

Jim Hamm of Belvedere, motel owner, real estate broker and president of the recently organized Stanford Capital Corp., a small business investment corporation, has started off this firm's projects in a substantial way.

Using 2.5 million dollars in funds of Stanford Capital Corp. and from California Growth Capital, Inc., another small business investment corporation, he has negotiated the purchase of Leckey-Richards Co., Inc., largest pen distributing company in the United States with over 700 outlets in the Bay Area alone.

TIBURON'S Polynesian gift shop, Tahitian Tikis, claims a unique distinction. According to owner Mimi Berticevich, the shop is the only one in the U.S. where Tahitian coffee can be obtained.

The coffee beans which must be ground by the buyer produce a strong, distinctive flavor, she says. She notes that three-quarters of the coffee grown in Tahiti remains there and the remainder, except for her importation, goes to France.

EDMUND WILLIAMS of San Rafael was given a round of applause and feted at a dinner Saturday night at Sabella's for his work as instructor for the Life Underwriters training course at College of Marin which he has conducted for two years.

Associated with Equitable Life, Williams was honored by 10 representatives of other insurance companies who were graduated from the course this and their wives—all Marin residents. Participating were Ed Gardner and Alan Wing of Metropolitan Life; Fred Sanders, Bankers Life of Nebraska; Clinton Bell, Central Life; Kelly Simpson, Farmers New World; Tom Elliott, Occidental Life; Clinton De Lap, Bankers Life of Iowa, and Charles Robinson, Robert Walker and Chris Madera—all of State Farm.

He was formerly associated with Marin Golf and Country Club Estates and was previously administrative assistant to the state superintendent of education for 10 years.

HERTZ RENT A CAR SERVICE, which has two agencies in Marin—one at Third and Irwin streets, San Rafael, and another more recently opened at 460 Miller Avenue, Mill Valley—has started another rental office in downtown San Francisco at 125 Stevenson Street, opposite the Sheraton-Palace Hotel. Hertz has opened eight new facilities on Northern California during the past seven months.

BOATING BOOM PREDICTED—And it should lead to more participation in this sport in Marin.

Outdoor recreation is dependent upon the availability of leisure time. Today the average wage earner works 39 hours per week and receives an annual two weeks vacation. By 1976 it is anticipated that our work week will be shortened to 32 hours; three weeks vacation may be more common. The American consumer income is also expected to increase.

More time, more money—ergo more boating which is running a close second to fishing in overall popularity.

DE GAULLE MOBBED IN COLOGNE

French President Charles de Gaulle (left, center) shakes hands as he arrives at city hall in Cologne, West Germany. Pink Houses Mixup Told

The affair of the two pink houses standing on concrete blocks at the entrance to Mill Valley became more complicated last night before the city council with the appearance of a new owner.

David Paul of Mill Valley said he, and not James Murphy who had the houses moved to East Blithedale Avenue and Camino Alto, is owner.

Paul said further he will attempt to remove the buildings shortly. He said he hopes to do this so "there will be no legal complications which Murphy has got tangled in." He added that several people have lost money on the scheme so far.

Murphy, according to City Manager A. E. Almcrants, had received planning commission plan approval for the two houses to be remodeled into professional offices. The building inspector, Preston L. Canfield, required that Murphy put up $1,000 bond to be used to remove the buildings in case something went wrong in the venture.

Mayor Joseph E. Sheeks pressed City Atty. Leland H. Jordan to see what the city could do and Jordan replied he will advise the planning commission Tuesday as to action available to it.

The council also directed Almcrants to meet with City Engineer Stanley M. Bala and Jordan to determine whether amendments are needed to the excavation ordinance. This action came after a report from Harding and Associates, soil engineers, who stated the excavation of Dr. Alfred J. Rider in Blithedale Canyon above Cushing Drive is under control. The engineers said slopes have been seeded and irrigated, culvert pipes and brush check dams will start this week to be completed within two weeks.

Councilmen authorized Bala to start work on acquisition of right of way of a portion of Biggio property and authorized Jordan to commence condemnation proceedings. The property is to be used for the proposed Sycamore Avenue extension.

Almcrants was asked to see if a solution might be worked out with Canfield and Fire Chief Leslie Armager whereby the proposed remodeling of Brown's Hall at 390 Miller Avenue might be done in stages. Improvements proposed are against the building code but must be done in stages to fit the club's finances.

The Mill Valley City Council Also:

1. Authorized City Planning Consultant Robert Cornish to proceed with work on Project Alto as funds become available.
2. Approved informally request that Almcrants be allowed to seek an assistant building inspector at a wage between $615-$643 per month.
3. Authorized expenditure of up to $750 for a two week study of city administrative practices by William R. Zion of Lafayette.
4. Set Saturday, Sept. 15 at 10 a.m. for a workshop session to discuss the capital outlay program.
5. Accepted a plaque from the California State Automobile Assn. for city's 11th year without a pedestrian death.
6. Confirmed charges to be collected on the tax roll for out of city sewer services as follows: P. R. Pedersen, $102; Vince Leone, $144; Walter Swensen, $462; Robert Ryan, $144 and Paul Hurd, $144.
7. Adopted resolution stating intention to annex about six acres of land owned by William E. Doud and A. J. Oehler above Summit Avenue at Fern Canyon Road.
8. Appointed Councilman Michael Wornum to mayors of Marin city-county road committee.
9. Introduced ordinance to adopt the municipal code and set Oct. 3 as hearing date.
10. Asked for bids for printing of 1,000 copies of master plan and voted not to authorize additional funds to permit a zoning study of apartments by Cornish.
11. Paid warrants amounting to $24,410.
12. Adjourned to Sept. 19 in memory of T. J. De Lasaux, former city councilman.

Crusade Unit On Education Is Appointed

Homer Sisk, superintendent of the Fairfax Elementary School District, and G. R. McConnell, superintendent of the Mill Valley School District, will head the Marin County education division of the United Bay Area Crusade.

In announcing the appointments, Dr. Harold Spears, superintendent of schools in San Francisco, heading the division for the fifth consecutive year, said the educational division has a goal this year of $463,257.

Rt. Rev. Msgr. Clement J. McKenna, director of St. Vincent's School for Boys, San Rafael, will head the Marin section of the division in parochial schools. Others working for the division drive will be Sam Archibald, retired staff member of the San Francisco Theological Seminary, and Dr. Sumner Walters, superintendent of San Rafael Military Academy.

Urgent Appeal Issued For Type 'O' Blood

An urgent appeal was issued today by the Marin Blood Center for "O" negative blood—needed for three cases of open heart surgery coming up next week—two children and one adult.

Donors may give at the center at 506 Fourth Street, San Rafael, tomorrow, Monday and Wednesday from 10 a.m. to 6 p.m., according to Mrs. Claudia Bessing, supervisor.

Larkspur Wants Action On Dog Law

Larkspur councilmen last night asked City Atty. Samuel W. Gardiner to find out what happened to a proposed uniform, county-wide dog ordinance that would clear the confusion over responsibility among cities, the county and the humane society.

Gardiner said he and Larkspur City Manager Ronald E. Piper did a vast amount of work on the proposed ordinance about six months ago. The attorney pulled a thick bundle of legal papers from his briefcase and said it was a copy of the proposed ordinance.

The dog discussion came up when Councilman Robert J. Smith said there was an injured dog on his lawn last Saturday. Something had happened to a hind leg, he said.

Smith explained that a neighbor called the Marin County Humane Society asking that someone come and take the dog away. Someone at the humane society told the neighbor to contact the owner.

Smith said he did not think this was right and wanted to know who was responsible in such cases.

"It's not a clear situation," Gardiner said. The cities all have different dog ordinances, and until there is one uniform ordinance the responsibility will continue to be up in the air, he said.

He said the humane society cannot really be blamed for sometimes being in doubt about its duties. The county now contracts with the society to run the animal pound. The cities contract with the county. This structure alone causes confusion, he said.

Gardiner's proposed ordinance would call for a leash law for the entire county. It would standardize all regulations regarding the control of dogs and the curbing of nuisance animals.

The last he heard of his ordinance was about six months ago when the county counsel took it under submission for study, he said.

Councilmen asked the attorney to follow the matter up at once. They want action.

The Larkspur City Council Also:

1. Adopted a resolution raising Piper's salary from $900 a month to $950 a month.
2. Set public hearing on the proposed city zoning ordinance for 8 p.m., Sept. 19.
3. Referred proposed abandonment of several city street rights of way (in hillside areas where there are no streets) to the city planning commission and the city parks and recreation commission for study.
4. Put off until Sept. 19 consideration of a request of Supt. Vaughn D. Seidel of the Larkspur School District for the city to build sidewalks along Magnolia Avenue. In a letter to the council he said this would save the school district $4,000 a year in transportation of pupils to the Henry C. Hall School. Piper estimated that the city would have to build 2,000 to 3,000 feet of walk if it went along with the request.
5. Put off until Sept. 19 the request of the Larkspur-Corte Madera joint committee on recreation for an increase in the city contribution for fiscal 1963 from the budgeted $4,250 to $5,750, matching the contribution of Corte Madera. Mayor James J. Lienkaemper, a member of the committee, said he needed more information before he could make a full report to fellow councilmen.

Bard Picnic Set In Mill Valley

Scenes from Shakespeare comedies and tragedies, accompanied by music, dancing and a picnic lunch, will be presented by the Homestead Players Sept. 23 and 30 at Stolte Grove in Mill Valley.

The picnic begins at noon. At 2 p.m. scenes will be given from "Hamlet," "Taming of the Shrew," "Richard III," "MacBeth" and "Twelfth Night," the latter having a cast of teen-agers. A group of young children will appear in "Midsummer Night's Dream."

Stolte Grove is located at the end of La Verne and Montford avenues.

Tickets may be obtained through Mrs. Kenyon Spalding, 760 Ridgewood Avenue, Mill Valley.

Woman Reported Missing Found

Mrs. Patricia Brumley, 25, of San Jose, reported missing to Sausalito police Sunday while on a visit to her grandmother, Mrs. A. H. Anderson of 92 Princess Street, was located yesterday afternoon.

According to police Sgt. David Cooper, Mrs. Brumley was safe and sound and explained "I went boating."

Mill Valley Grants Mortuary Permit

The Mill Valley City Council last night approved a use permit for a mortuary on Miller Avenue extension across from Tamalpais High School.

The vote was 4-0, with Councilman Michael Wornum absent.

The action reversed an unexplained planning commission denial of the permit last week.

The permit is for Thomas A. Meisner, funeral director with Keaton's Mortuary in San Rafael.

After a long discussion, councilmen agreed that the use is permitted on the land, owned by Herbert Shapiro and zoned restricted commercial. This zoning permits professional administrative use.

Councilman George D. Monardo raised the question of conflict of interests, referring to County Coroner Frank J. Keaton.

He said "it was first said that the request was from Keaton to build the mortuary. I told Meisner I would not vote for it (the mortuary) if Keaton were involved because I think there is a conflict of interests. He (Keaton) is coroner and he assigns cases to himself to handle. Keaton does not have an interest (in the Mill Valley mortuary). Meisner says he owns it and intends to develop it himself."

Meisner's attorney, Charles L. Convis, said the mortuary will be attractive and well landscaped.

Prior to voting, Mayor Joseph E. Sheeks said "I find it difficult to call the use either administrative or professional." He also questioned whether the mortuary would "go together" with a theater, proposed to be built on the adjacent Bothin property. He said the council has gone on record that whatever goes into the marshlands should be "complimentary and harmonious to the yacht harbor."

EVERYTHING'S GEORGE IN MILL VALLEY

Councilman Michael Wornun was absent from last night's council meeting in Mill Valley—for good reason. His wife, Barbara, gave birth to a son, George, yesterday morning.

Mayor Joseph E. Sheeks, who passed out cigars for the new father, said he asked Wornum if he named his son for his two associates on the council (Councilman George Blackwell and George D. Monardo).

"He replied," said Sheeks, "'I named him George in spite of this fact'."

Ben Bella Flies To Stop New Outbreak Of Fighting

ALGIERS (AP) — Deputy Premier Ahmed Ben Bella and the commander of the rebel guerrillas holding Algiers flew to Orleansville today to stop a new outbreak of fighting between their forces.

Ben Bella and Col. Si Hassan, commander of guerrilla Wilaya No. 4, had toured the front lines, including Orleansville, to end shooting at three points in which 100 men were reported killed or wounded Wednesday.

The new clash forced postponement of a meeting between military leaders of both sides to draw up a formal cease-fire agreement.

Ben Bella's regular army troops reportedly had tried to push through guerrilla roadblocks on three highways to Algiers, violating a cease-fire provision that they would stay out of the guerrilla territory.

The heaviest fighting was reported at Aumale, 55 miles southeast of Algiers. About 40 soldiers were reported killed there.

Other clashes were reported near Orleansville and Berrouahia. Under the cease-fire terms all troops had been ordered to hold their positions and indications were that the rebel guerrillas acted defensively after the regulars advanced on their roadblocks.

Col. Houari Boumedienne, the regular army commander, was described as displeased with the cease-fire arranged Tuesday night because it denied his troops a victorious entry into the capital.

Ben Bella's political bureau concluded the cease-fire with commanders of the rebel guerrilla Wilayas zones 3 and 4. Col. Si Hassan, Wilaya 4 commander, accompanied Ben Bella on a helicopter trip to halt yesterday's outbursts.

The vote was 4-0, with Councilman Michael Wornum absent.

The action reversed an unexplained planning commission denial of the permit last week.

The permit is for Thomas A. Meisner, funeral director with Keaton's Mortuary in San Rafael.

After a long discussion, councilmen agreed that the use is permitted on the land, owned by Herbert Shapiro and zoned restricted commercial. This zoning permits professional administrative use.

Councilman George D. Monardo raised the question of conflict of interests, referring to County Coroner Frank J. Keaton.

He said "it was first said that the request was from Keaton to build the mortuary. I told Meisner I would not vote for it (the mortuary) if Keaton were involved because I think there is a conflict of interests. He (Keaton) is coroner and he assigns cases to himself to handle. Keaton does not have an interest (in the Mill Valley mortuary). Meisner says he owns it and intends to develop it himself."

Meisner's attorney, Charles L. Convis, said the mortuary will be attractive and well landscaped.

Prior to voting, Mayor Joseph E. Sheeks said "I find it difficult to call the use either administrative or professional." He also questioned whether the mortuary would "go together" with a theater, proposed to be built on the adjacent Bothin property. He said the council has gone on record that whatever goes into the marshlands should be "complimentary and harmonious to the yacht harbor."

EVERYTHING'S GEORGE IN MILL VALLEY

Councilman Michael Wornun was absent from last night's council meeting in Mill Valley—for good reason. His wife, Barbara, gave birth to a son, George, yesterday morning.

Mayor Joseph E. Sheeks, who passed out cigars for the new father, said he asked Wornum if he named his son for his two associates on the council (Councilman George Blackwell and George D. Monardo).

"He replied," said Sheeks, "'I named him George in spite of this fact'."

Ben Bella Flies To Stop New Outbreak Of Fighting

ALGIERS (AP) — Deputy Premier Ahmed Ben Bella and the commander of the rebel guerrillas holding Algiers flew to Orleansville today to stop a new outbreak of fighting between their forces.

Ben Bella and Col. Si Hassan, commander of guerrilla Wilaya No. 4, had toured the front lines, including Orleansville, to end shooting at three points in which 100 men were reported killed or wounded Wednesday.

The new clash forced postponement of a meeting between military leaders of both sides to draw up a formal cease-fire agreement.

Ben Bella's regular army troops reportedly had tried to push through guerrilla roadblocks on three highways to Algiers, violating a cease-fire provision that they would stay out of the guerrilla territory.

The heaviest fighting was reported at Aumale, 55 miles southeast of Algiers. About 40 soldiers were reported killed there.

Other clashes were reported near Orleansville and Berrouahia. Under the cease-fire terms all troops had been ordered to hold their positions and indications were that the rebel guerrillas acted defensively after the regulars advanced on their roadblocks.

Col. Houari Boumedienne, the regular army commander, was described as displeased with the cease-fire arranged Tuesday night because it denied his troops a victorious entry into the capital.

Ben Bella's political bureau concluded the cease-fire with commanders of the rebel guerrilla Wilayas zones 3 and 4. Col. Si Hassan, Wilaya 4 commander, accompanied Ben Bella on a helicopter trip to halt yesterday's outbursts.

COURAGE ON CRUTCHES—Larry Montoya, an 11-year-old Berkeley boy, has been named "K.O. Polio Boy" for the polio eradication campaign in six Bay Area counties, in which Sabin oral vaccine will be given to all from babies to the eldest senior citizens on Sept. 23, Nov. 4, and Dec. 9. Larry's leg braces never let him forget polio, which crippled him before he was 6 months old.

Brave Youth Saves Pilot After Crash

By DE VAN SHUMWAY

CHINA LAKE (UPI)—For 14-year-old Jimmy Aaron it was almost a pleasure cruise — a chance to take a Civil Air Patrol "orientation" flight.

The day was March 18, 1962, and it was beautiful spring weather when he and pilot Bud St. Louis took off from the Inyokern Airport in the desert area of Southern California.

The flight was to last about 15 minutes and he would get a chance to fly over Owens Peak, near the valley that furnishes populous Los Angeles with part of its water supply.

The plane had been in the air for about 10 minutes when it suddenly hit a downdraft of air, slamming the light craft toward the ground as if it was a falling stone.

"The next thing I knew, the pilot was telling me we were going to crash," said Jimmy. "And then the ground came up fast and we were down."

"Two hours later I woke up. I was by the left wing of the plane."

Both seat belts had been strapped when the plane went down but doctors told Jimmy that he probably unstrapped himself while semiconscious and stumbled out of the craft.

The pilot was still in the plane but he was unconscious.

"I tried to stand up," said Jimmy. "I couldn't. I crawled to the side of the wing. I tried to call to the pilot but he wasn't making any sense.

"I stayed there for about a half hour, I guess. I could hear planes flying around. I tried to get them by radio. It was out.

"So I started crawling up the mountain."

The plane had bellied in to the side of a mountain and the area was covered with huge rocks and some brush. Not much grows in the desert area where Jimmy and St. Louis crashed.

"I knew there was a road about 10 miles away and I started crawling toward it," said Jimmy. "It was not easy to crawl and it hurt."

Jimmy had suffered major injuries in the crash. His back was broken in four places, his neck was cracked, his head cut and his leg was badly wrenched.

"By this time it was real dark," he continued. "But I could see the search party's lights after I'd crawled about two miles and I began to yell. They found me."

After the party found Jimmy, they sped to the rescue of St. Louis, who still was in the plane and losing blood fast.

Said one doctor: "If Jimmy hadn't crawled out of the scene and helped the rescue party reach the pilot in time, St. Louis would have been dead when we reached the scene."

But St. Louis' life was saved and the only marks Jimmy bears now is a deep scar between his eyes. He wears it proudly.

'DRY-RUN CLINIC'

K.O. Polio Workers Will Take Vaccine

Five hundred volunteers for clinic work connected with the approaching K.O. Polio campaign will practice what they are to preach by accepting vaccine immunization at a "dry-run clinic" to be conducted at 8 p.m. Sept. 17 in the Marin Catholic High School auditorium in Kentfield.

Dr. Eugene Shatkin, chairman of the Marin K.O. Polio Committee, will be chairman for the evening.

Shatkin will also conduct an earlier meeting of physician clinic directors and clinic executive officers at 8 p.m. Sept. 13 in the Ross Hospital Classroom. In most instances the executive officers will be the principals of schools where clinics will be open on the three K.O. Polio Sundays, Sept. 23, Nov. 4 and Dec. 9 for administration of oral vaccine drops to all comers.

This meeting will constitute a briefing session for the first of the three Sundays, as well as giving opportunity for detailed arrangements for the meeting of clinic volunteers.

Decision to hold the two meetings was made yesterday at a meeting of the Marin Medican Society K.O. Polio Committee at Marin General Hospital.

Dr. Stephen A. Duff, 1104 Irwin Street, San Rafael, has returned from the annual educational seminar of Palmer College of Chiropractic in Davenport, Iowa.

Sabin Vaccine Has Arrived

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI)—Ten million doses of Sabin oral vaccine in frozen vials arrived in San Francisco by jet yesterday for use in a mass polio immunization program in the Bay Area.

The vaccine was distributed to nine supply centers throughout the Bay Area for storage until the start of the immunization Sept. 23. It will be administered in three doses consisting of a drop of vaccine on a cube of sugar.

The Bay Area Medical Assn. committee, an ad hoc committee formed by Bay Area medical societies to handle the polio immunization, is urging all Bay Area residents to take the vaccine.

In DeLasaux Honor

Due to a typographical error it was not made clear in yesterday's Independent-Journal that Marin County supervisors adjourned Tuesday in respect to the memory of T. J. DeLasaux of Mill Valley, Marin representative on the board of the Bay Area Rapid Transit District.

Larkspur Council Plays Ball (Of Sorts) With Road Report

Because of their meeting, Larkspur city council missed the ball game last night, but they provided a show of their own that saw three motions "chased" for lack of second and brought in a surprise pitch from a coach.

When City Engineer Beverly Whitlow first presented his recommendation of minimum standards for hillside streets, it looked like it was going to be a slow inning.

He broke the streets into three classes — minor streets, serving 16 lots or less, should have a minimum width of 18 feet; normal streets, serving more than 16 lots and providing connection with larger streets, should be at least 20 feet wide, and secondary streets serving as connectors to major through streets should be at least 24 feet wide.

Whitlow explained that many streets could not even meet these bare minimums because of physical conditions.

Councilmen took no issue with the report; the problem was what to do with it.

City Canager Ronald Piper said he did not think the council should adopt it formally. He feared that such action would bind the city too much.

Councilman Neil R. Brixon moved that the report be accepted, filed and used for reference. Councilman Lesly A. Develer immediately asked that Brixon's motion be pulled. He moved the council accept the report with thanks, and refer it to the traffic circulation committee.

Neither Brixon's nor Develer's motion received a second.

It was here that City Atty. Samuel W. Gardiner entered the discussion with the vigorous demand that the council do something more than just file the report.

After still more discussion, Councilman Robert J. Smith took the mound and moved that the city accept the report and use it as the policy of the city of Larkspur.

This motion, too, got exactly nowhere.

Then Gardiner, not even an official member of the team, tossed in the suggestion that the city accept the report and adopt it as the present point of view of the city engineer.

"Second the motion," Brixon said triumphantly.

Council backed up momentarily to make it official with Smith saying, "I move we do like Sam says." Brixon again offered the second and the motion carried.

Sausalito To Hold Auction Tomorrow

The City of Sausalito will hold an auction at 10 a.m. tomorrow to sell old pieces of city equipment and furniture as well as items which have been found by police.

It will be at the former Ernie's Waterfront restaurant, 815 Bridgeway, with City Manager Charles A. Brown acting as auctioneer. Among the articles to be auctioned are household items, bicycles, car accessories and office furniture.

Mill Valley Lets Golf, Street Painting Jobs

Two contracts were awarded last night by the Mill Valley City Council—one for construction of municipal golf clubhouse restrooms and one for street painting.

Don Stevens of Mill Valley was low bidder on the clubhouse job at $5,272. Other bidders were Little Gem Construction, Sausalito, $5,729 and Roberts Building Service, Mill Valley, $6,728. Approved by the parks and recreation commission, $3,500 has been budgeted from sales tax funds to add to $2,000 held over from the 1961-62 budget.

A. and M. Striping of Petaluma was low bidder on street painting at $5,727, followed by Empire Co. Striping Service, Oakland, $6,462, and Vaughan and Ward Painting Contractors, Cupertino, $14,234.

Welfare Problems To Be Discussed

Mrs. Jane McKaskle, area director for the State Department of Social Welfare, will discuss "What Is Being Done?" about California welfare problems at a general meeting of the Mill Valley Democratic Club at 8 p.m. next Tuesday in the Gallery, 17 Madrona Avenue, Mill Valley.

John McRee, vice president, said the club will meet every second Tuesday of each month henceforth.

2 Burglary Suspects To Answer Charges

Two men suspected of the burglary of San Rafael's Coleman School Sunday will answer charges tomorrow at 1:30 p.m. in Marin Municipal Court.

Winifred B. Shippy, 47, of Washington and James B. O'Conner, 34, of Daly City are charged with taking a television set, three phonographs and three typewriters from the school. Judge Joseph G. Wilson continued the case yesterday so that the men might obtain a lawyer.

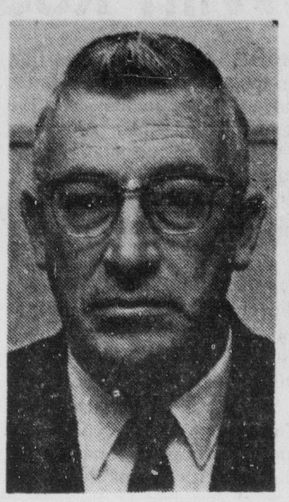
Six Run For Three Offices

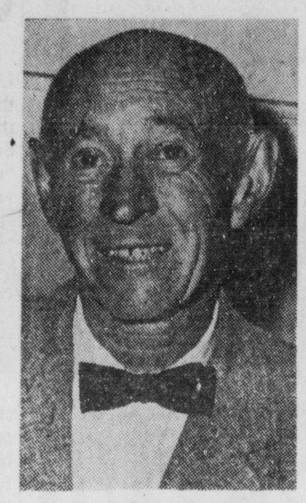
ALEXIS TELLIS

DEAN M. JENNINGS



CYRIL G. HANSEN

JAMES F. DOYLE



STANLEY COWEN

FREDERIC PALMER III

In its 12 years of existence there has been no one contesting the officer of director in Sausalito-Marin City Sanitary District elections—but in next Tuesday's election there will be six men running for three offices.

Two boat dwellers, concerned about the future of the waterfront inhabitants, have tossed in their hats. They are Alexis Tellis and Dean M. Jennings.

The four other candidates—all land dwellers—are Cyril G. Hansen, James F. Doyle, Stanley Cowen, and Frederic Palmer III.

Leaving the board are J. Herbert Madden, who was on the board at the district's founding in 1950, Bernard J. Gratama and Loren L. Jay, both of whom have served eight years.

It is no puzzle to Jay, present chairman, why the field is so full. He has seen the different forces at play in recent years trying to improve sanitary hookups on arks and barges.

Actions taken sometimes seem to end up in ring around the rosies. There are involved, Jay said, the regional water polution control board, the county health department, the county board of supervisors, the City of Sausalito, and the sanitary district itself.

At present there is an ordinance before the board of supervisors to regulate hookups to sewers. The ordinance was opposed by waterfront dwellers on the claim they themselves can solve the sewage discharge problem. Action on the ordinance was delayed in June when Tellis, chairman of the Marin Boat Dwellers Assn., presented a map of projected sewer connections for moored barges and arks on Richardson Bay shores north of Sausalito.

No pay is given directors. The treatment plant, located on the bay near Fort Baker, treats effluence from Sausalito, Marin City and Fort Baker. The district also has contracts to serve all of Tamalpais Valley and about one-half of Strawberry.

Brief biographies on the candidates are:

ALEXIS TELLIS. Tellis is a builder and contractor, associated with Walter Landor and Associates, industrial designers in San Francisco. He owns owns tidelands in the Waldo Point area, on the edge of Sausalito, which, he says, is one basis for his interest in the sanitary board job.

Tellis and his wife and two sons live on the ferry boat, City of Seattle, at Waldo Point. The Marin Boat Dwellers Assn., which he chairs, is devoted to cleaning up the bay and has taken active interest in bay area water pollution control board activities. Tellis is also a member of the Sausalito canal dredging finance committee.

"My special concern will be to develop a good method for getting waste matter from houseboats into the sewer lines; then Sausalito will be able to keep its houseboats," said Tellis. "Houseboats provide a good return to owners of underwater property which might otherwise be filled and covered with housing."

STANLEY COWAN. A retired real estate broker, Cowen is 72. He says he seeks the job because he believes "a business man who owns property and pays taxes in Sausalito should make it a point to be represented on the sanitary district."

Cowen is a graduate of University of California in the College of Commerce, serving in World Wars I and II, and was in import-export business in the Orient for a number of years.

JAMES DOYLE. Former Sausalito police chief and the man who opened the valve when the Sausalito treatment plant first opened, Doyle says he chose to run "because I'm interested in the plant; I'm retired and have nothing else to do. I also feel my experience of seven years as plant operator would be a big help to the board."

Doyle has retired three times—once as guard on the Golden Gate Bridge, once as chief of police, and last as plant operator. Doyle has lived in Sausalito since 1909.

CYRIL G. HANSEN. A licensed marine engineer, Hansen works with Bentley engineers in San Francisco where he has been office manager 15 years. He has worked on engineering projects in the United States and abroad. He is 51, was in World War II, is active with the Sausalito little theater.

"I feel I have some qualifications to make it possible for me to do a reasonably good job as Im in an allied field," Hansen said.

DEAN M. JENNINGS. Son of Tiburon writer Dean Jennings, young Jennings lives with his wife aboard The Eden Roc III, a houseboat near Gate Five.

He is display merchandising manager for E. and J. Gallo Wine Co., with offices in South San Francisco. He was with the Marine Corps at Guadalcanal.

"I have no platform," Jennings said. "If I did, it would show a selfish desire to protect the interests of myself and friends who have considerable faith and financial stake in houseboat living as a way of life in this area.

"It is regulated, controlled and accepted nationally and I feel it should have the same status hereabouts. With the departure of Mr. Madden I feel the waterfront area needs a spokesman on the board."

FREDERIC PALMER III. A graduate of University of Pennsylvania with a bachelor of science degree in chemical engineering, Palmer is 54. He works as refinery superintendent for Corn Products Refining Co., a division of Best Foods in San Francisco. He has served three years on the vestry of Christ Church, Sausalito.

Combining Plastic, Glass Demonstration

Mrs. William Chartock will present a demonstration of the art of combining glass and plastics at the Novato Art Guild at 2 p.m. Sunday at the studio of Nevin Kempthorne at 60 Grove Lane, Novato.

There will be a public display of paintings from noon until 2 p.m. at the studio.

REP. MILLER SAYS:

Congress Working On Final Business

By REP. CLEM MILLER

WASHINGTON — As this session of Congress goes into its final three or four weeks, I would like to report briefly on unfinished business directly affecting the Redwood Empire:

Point Reyes National Seashore—Now that Congress has authorized our new national park in west Marin, our next task is to secure the funds to start buying lands within the park boundaries.

If we don't get funds this fiscal year, the National Park Service could not begin an adequate land acquisition program for another 12 months.

Last Friday, as soon as the Senate accepted the House version of the bill, Sen. Clair Engle and I, as authors of the Point Reyes bill, made a recommendation to the President.

We recommended that he submit to Congress a supplemental budget request for this fiscal year for funds to begin immediate acquisition of the key seashore areas.

We look for appropriations committee hearings on such a request from the President within the next two weeks.

River and Harbor Projects Authorization—The House Public Works Committee will hold hearings beginning tomorrow on my bills to authorize construction of four proposed Army Engineer flood control and harbor improvement projects.

The four projects are Corte Madera Creek and Redwood Creek in Humboldt County flood control projects, the Noyo Harbor breakwaters project in Mendocino County, and the Dry Creek-Warm Springs project in Sonoma County.

Their total value is more than 65 million dollars.

River and Harbor Appropriations—One of the final actions of the 87th Congress will be appropriation of funds to begin, advance or complete Army Engineer and Bureau of Reclamation water development projects and surveys.

If we are successful, the final form of this year's Public Works Appropriations Bill will provide about three million dollars as the federal share for 20 of these cooperative local, state and federal projects located in each of the seven Rewood Empire counties.

California Salmon Program—Now that the budget bureau has approved my bill to authorize a comprehensive action program to rebuild Northern California's salmon and steelhead fishery, we are working to obtain committee hearings.

Because of the lateness in the session, enactment this year seems an impossibility. But if we secure hearings this legislation will be ready for one of the first orders of business next year.

Gov. Edmund G. Brown, off and running in his campaign for re-election, prospected for votes in the heart of the state's historic Mother Lode country today.

In a whirlwind tour of four of the richest farm counties in the state yesterday, the Democratic incumbent made these four points concerning agriculture in California:

He favors a national minimum wage which would cover farm workers, but does not believe a state minimum wage would be beneficial. He thus reversed his 1959 position when he urged a statewide minimum wage but lost the battle in the legislature because of farm opposition.

He supports negotiation between unions and farms to work out contracts covering wages and working conditions for farm workers, but believes state government should stay neutral.

He has named an eight-man subcommittee that will meet in Sacramento Sept. 14 to start work toward a uniform policy on foreign trade for California agriculture.

If re-elected, he will ask the 1963 legislation for $50,000 to hire experts in Europe to increase the foreign market for the state's agricultural exports.

SAN DIEGO (AP) — Thomas Coakley, Republican candidate for state attorney general, charged yesterday incumbent Stanley Mosk with association with groups soft on communism.

"I don't charge him with being a Communist or being a subversive," added Coakley.

The Superior Court judge said Mosk was named in the 1940s as a scheduled participant in programs sponsored by organizations listed as subversive by the House Committee on Un-American Activities.

SANTA ROSA (AP) — San Francisco Mayor George Christopher, Republican nominee for lieutenant governor, lashed out at the California Consumers Counsel last night at a campaign dinner.

"California's so-called consumers counsel has gone far beyond its scope and is now holding public conferences throughout the state to tell businessmen how to package their products," Christopher said.

Christopher contended that the state Bureau of Weights and Measures and the Justice Department can handle processors who violate the law.

LOS ANGELES (AP) —Richard M. Nixon visited the Los Angeles produce market at 5 a.m. today with the man who delivers fruit and vegetables to his Bel-Air home.

Vegetable man John Musante explained: "A few months ago, Mr. Nixon said he'd like to visit the market again—he used to go regularly—so I made a date with him to come down so the men in the market can see he doesn't have horns.

"That's the thing. A lot of these people figured he was somebody with horns."

The former vice president's press secretary said the visit was non-political.

Nixon said he wanted to meet old friends he knew from 1925 to 1934 when he visited the market almost daily at 5 a.m. to buy produce for his father's Whittier market.

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI) — Former President Harry Truman will be the featured speaker Tuesday at a dinner honoring Attorney Gen. Stanley Mosk on his 50th birthday.

The banquet will be held at the Fairmont Hotel, and more than 1,000 guests are expected.

Mosk and his wife will meet Truman at San Francisco International Airport when the former President arrives from Kansas City.

Photos Show Airline Pilots Asleep On Job

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The flight engineers union today turned over to the federal aviation agency a series of photographs purporting to show airline pilots sleeping or reading at the controls.

One showed an airline stewardess apparently flying an airliner.

The Flight Engineers International Assn. (FEIA) produced the photographs, whose existence had been rumored for some time, at the request of FAA administrator Najeeb E. Halaby.

Union president Ron Brown at first declined to turn over the pictures. He said they were in the hands of private individuals and not the union. FAA general counsel Nathaniel H. Goodrich then demanded that FEIA identify the flight engineers who took the pictures.

Brown delivered the photographs to FAA personally. He also issued a statement saying the individuals involved were reluctant to make them public "because of the seriously adverse effect on the airline industry, not to mention their fear or reprisals from several quarters."

The engineers and the pilots are at odds over who should be the third man in the cockpit when jet crews are reduced from four to three men.

FAA had no immediate comment on the photographs. A spokesman said 40 individual shots were handed over to the FAA.

Brown said the names of the airlines and the dates and locations of the flights involved were included in the package.

MEDICAL CENTER PLAN—This three-story medical center targeted for completion by the fall of 1963 is a project of five San Rafael doctors. It will be known as the "599 Sir Francis Drake Building" and is to be located at Sir Francis Drake Boulevard and Bon Air Road, near Marin General Hospital.

Medic Center Expected Next Year

A medical center long planned by five Marin County doctors is expected to become a realization next year.

The proposed facility, conveniently located near Marin General Hospital, is being developed by Drs. Arthur R. Ablin, Alexander H. Beaton, John W. Degenhardt, C. Ray Leininger and Eugene P. Shatkin, all maintaining offices in San Rafael. It will occupy the southeast corner of Sir Francis Drake Boulevard and Bon Air Road.

Planned is a three-story concrete and brick building of 22,500 square feet, with its entrance off Via Hidalgo. The site was purchased more than two years ago from the Schultz Building Co. and was the first property in that area zoned for professional use.

Offices and suites for 20 to 23 doctors are contemplated, furnished and equipped to the taste and needs of the occupants. A pediatric suite and optician's shop will occupy the enclosed area of the first floor. There is also a staff lounge planned or occupants' private use.

Architects and engineers for the building are Skidmore, Owings and Merrill of San Francisco.

Offstreet parking around three sides of the building, under cover at the first floor level and by reciprocal arrangement with the Church of Jesus Christ of Latter-Day Saints across the street will provide spaces for approximately 82 cars.

The structure of the building will be of reinforced concrete, sand blasted where it is left exposed. Solid outside walls will be of brick with upper floor walls formed flat on the ground, then titled up and lifted into place.

An automatic elevator and stairs at each end of the building lead to a two-story open gallery with offices on both sides. There will be a skylight over the center of the gallery and below it an opening in the third floor between the two stairways. Larger medical suites are planned for the second floor where the gallery is narrower; smaller suites will be on the third level.

Beginning of construction is contemplated for the end of this year with occupancy in the fall of 1963.

64 Marin City Families To Move From War Housing By March

Sixty-four Marin City families must move from World War II temporary housing by next March 1, so redevelopment site improvements can be completed, the Marin County Redevelopment Agency commission learned this week.

The families are located in 10 buildings in the area surrounding the bus depot.

"It presents a real serious problem because of our obligation to relocate families," said Bert Klahn, executive director.

"It is imperative that new construction now underway by redeveloper James E. Scheuer be timed in such a manner that the families to be moved can either purchase or rent prior to March 1 so the agency can avoid wholesale evictions," he added.

There are 557 families in the low rent project, three fewer than last month. Of these 300 are in the new buildings and 257 in temporary units.

The commission agreed to an arrangement with Tamalpais Union High School District to continue piling fill in a stockpile area for future use on the high school site.

It authorized commission chairman Al Lerch and Klahn to attend a National Assn. of Housing and Redevelopment officials conference in Chicago Oct. 17-19.

At a meeting of the housing authority commissioners, preceding the agency meeting, it was agreed to deposit $60,000 by June, 1963, as partial first payment of the authority's cash obligation toward its one-third contribution to financing of the redevelopment project. Total contribution, Klahn said, will be in excess of $300,000.

Jewish Life Topic Of Forum Tomorrow

In lieu of a sermon, Congregation Kol Shofar will present another in its series of forum discussions after 8:15 p.m. services tomorrow at the Marin Jewish Community Center, Mission and Forbes avenues, San Rafael.

"The equality of the sexes in Jewish life," is the topic for the discussion. Panelists include Robert Horn of Terra Linda, Phyllis Mitchell of Mill Valley, Annette Bode of San Rafael, and Selby Morse of Corte Madera.

U.S. Investors May Exchange Securities

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Treasury announced yesterday that investors holding 26.8 billion dollars of old securities maturing next February and May will be given a chance to exchange them for higher-yielding notes and bonds which would come due in five to 10 years.

At the same time, the Treasury placed a limit of 16.6 billion dollars on the amount of new securities it will issue as part of this latest "advance refunding."

The department said public investors may accept up to six billion dollars of five-year 3.25 per cent notes to mature Aug. 15, 1967. It said a limit of three billion dollars will be placed on public subscriptions for the second of the new issues—a 4 per cent bond maturing Aug. 15, 1972.

Of the 26.8 billion dollars of old securities eligible for this ahead-of-schedule exchange, 19.2 billion dollars are held by public investors. The Treasury said the balance of 7.6 billion dollars of the old issues are owned through government investment accounts.

Eligible for the exchange offer are two notes and one certificate which mature Feb. 16 and which were first offered between April 1958 and last February. The others are two notes and a certificate maturing May 15.

Expanded Hub Recreation Program Discussion Slated

Possibilities for an expanded recreation program in San Anselmo will be discussed at a joint city council-school district meeting at 8 p.m. Sept. 20 in the city hall.

Councilmen and school district trustees will consider a set of recommendations made recently by the Citizens Advisory Committee on Park and Recreation. They call for:

1. Establishment by the city and school district of an advisory recreation and park commission.

2. Agreement by contract between the two public agencies to a combined recreation program.

3. Immediate establishment of joint planning of city parks and school playgrounds.

As explained by City Administrator Douglas Flautt, use of the school district's facilities would provide a more diversified program beyond the present athletic activities. Programs for girls, adults, cultural activities, and after school and summer supervision of play on all school district playgrounds would be provided under joint sponsorship.

At present, Flautt said, $22,000 is budgeted by the city for recreation purposes. The school district, under present proposals, would not contribute money, only facilities.

The committee found:

"1. Adequate, diversified programs for children, older youths, adults and the elderly are not being provided.

"2. Existing recreation facilities are not sufficient to support a minimum, fully diversified program.

"3. Existing parks are either inadequate, improperly located or incapable of being immediately and fully exploited to maximum potential.

"4. The city's park and recration budget is both insufficient and sub-standard when compared with other cities of similar size."

The committee consisted of chairman Daniel H. Dibert, vice chairman Dwight A. Nelson, Rev. Donald Kelly, Robert Meagher, Mrs. Roger Hedin, Norbert Murray, and Mrs. William Anderson.

Non-Com Academy To Start Class At Hamilton AFB

The fall class of the Air Defense Command non-commissioned officers academy will start Sept. 12 at Hamilton Air Force Base, announced Lt. Col. Robert L. Stewart Jr., commander.

Included in the new class are 28 chief master sergeants, 25 senior master sergeants, 21 master sergeants and four technical sergeants.

These students will be given classes in communicative skills, supervision and management, world affairs, human relationships and leadership. They will also be given courses in history, organization, justice, customs, courtesies and protocol of the Air Force.

The academy moved from Otis Air Force Base to Hamilton in May 1960. More than 1,000 students have attended the academy since that time.

Kingston, Jamaica, is the largest English-speaking city in the Western Hemisphere south of Miami. It has a population of 380,000.

MEDICAL CENTER PLAN—This three-story medical center targeted for completion by the fall of 1963 is a project of five San Rafael doctors. It will be known as the "599 Sir Francis Drake Building" and is to be located at Sir Francis Drake Boulevard and Bon Air Road, near Marin General Hospital.

Medic Center Expected Next Year

A medical center long planned by five Marin County doctors is expected to become a realization next year.

The proposed facility, conveniently located near Marin General Hospital, is being developed by Drs. Arthur R. Ablin, Alexander H. Beaton, John W. Degenhardt, C. Ray Leininger and Eugene P. Shatkin, all maintaining offices in San Rafael. It will occupy the southeast corner of Sir Francis Drake Boulevard and Bon Air Road.

Planned is a three-story concrete and brick building of 22,500 square feet, with its entrance off Via Hidalgo. The site was purchased more than two years ago from the Schultz Building Co. and was the first property in that area zoned for professional use.

Offices and suites for 20 to 23 doctors are contemplated, furnished and equipped to the taste and needs of the occupants. A pediatric suite and optician's shop will occupy the enclosed area of the first floor. There is also a staff lounge planned or occupants' private use.

It's Billy O'Dell On Mound Tonight Against Drysdale

Final Giant-Dodger Duel Of '62 Season A Big One

LOS ANGELES (AP)—The National League pennant race is far from decided, and as far as Manager Alvin Dark of the San Francisco Giants is concerned, tonight's final battle with the leading Los Angeles Dodgers will be important—but hardly decisive.

"Win or lose tonight, neither of us will be out of the pennant race," said Dark, himself a former fine and highly competitive star with the Giants.

Dark isn't even counting out Cincinnati or Pittsburgh in the final drive to the wire, and neither is Manager Walter Alston of the Dodgers.

Tonight the Dodgers go with their brilliant 23-game winner, Don Drysdale, against the Giants' Billy O'Dell, who will be seeking his 17th win.

Another whopping crowd of around 54,000 is expected in Dodger Stadium, which will break the National League attendance record of 2,253,887 set by the Dodgers in 1960. Last night's 54,395 brought the total here to 2,233,509.

The see-saw Dodger-Giant struggle produced a 3-0 win for the Giants last night and once again Los Angeles lead over the Giants was shaved to 2½ games.

It also produced a scare for the Giants. Their fine starter, Juan Marichal, went to the pits with what turned out to be a severely bruised instep of his right foot.

Marichal, it developed, put too much pressure on the foot in a race to put out Willie Davis on a slow rolling ball to first base for the third out of the sixth inning.

Juan was carried off the field by teammates. Dark said Marichal may miss one turn in his rotation on the mound.

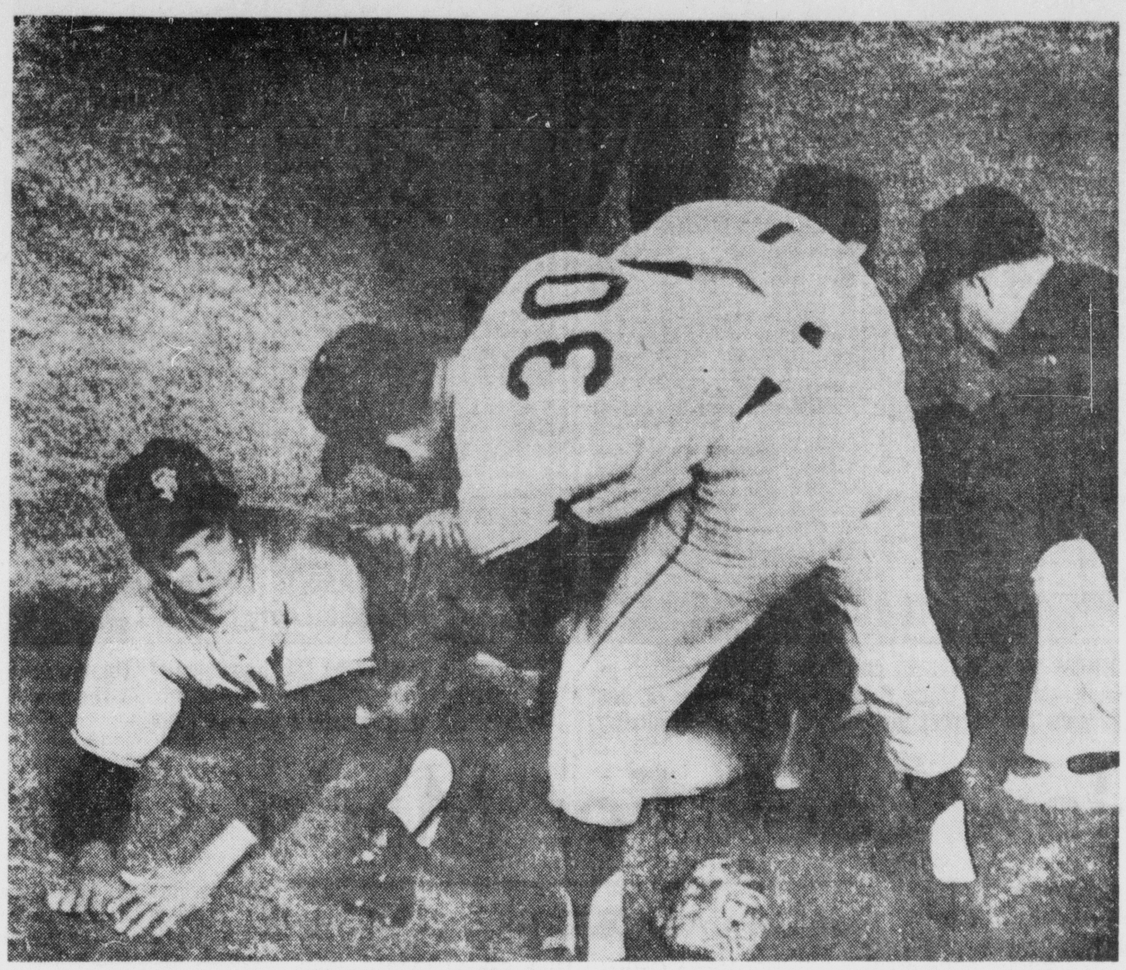
"It's too early to say but I think he will be all right," Dark said.

Marichal got credit for his 18th victory against 10 losses. He had given up only four hits. Bob Bolin took over for the final three innings and preserved Juan's shutout.

Willie Mays was the big gun for the Giants with two doubles, one a ground rule bouncer into the left field stands, a single and two runs batted in.

Credit also belong to Harvey Kuenn. He led off the third with a single and scored on Mays' double to center, and he led off the two-run fifth with another single. Jose Pagan's single, Mays' double and a single by Jim Davenport spelled ruin for starter Johnny Podres, now 12-11.

The Dodgers' base stealing Maury Wills collected a pair of singles but suffered an indignity. Marichal picked him off at first base with a strike to Orlando Cepeda, only the third time this season the little base thief has been trapped in such a circumstance. Wills has stolen 76 bases this season.



SCARE FOR GIANTS—Pitcher Juan Marichal (left) lies on ground as concerned Giant teammates gather around him after injuring his right instep in last night's game. Injury was not as serious as first feared, but Marichal may miss his turn on the mound Sunday. (AP Wirephoto)

Huskies, USC Tops On Coast

By JACK STEVENSON

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—Preseason prognosticators pick either Washington or Southern California to face the Big Ten champions in football's Rose Bowl at Pasadena on New Year's Day.

The two rank as nearly equal choices in the Big Six Conference which selects one of its members to represent the Pacific Coast.

Stanford rates as the dark horse UCLA's defending champs are weaker than last year while California sadly lacks experience.

Washington State, new to the Athletic Association of Western Universities, plays only two other conference members.

Oregon and Oregon State, both members of the defunct Pacific Coast Conference, remain strong independents.

If Oregon were in the Big Six this year, the Webfoots would rate with Washington and USC.

At Washington, the battle for the starting quarterback job seems between senior Pete Ohler and sophomore Bill Douglas.

LINE ANCHOR

Washington has center Ray Mansfield at 225 anchoring the line and a group of fleet backs headed by senior Charlie Mitchell.

Southern California may have more individual stars than Washington but almost half of the 17 lettermen are backs.

Southern California's passing game features quarterbacks Bill Nelson and Pete Beathard and end Hal Bedsole. The two throwers completed 79 last year and Bedsole grabbed 27 for 525 yards and six TDs.

Best for Oregon would be tackle Steve Barnett, an All-Coast selection the past two seasons, and swift halfback Mel Renfro, hampered by injuries last year but a sensation otherwise.

Stanford boasts a huge line but again lacks speed. Coach Jack Curtice hopes to compensate with an attack featuring quarterbacks who both run and pass — letterman Steve Thurlow, transfer Clark Weaver and sophomore Dick Ragsdale.

Mellakis Slated For 'Swing' Duty

REDWOOD CITY (UPI) — San Francisco 49er Coach Red Hickey said today his new lineman, John Mellakis, would be a swing tackle on both offense and defensive duty this year.

This was a big boost for Bruce Bosley, who is filling in at offensive center for injured Frank Morze, because Mellakis saw a lot of duty at center for the Chicago Bears.

But Hickey said "Bosley is still our first string center, while (Karl) Rubke will work behind him and as a linebacker."

Many Bowlers Expected At Greenbrae

A record number of bowlers are expected to participate in the winter league season at Greenbrae Lanes, said Tom Coates, proprietor.

"We still have a few openings in the Friday afternoon and Saturday morning junior leagues, the housewives' weekday leagues and some of the evening leagues," Coates said.

Most of the summer leagues have completed their play with the winter leagues ready to roll Monday at Greenbrae.

Results of the week were:

Thursday "Nite Owlers" League

—Bud Kimmel 211-579; Lou Ahrens 211-556; John De Latorrs 214-555; George Haggett 213-553; Dave Bryden 551; Lil Scotto 194-533; Jim Lewis 206; Alice Mellen 502.

Nice, But Clumsy Victory

The BULLPEN

With JOHN J. CONNOLLY

It is up to Billy "Digger" O'Dell, stocky Giant southpaw to bury the Dodger Bums tonight in a key ball game that could squeeze the S.F. Giants only 1½ games behind the Dodgers.

The nifty but somewhat clumsy victory last night was unfortunate for Juan Marichal, Giant ace, who for some unexplainable reason should hire a traffic cop to direct his feet while covering first base. It seems a pity that so good a pitcher is so awkward. He hasn't yet learned how to finish up his pitch and everybody knows he's no 2 to 1 shot to come out of any game with his legs attached, if he does any covering of first base. It is not Marichal's fault, but his instructor's. Or does he pay any attention or care what the coaches tell him?

Marichal pitched superbly while he was able, but our gang blew a great opportunity in the second with the bags loaded and no outs. Two window smashers like Tom Haller and Ernie Bowman fanned and Marichal completed the rout by forcing Jimmy Davenport for the third out.

I DON'T KNOW how those who have watched the TV series regard Don Drysdale, but tonight will tell the tale. If the big right-hander is in trim, he'll give our gang a whale of a battle. But little Billy O'Dell has what it takes and if he is right, I believe the Candlestickers might flounder in a winner.

The reign of terror, as regards the Giants' baserunning, continued last night when Davenport, Alou and Cepeda goofed on the paths. Cepeda's boo-boo was inexcusable as was Davenport's.

But as they used to say, when there is no sense there is no feeling, so the Giants will continue to fall asleep on the bases until a traffic director is appointed. And that is unlikely in 1962.

ALTOGETHER TOO much emphasis has been placed on the lapses of pitchers. The flingers are blamed for everything that happens unfavorably. But those who have looked at TV might get a new slant on who really is to blame. They'll discover that besides ineffective pitching we are saddled with a second grade class of thinkers. Until the coaches correct these faults, the club will continue to stumble, fumble and jumble many chances, always with the ready-made excuse "our pitchers are to blame."

What, if I might ask you, was wrong with the relief work Tuesday night of Don Larsen or what was wrong with the sturdy relief work last night of Bob Bolin?

IF THE GIANTS can get back-to-back relief work, such as Larsen and Bolin have given the club, let's call on them oftener.

As the season draws to a close, I can't seem to buy, even wholesale, the skimpy work of the pitchers. They are the same guys we had at the kickoff last April. And at that time Manager Dark was perfectly satisfied he had ample pitching. So let's quit blaming the staff for the stupid base running and thoughtlessness of the first graders in old pros clothes.

Warriors Sign Backcourt Duo

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI)—The San Francisco Warriors announced the signing of their reserve backcourt duo.

Yank Larese, former North Carolina star, and Ted Luckenbill from Houston inked pacts yesterday. Larese averaged 5.1 points per game and Luckenbill two points per contest last year.

Former 49er Official Leaps Into Politics

HONOLULU (UPI) — William Kim, former administrative assistant of the San Francisco 49er professional football team, has announced his candidacy for the Hawaii State House of Representatives.

Kim, a graduate of the University of San Francisco and University of California's Hastings College of Law, is vice president and legal counsel of the Hawaiian Islanders baseball club.

Angels' Halos Sprout Horns In Belinsky Deal With Kansas City

Although I'm an old Yankee fan, I can't help but root for those crazy Los Angeles Angels in the American League race.

For such a rag-tag outfit to be challenging the mighty Yanks is amazing enough, but I have to admire the devilish sense of humor in the Angels' front office.

I refer to the deal in which playboy pitcher Bo Belinsky reportedly is to be traded to Kansas City at season's end. Party-goer Belinsky in Kansas City is like Farms in Berkeley or skyscrapers in Lagunitas. The devilish Angels might just as well send him to Mongolia for all the glittering nightlife he'll find in Missouri.

Yep, the Angels' halo is a bit crooked. A diabolic sense of humor, I calls it.

Oh well, Bo, cheer up. There is always the famed Stock Yards and the Truman Library to occupy your time. Live it up, kid.

I HOPE the TV cameramen covering tonight's Dodger-Giant finale pay more attention to the game than they have the past three days.

The cameras have driven viewers crazy trying to follow the ball. For example, last night, on a popup to the catcher behind the plate, the cameras were focused on second base. Or, on a long fly to left field we were treated to a view of centerfield, etc. The object of viewing baseball is to follow the ball, so please, cameramen, follow the ball!

IRONIC TWIST (Ankle Dept.): A promising Tam High footballer survived two weeks of rugged gridiron practice, blocking, tackling, etc.; went to a church social, sprained ankle, out two weeks.

It's Billy O'Dell On Mound Tonight Against Drysdale

Final Giant-Dodger Duel Of '62 Season A Big One

LOS ANGELES (AP)—The National League pennant race is far from decided, and as far as Manager Alvin Dark of the San Francisco Giants is concerned, tonight's final battle with the leading Los Angeles Dodgers will be important—but hardly decisive.

"Win or lose tonight, neither of us will be out of the pennant race," said Dark, himself a former fine and highly competitive star with the Giants.

Dark isn't even counting out Cincinnati or Pittsburgh in the final drive to the wire, and neither is Manager Walter Alston of the Dodgers.

Tonight the Dodgers go with their brilliant 23-game winner, Don Drysdale, against the Giants' Billy O'Dell, who will be seeking his 17th win.

Another whopping crowd of around 54,000 is expected in Dodger Stadium, which will break the National League attendance record of 2,253,887 set by the Dodgers in 1960. Last night's 54,395 brought the total here to 2,233,509.

The see-saw Dodger-Giant struggle produced a 3-0 win for the Giants last night and once again Los Angeles lead over the Giants was shaved to 2½ games.

It also produced a scare for the Giants. Their fine starter, Juan Marichal, went to the pits with what turned out to be a severely bruised instep of his right foot.

Marichal, it developed, put too much pressure on the foot in a race to put out Willie Davis on a slow rolling ball to first base for the third out of the sixth inning.

Juan was carried off the field by teammates. Dark said Marichal may miss one turn in his rotation on the mound.

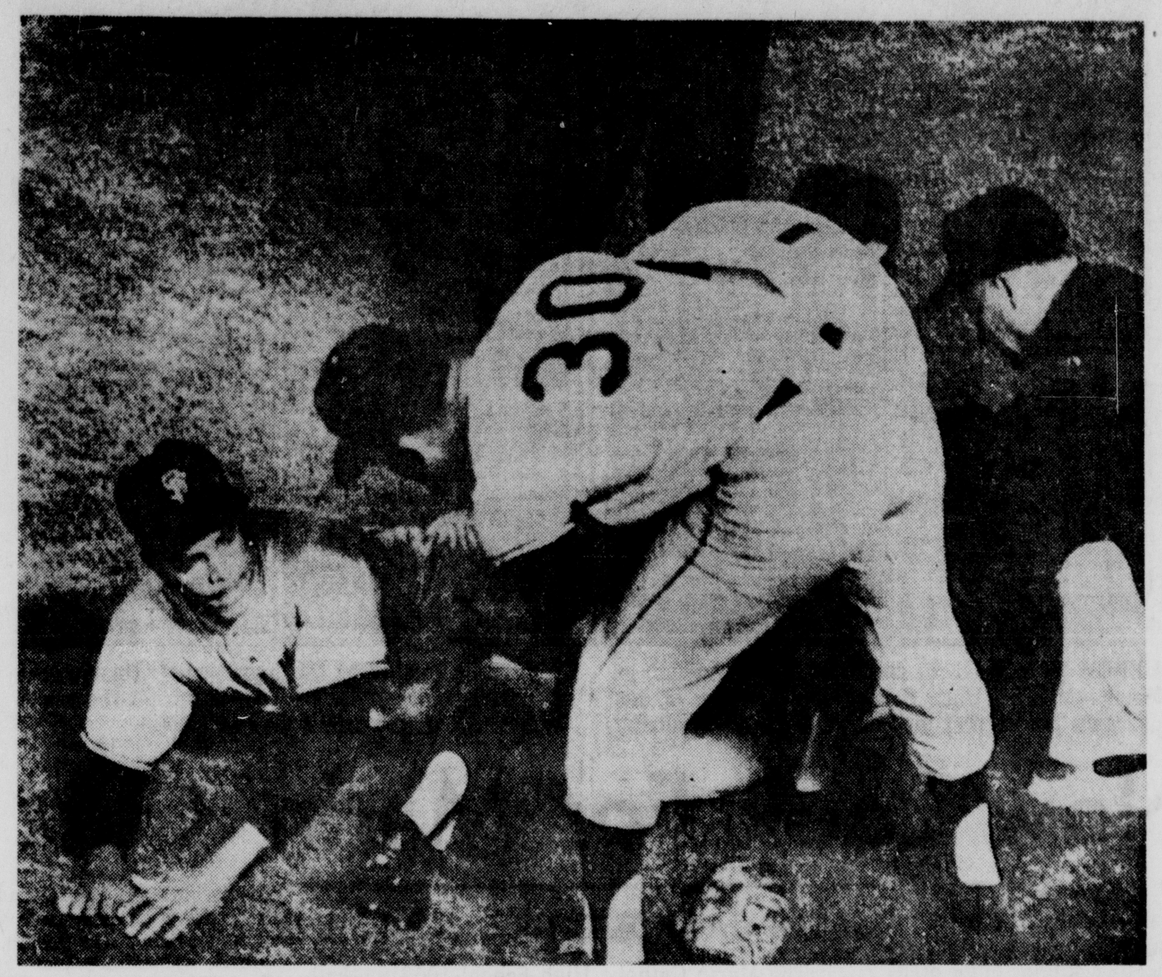
"It's too early to say but I think he will be all right," Dark said.

Marichal got credit for his 18th victory against 10 losses. He had given up only four hits. Bob Bolin took over for the final three innings and preserved Juan's shutout.

Willie Mays was the big gun for the Giants with two doubles, one a ground rule bouncer into the left field stands, a single and two runs batted in.

Credit also belong to Harvey Kuenn. He led off the third with a single and scored on Mays' double to center, and he led off the two-run fifth with another single. Jose Pagan's single, Mays' double and a single by Jim Davenport spelled ruin for starter Johnny Podres, now 12-11.

The Dodgers' base stealing Maury Wills collected a pair of singles but suffered an indignity. Marichal picked him off at first base with a strike to Orlando Cepeda, only the third time this season the little base thief has been trapped in such a circumstance. Wills has stolen 76 bases this season.



SCARE FOR GIANTS—Pitcher Juan Marichal (left) lies on ground as concerned Giant teammates gather around him after injuring his right instep in last night's game. Injury was not as serious as first feared, but Marichal may miss his turn on the mound Sunday. (AP Wirephoto)

Huskies, USC Tops On Coast

By JACK STEVENSON

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—Preseason prognosticators pick either Washington or Southern California to face the Big Ten champions in football's Rose Bowl at Pasadena on New Year's Day.

The two rank as nearly equal choices in the Big Six Conference which selects one of its members to represent the Pacific Coast.

Stanford rates as the dark horse UCLA's defending champs are weaker than last year while California sadly lacks experience.

Washington State, new to the Athletic Association of Western Universities, plays only two other conference members.

Oregon and Oregon State, both members of the defunct Pacific Coast Conference, remain strong independents.

If Oregon were in the Big Six this year, the Webfoots would rate with Washington and USC.

At Washington, the battle for the starting quarterback job seems between senior Pete Ohler and sophomore Bill Douglas.

LINE ANCHOR

Washington has center Ray Mansfield at 225 anchoring the line and a group of fleet backs headed by senior Charlie Mitchell.

Southern California may have more individual stars than Washington but almost half of the 17 lettermen are backs.

Southern California's passing game features quarterbacks Bill Nelson and Pete Beathard and end Hal Bedsole. The two throwers completed 79 last year and Bedsole grabbed 27 for 525 yards and six TDs.

Best for Oregon would be tackle Steve Barnett, an All-Coast selection the past two seasons, and swift halfback Mel Renfro, hampered by injuries last year but a sensation otherwise.

Stanford boasts a huge line but again lacks speed. Coach Jack Curtice hopes to compensate with an attack featuring quarterbacks who both run and pass — letterman Steve Thurlow, transfer Clark Weaver and sophomore Dick Ragsdale.

Mellakis Slated For 'Swing' Duty

REDWOOD CITY (UPI) — San Francisco 49er Coach Red Hickey said today his new lineman, John Mellakis, would be a swing tackle on both offense and defensive duty this year.

This was a big boost for Bruce Bosley, who is filling in at offensive center for injured Frank Morze, because Mellakis saw a lot of duty at center for the Chicago Bears.

But Hickey said "Bosley is still our first string center, while (Karl) Rubke will work behind him and as a linebacker."

Many Bowlers Expected At Greenbrae

A record number of bowlers are expected to participate in the winter league season at Greenbrae Lanes, said Tom Coates, proprietor.

"We still have a few openings in the Friday afternoon and Saturday morning junior leagues, the housewives' weekday leagues and some of the evening leagues," Coates said.

Most of the summer leagues have completed their play with the winter leagues ready to roll Monday at Greenbrae.

Results of the week were:

Thursday "Nite Owlers" League
—Bud Kimmel 211-579; Lou Ahrens 211-556; John De Latorrs 214-555; George Haggett 213-553; Dave Bryden 551; Lil Scotto 194-533; Jim Lewis 206; Alice Mellen 502.

Nice, But Clumsy Victory

The BULLPEN

With JOHN J. CONNOLLY

It is up to Billy "Digger" O'Dell, stocky Giant southpaw to bury the Dodger Bums tonight in a key ball game that could squeeze the S.F. Giants only 1½ games behind the Dodgers.

The nifty but somewhat clumsy victory last night was unfortunate for Juan Marichal, Giant ace, who for some unexplainable reason should hire a traffic cop to direct his feet while covering first base. It seems a pity that so good a pitcher is so awkward. He hasn't yet learned how to finish up his pitch and everybody knows he's no 2 to 1 shot to come out of any game with his legs attached, if he does any covering of first base. It is not Marichal's fault, but his instructor's. Or does he pay any attention or care what the coaches tell him?

Marichal pitched superbly while he was able, but our gang blew a great opportunity in the second with the bags loaded and no outs. Two window smashers like Tom Haller and Ernie Bowman fanned and Marichal completed the rout by forcing Jimmy Davenport for the third out.

I DON'T KNOW how those who have watched the TV series regard Don Drysdale, but tonight will tell the tale. If the big right-hander is in trim, he'll give our gang a whale of a battle. But little Billy O'Dell has what it takes and if he is right, I believe the Candlestickers might flounder in a winner.

The reign of terror, as regards the Giants' baserunning, continued last night when Davenport, Alou and Cepeda goofed on the paths. Cepeda's boo-boo was inexcusable as was Davenport's.

But as they used to say, when there is no sense there is no feeling, so the Giants will continue to fall asleep on the bases until a traffic director is appointed. And that is unlikely in 1962.

ALTOGETHER TOO much emphasis has been placed on the lapses of pitchers. The flingers are blamed for everything that happens unfavorably. But those who have looked at TV might get a new slant on who really is to blame. They'll discover that besides ineffective pitching we are saddled with a second grade class of thinkers. Until the coaches correct these faults, the club will continue to stumble, fumble and jumble many chances, always with the ready-made excuse "our pitchers are to blame."

What, if I might ask you, was wrong with the relief work Tuesday night of Don Larsen or what was wrong with the sturdy relief work last night of Bob Bolin?

IF THE GIANTS can get back-to-back relief work, such as Larsen and Bolin have given the club, let's call on them oftener.

As the season draws to a close, I can't seem to buy, even wholesale, the skimpy work of the pitchers. They are the same guys we had at the kickoff last April. And at that time Manager Dark was perfectly satisfied he had ample pitching. So let's quit blaming the staff for the stupid base running and thoughtlessness of the first graders in old pros clothes.

Warriors Sign Backcourt Duo

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI)—The San Francisco Warriors announced the signing of their reserve backcourt duo.

Yank Larese, former North Carolina star, and Ted Luckenbill from Houston inked pacts yesterday. Larese averaged 5.1 points per game and Luckenbill two points per contest last year.

Former 49er Official Leaps Into Politics

Cincy Reds Are Again Sneaking Up

By U.P. INTERNATIONAL

While the National League leading Los Angeles Dodgers and second place San Francisco Giants are battling in Chavez Ravine, a group of ball players known as the Cincinnati Reds are again sneaking up to the front.

The Reds climbed to within five games of first place yesterday by sweeping a pair from the Chicago Cubs, 7-5 in 10 innings and 10-3 in regulation nine.

Meanwhile, the Giants moved to within 2½ games of the Dodgers by shutting out the front runners 3-0.

In other National League activity, the Milwaukee Braves blanked the St. Louis Cardinals, 1-0, and the Houston Colts clipped the Pittsburgh Pirates, 5-3, in the only other scheduled game.

The Minnesota Twins missed an excellent opportunity to gain ground on the rained-out first-place Yankees in the American League when they won the opener of a twin-bill against Washington, 9-7, in 11 innings, but dropped the nightcap, 3-0. The Chicago White Sox nipped the Cleveland Indians, 2-1, the Detroit Tigers took two frfom the Baltimore Orioles, 5-2 and 6-0, and the Boston Red Sox crushed the Kansas City A's, 12-4.

Rookie second baseman Ken Hubbs' string of consecutive errorless chances ended at 418 when he threw wildly on a double play ball in the eighth inning of the nightcap between the Cubs and Reds. Hubbs had eclipsed Bobby Doerr's major league record of 414 perfect chances in the opener, which the Reds won on Gordy Coleman's two-run homer in the 10th. Coleman collected three more hits in the nightcap to help Joe Nuxhall win his fifth straight game without a defeat.

Tony Cloninger blanked the Cardinals on five hits in gaining his sixth victory for the Braves. Loser Ray Washburn allowed only two hits in the seven innings he worked, including Amado Samuel's second inning single which drove in the only run of the game.

Jim Pendleton's run-producing single off reliever Diomedes Olivo in the seventh broke a 3-3 tie between the Colts and Pirates. Jim Umbricht won his first game of the season in relief and Vern Law suffered his seventh loss.

SFYC LEADS IN MALLORY CUP ELIMINATIONS

NEWPORT BEACH, Calif. (UPI)—The St. Francis Yacht Club team from San Francisco today led the qualifying competition into the second day of the Mallory Cup eliminations.

The winning team in the three-day Pacific Coast finals will represent the state in the Mallory Cup finals at Newport Beach Monday.

The St. Francis crew, skippered by Harry Easom Jr., finished second in yesterday's first race and won the second race. Leonard Delmar and William Moore round out the St. Francis crew.

Newport Harbor Yacht Club was second, followed by the Balboa Yacht Club, Mission Bay Yacht Club, Coyote Point Yacht Club of San Francisco, and the host Voyager Yacht Club.

The teams are sailing shock-25 sloops on triangular 9 to 10 mile courses outside Newport Harbor.

Raiders All Set, Cheerful For Opener

SANTA CRUZ (UPI)—You can forget the Oakland Raiders' 41-12 roasting by Denver last week, according to Head Coach Marty Feldman.

"Our entire training period, including exhibition games, was designed to bring us to this point," the coach said, surveying the 33 surviving squad members.

"We used the exhibition to test personnel and our defensive and offensive systems," he continued.

The Raiders cut six men and placed three on the injured reserve list following the Denver debacle.

Feldman, who has been optimistic about the Raider chances throughout the team's 1-4 exhibition season, continued to be cheerful. "They start counting Sunday. We'll be ready."

New Look For Marin 'Cats

(Fourth in a series)

By RALPH CHATOIAN

Marin Catholic High School Wildcats will bring to the prep football scene an all-new look for 1962, complete with new coach and new offensive formation.

New coach is Doug Damaschino, former assistant grid coach at Marin Catholic and University of California graduate. His new offensive formation for the Wildcats will be the Pro T, with tight ends, flankers and men in motion. Last year the Wildcats ran from the split T formation.

The new coach was greeted by 15 returning lettermen from last year's team, which indicates the Wildcats will be an experienced ball club during the '62 campaign.

Damaschino promises a speedy backfield of senior lettermen. At fullback is the fastest man on the team, John Odetto (5-8, 170). Adding their speed to the Wildcat backfield are Wally Lourdeaux (6-0, 175) and Chuck Hardeman (510, 175), returning halfbacks.

TWO QUARTERBACKS

Among the returning lettermen are a pair of quarterbacks, Lad Wilsey (5-9, 170) and Gerry Denman (5-7, 155). Another back who earned his letter last year on the Wildcat squad is senior Don Hemovich, also returning.

Damaschino said he expected all-league performances from his top linemen, tackle Joe Hebel (6-3, 195) and center Hank Ryan (6-0, 190), both seniors and returning lettermen.

Other returning lettermen are guards Joe Crotty (5-10, 165), John Hassett (5-8, 165) and Chuck Clay (5-10, 160); tackle Tom Moran, (5-9, 175), and ends Den Gunther (6-1, 165), Ed Ghiringhelli (5-8, 155) and John Drews (5-9, 175). All the lettermen are seniors.

UP FROM JV

Damaschino will have a few boys coming up from last year's junior varsity team to help out this year. Among the athletes showing promise in practice sessions are ends John Winters and Tom Krebsbach, tackle Jack Moerschbaecher, guards Dave Beswick, Bob Jeffrey and John LaBoyteaux, center Mike Pometta, and halfback Rick Bacich.

Also receiving praise from Damaschino are Bud Almada, linebacker from last year's varsity, and tackle Rod Ponath, a junior who didn't play any football last year.

BALANCED LEAGUE

"This is probably the best balanced league in a long time," Damaschino said about the Marin County Athletic League. He said he expected the caliber of the play to be better this year, citing spring practice as the major factor. (This year was the first that spring practice was allowed in the MCAL.)

Damaschino picked the Tamalpais Indians as the team to beat in the league, rating Redwood second over his Wildcats.

Bo Belinsky Deal Probed

NEW YORK (AP) — Baseball Commissioner Ford Frick said today he will investigate the player real between Los Angeles and Kansas City in which the Angels reportedly promised to deliver Bo "No-Hit" Belinsky to the Athletics at the end of the season to seal a deal for a player purchased last July.

Officials of the two clubs involved acknowledged an agreement had been reached to send a player to Kansas City at a future date as part payment for pitcher Dan Osinski, purchased last July 21 for $35,000 from Portland. Kansas City had optioned Osinski to the Pacific Coast League club earlier this year.

Belinsky, a cocky left-hander who came into prominence when he pitched a no-hitter against Baltimore May 5, disclosed yesterday that he is the player agreed upon.

"I was told about the deal the last time we played in Kansas City (two weeks ago)," the 25-year-old New York-born rookie said. "I don't mind going to Kansas City but I won't leave L. A. until they keep their promise to pick up the payments on my car. They promised me that after I pitched my no-hitter."

In Los Angeles, Angel General Manager Fred Haney said the club had no obligation to Belinsky in that respect.

NEW CONTRACT

"We can't do anything like that," Haney said. "Anything we give a ball player has to be in the contract. What you can give him is a new contract. That's what we gave Belinsky. After his no-hitter, we tore up his old contract and gave him a new one."

Haney and Charles Finley, owner of the Athletics, insisted that no particular player was agreed upon and that the player won't be designated until the officials renew discussions next month.

The statement apparently came as a surprise to Frick and his staff.

"We have checked the contracts," said Charles Segar, secretary-treasurer of baseball, "and there is no mention of any other player. As far as our office is concerned, the sale of Osinski to the Los Angeles club was a straight sale with no other player involved."

Under baseball law, player trades are illegal after June 15 to the end of the season. Only waiver deals, whereby one club acquires a player from another club for the set $20,000 price, are permissible between June 15 and the end of the season. In such cases, the last place club has first choice. The club asking waivers may withdraw same no more than twice.

Cincy Reds Are Again Sneaking Up

By U.P. INTERNATIONAL

While the National League leading Los Angeles Dodgers and second place San Francisco Giants are battling in Chavez Ravine, a group of ball players known as the Cincinnati Reds are again sneaking up to the front.

The Reds climbed to within five games of first place yesterday by sweeping a pair from the Chicago Cubs, 7-5 in 10 innings and 10-3 in regulation nine.

Meanwhile, the Giants moved to within 2½ games of the Dodgers by shutting out the front runners 3-0.

In other National League activity, the Milwaukee Braves blanked the St. Louis Cardinals, 1-0, and the Houston Colts clipped the Pittsburgh Pirates, 5-3, in the only other scheduled game.

The Minnesota Twins missed an excellent opportunity to gain ground on the rained-out first-place Yankees in the American League when they won the opener of a twin-bill against Washington, 9-7, in 11 innings, but dropped the nightcap, 3-0. The Chicago White Sox nipped the Cleveland Indians, 2-1, the Detroit Tigers took two frfom the Baltimore Orioles, 5-2 and 6-0, and the Boston Red Sox crushed the Kansas City A's, 12-4.

Rookie second baseman Ken Hubbs' string of consecutive errorless chances ended at 418 when he threw wildly on a double play ball in the eighth inning of the nightcap between the Cubs and Reds. Hubbs had eclipsed Bobby Doerr's major league record of 414 perfect chances in the opener, which the Reds won on Gordy Coleman's two-run homer in the 10th. Coleman collected three more hits in the nightcap to help Joe Nuxhall win his fifth straight game without a defeat.

Tony Cloninger blanked the Cardinals on five hits in gaining his sixth victory for the Braves. Loser Ray Washburn allowed only two hits in the seven innings he worked, including Amado Samuel's second inning single which drove in the only run of the game.

Jim Pendleton's run-producing single off reliever Diomedes Olivo in the seventh broke a 3-3 tie between the Colts and Pirates. Jim Umbricht won his first game of the season in relief and Vern Law suffered his seventh loss.

SFYC LEADS IN MALLORY CUP ELIMINATIONS

NEWPORT BEACH, Calif. (UPI)—The St. Francis Yacht Club team from San Francisco today led the qualifying competition into the second day of the Mallory Cup eliminations.

The winning team in the three-day Pacific Coast finals will represent the state in the Mallory Cup finals at Newport Beach Monday.

The St. Francis crew, skippered by Harry Easom Jr., finished second in yesterday's first race and won the second race. Leonard Delmar and William Moore round out the St. Francis crew.

Newport Harbor Yacht Club was second, followed by the Balboa Yacht Club, Mission Bay Yacht Club, Coyote Point Yacht Club of San Francisco, and the host Voyager Yacht Club.

The teams are sailing shock-25 sloops on triangular 9 to 10 mile courses outside Newport Harbor.

Raiders All Set, Cheerful For Opener

SANTA CRUZ (UPI)—You can forget the Oakland Raiders' 41-12 roasting by Denver last week, according to Head Coach Marty Feldman.

"Our entire training period, including exhibition games, was designed to bring us to this point," the coach said, surveying the 33 surviving squad members.

"We used the exhibition to test personnel and our defensive and offensive systems," he continued.

The Raiders cut six men and placed three on the injured reserve list following the Denver debacle.

Feldman, who has been optimistic about the Raider chances throughout the team's 1-4 exhibition season, continued to be cheerful. "They start counting Sunday. We'll be ready."

HOUSTON, Tex. (UPI)—Shortstop J. C. Hartman of the Houston Colts is attending barber college during the off-season and intends to set up his first shop this summer in the Houston clubhouse.

New Look For Marin 'Cats

(Fourth in a series)

By RALPH CHATOIAN

Marin Catholic High School Wildcats will bring to the prep football scene an all-new look for 1962, complete with new coach and new offensive formation.

New coach is Doug Damaschino, former assistant grid coach at Marin Catholic and University of California graduate. His new offensive formation for the Wildcats will be the Pro T, with tight ends, flankers and men in motion. Last year the Wildcats ran from the split T formation.

The new coach was greeted by 15 returning lettermen from last year's team, which indicates the Wildcats will be an experienced ball club during the '62 campaign.

Damaschino promises a speedy backfield of senior lettermen. At fullback is the fastest man on the team, John Odetto (5-8, 170). Adding their speed to the Wildcat backfield are Wally Lourdeaux (6-0, 175) and Chuck Hardeman (510, 175), returning halfbacks.

TWO QUARTERBACKS

Among the returning lettermen are a pair of quarterbacks, Lad Wilsey (5-9, 170) and Gerry Denman (5-7, 155). Another back who earned his letter last year on the Wildcat squad is senior Don Hemovich, also returning.

Damaschino said he expected all-league performances from his top linemen, tackle Joe Hebel (6-3, 195) and center Hank Ryan, (6-0, 190), both seniors and returning lettermen.

Other returning lettermen are guards Joe Crotty (5-10, 165), John Hassett (5-8, 165) and Chuck Clay (5-10, 160); tackle Tom Moran, (5-9, 175), and ends Den Gunther (6-1, 165), Ed Ghiringhelli (5-8, 155) and John Drews (5-9, 175). All the lettermen are seniors.

UP FROM JV

Damaschino will have a few boys coming up from last year's junior varsity team to help out this year. Among the athletes showing promise in practice sessions are ends John Winters and Tom Krebsbach, tackle Jack Moerschbaecher, guards Dave Beswick, Bob Jeffrey and John LaBoyteaux, center Mike Pometta, and halfback Rick Bacich.

Also receiving praise from Damaschino are Bud Almada, linebacker from last year's varsity, and tackle Rod Ponath, a junior who didn't play any football last year.

BALANCED LEAGUE

"This is probably the best balanced league in a long time," Damaschino said about the Marin County Athletic League. He said he expected the caliber of the play to be better this year, citing spring practice as the major factor. (This year was the first that spring practice was allowed in the MCAL.)

Damaschino picked the Tamalpais Indians as the team to beat in the league, rating Redwood second over his Wildcats.

The new head coach will be helped this year by assistant coaches Al Scott and Ralph Arbelloa.

The FISHIN' FOOL

By RALPH STEVENS
IJ Fish and Game Writer

Flock Of Fish For Hardy Humans, Except On The Marin Side Of Bay

STEVENS

Some authorities claim Labor Day in the Arctic regions had colder, more miserable weather than was had here in the Bay Region. Maybe so, but it would be hard to convince some of our angling adherents of it.

It wasn't necessary to be on the bounding main to contract mal de mer; a number of bay anglers, aboard party boats and skiffs were stricken.

Yet, amazingly, a flock of fish — salmon, rockfish and striped bass —were taken by the more hardy humans.

But not from the Marin side of the bay; the number of bass taken from that sector could be counted on the fingers of two hands. The boats, particularly the party boats, that worked the Lighthouse area and the Benecia Flats did a fair job. Nadine Lessley, of Dowrelio's Crockett Resort and Harbor, reported the Labor Day take as better than on Sunday. Not limits, but an average of about one fish per rod. For example: Dowrelio No. 5 netted 9 bass to 12 pounds on the morning trip and had 12 to 9 pounds along with 5 flounders on the afternoon trip; The Happy Days took 8 for 12 pounds first trip and 10 to 7 pounds in the p.m. trip; the Millie Lin took 6 to 6 pounds, the Zatta had 10 to 6 pounds, Dowrelio No. 6 an even dozen to 9 pounds and the Jackpot landed 18 to 6 pounds. Figures out at about one fish per rod.

BY THE way, congratulations to the petitie wife of Johnny Sivera, skipper of the Happy Days, for hooking a huge sturgeon on the Benecia Flats. Skipper Johnny had to take over the chore of landing the five-foot, six-inch, 122-pound monster. When opened, this sturgeon was found to have one partly digested and one practically fresh striped bass of keepable size in its stomach.

TAKING THE inclement weather and rather poor tidal conditions into consideration, we may call bait fishing on the upper San Pablo Bay fair with many indications that it will become pregressively better as the week advances.

IT IS A far different story in the downstream areas, especially in the Alcatraz-Yellow Bluff regions. Perhaps never before has there been faster action trolling for stripers in those sections. Here is the proof of that statement: (Hal Boenner of the Lee Anderson Bait shop reporting) — Boat Cherokee, 6 limits to 16 pounds . . . Keesa, 6 limits to 10 pounds . . . Trade Winds, 11 limits to 15 pounds, and the Troller made three trips on Monday with a perfect score each trip.

SALMON TROLLING was a bit on the slow side, but several boats stopped on the way back and cleaned up on stripers. The Wilma H. netted 15 salmon to 22 pounds, took 12 bass off Alcatraz and landed a 15-pound halibut; the Miss Dragnet took 15 salmon, and 14 bass with the bass running to 18 pounds and then landed a 50-pound halibut; The Lucky Day landed 22 salmon and on the way in netted 16 limits of striped bass in 35 minutes of fishing.

WITH A fond wish that by the time this is read the wind will have blown itself out, I sign off with the usual goodbye, good luck and go get 'em!

LITTLE SPORT — By Rouson

World Series Of Pro Golf This Weekend

AKRON, Ohio (AP) — Golfdom's top-titled trio moved into town today for two practice rounds preceding the Saturday-Sunday $75,000 "world series" over Firestone Country Club's troublesome terrain.

Arnold Palmer, big-money winner and holder of the British Open and Masters crowns, goes against PGA champion Gary Player and National Open king Jack Nicklaus in the 36-hole medal play chase.

The winner gets $50,000, the second-placer $15,000 and the tailender $10,000. The payoff could jumble the money-won standings.

$357 PER SHOT

One thing is certain, if par for the 36 holes takes the big prize over the 7,165-yard par 70 layout, the victor will get $357 for each shot he makes, and $25,000 per day.

The gallery will be limited to 8,000 per day for the two-day scrap from which the winner will emerge as the "world champion golfer."

The unique affair, set up as a television extravaganza, promises plenty for the stay-at-home viewers. The NBC-TV network will telecast the final six holes in color each day, and on an elaborate equipment and personnel setup will handle it.

What A Day!

NEW YORK (UPI)—Joe Adcock of the Milwaukee Braves hit four home runs and one double in a single game against the old Brooklyn Dodgers on July 31, 1954, to set two major league records and tie two others.

Fred Brown Leads Field In M.V. Golf Tourney Opener

Fred Brown, 24-year-old student at San Francisco State College, leads a field of 88 golfers who will tee-off Sunday in the first round of the 54-hole Mill Valley City Golf Championship at the Mill Valley municipal course.

The tournament, a match play in past years, has been changed to medal play this year.

Brown led the field in qualifying with a one-under par 66 at the nine-hole Mill Valley course. Defending champion is Byron Eggleston who qualified for the championship flight with a 70.

Second round is scheduled Sept. 16 and the final 18 holes on Sept. 23.

McBride Heads Drake Benchwarmer Group

Sir Francis Drake High School Benchwarmers Club today announced its slate of officers for the 1962-63 school year, headed by President Lyman McBride of Sleepy Hollow.

The group's first meeting of the year is scheduled Sept. 18 when the school's football coaching staff will be introduced and Dr. Roger Hedin, team physician, will discuss improved safety measures in uniforms and equipment.

McBride also announced members are now selling season tickets for all five of Drake's home games at College of Marin Stadium this fall.

Other officers for the Benchwarmers include John Tyler, vice president for football; Jerome Hannigan, vice president for basketball; Bill Tadlock, vice president for spring sports; S. E. DeMasi, treasurer; Mrs. Margaret Pieper, secretary.

Officials Give M.V. Racer 3 Instead Of 2 Victories

Instead of two victory rides in the modified stock car races at the Vallejo Speedway last week, Bob Fillipi of Mill Valley has been declared the winner of three events.

Fillipi was moved up from third to first in the 15-lap semi, when a confab among officials after the show voted starter Joe Valente was in error when he brought out the checker flag after San Pablo's Nelson Snow was flipped over on top of Jerry Stockton's car by another racer. Snow and Stockton were well out in front, but being only the 13th lap, Valente erred in not waving the red flag for a restart instead of ending the event.

Result, the rest of the field passed the tangle, with Bob being named the winner, followed by Dick Cantor and Phil Pedlar of Santa Rosa.

Beside Fillipi taking the semi, he also won his first trophy dash after taking the second two-mile heat race. Other heat winners were Art Cirimele, San Rafael and Jerry Stockton, Sonoma.

Stanford Holds Contact Drills

STANFORD (UPI)—The Stanford Indians held their first contact drill of the season yesterday—and sophomore guard Bob Arcieri suffered a slight concussion which may keep him out of action for three to four days.

Coach Jack Curtice kept Kent Colberg on the bench because of an intestinal disorder which the player contracted in Europe. He is scheduled to undergo hospital tests to determine whether he can play.

Most Children Love Water Sports And Understand Boating Safety

"Perhaps parents would enjoy their children more if they stopped to realize that the film of childhood can never be run through for a second showing." This was an apt statement, once made by Evelyn Nown, a writer.

Today, truly interested parents try to see to it that their own pleasures relate to those of their children. And, apropos this subject, it's good to know that most children take to water sports—INCLUDING BOATING — as though these were made especially for them.

They catch on quick to the unbending rules of safe boating. If "Jimmy" doesn't remember to replace the drain plugs in the boat's stern, it's a discipline he'll never forget.

Your 10-year-old "Kathy" probably washes dishes with loathing. Yet just put the proper clean-up implements into her eager hands and she'll make your boat gleam from stern to bow.

Aboard, the kids will eat anything that doesn't snap back. They will become tanned and relaxed from skiing, fishing, swimming and exploring.

How many juvenile delinquents do you find in this class? Name one.

UP A LAZY RIVER, and so on to Potato Slough. That's where San Rafael Yacht Club members spent their three-day holiday. Fifty or sixty small and large boats tied up at Big Island for much fun. "Coming back home, off Rodeo to Pinole it was pretty rough," reported Morrison E. Green, club commodore, and added with a chuckle, "But isn't it always?"

AL BORDEN of the Gallinas Boating Club says the Holiday's big picnic at McNear's Beach was a hit. One feature was a sort of Sing Along With Maurice, aboard Maurice Sisco's newly acquired craft.

"Don't forget the all-fish Cioppino feed, Saturday evening, Sept. 8," Al reminds club members. It will be held at McNear's Beach. In or out, whim of the weather.

APPROXIMATELY one-half of our more than seven million pleasure boat owners either car-top or trailer their boats. They keep them in their back yards or garages. Maintenance is easy this way. Electric power and tools are always available.

On the other hand, a boat in the water is an ideal convenience.

MRS. BOB ABBOTT, publicity for the Golden Gate Ski Clubbers of Marin, says, "About 70 members and guests spent the long weekend at their Lake Berryessa Marina. Water sports, games and excellent cuisine was the program."

The close-by Monticello Ski Club invited the Marin group to help put on a show, and several members participated in ski acts.

QUESTION: I have an older 25 h.p. outboard motor clamped to the boat transom. It worked loose recently and I almost lost it. How heavy and long should a safety chain be?

B. L., Belvedere

ANSWER: The bolting method is much preferred for all larger motors. A dumped motor, secured only by chain, can wreck your transom.

Flock Of Fish For Hardy Humans, Except On The Marin Side Of Bay

STEVENS

Some authorities claim Labor Day in the Arctic regions had colder, more miserable weather than was had here in the Bay Region. Maybe so, but it would be hard to convince some of our angling adherents of it.

It wasn't necessary to be on the bounding main to contract mal de mer; a number of bay anglers, aboard party boats and skiffs were stricken.

Yet, amazingly, a flock of fish — salmon, rockfish and striped bass —were taken by the more hardy humans.

But not from the Marin side of the bay; the number of bass taken from that sector could be counted on the fingers of two hands. The boats, particularly the party boats, that worked the Lighthouse area and the Benecia Flats did a fair job. Nadine Lessley, of Dowrelio's Crockett Resort and Harbor, reported the Labor Day take as better than on Sunday. Not limits, but an average of about one fish per rod. For example: Dowrelio No. 5 netted 9 bass to 12 pounds on the morning trip and had 12 to 9 pounds along with 5 flounders on the afternoon trip; The Happy Days took 8 for 12 pounds first trip and 10 to 7 pounds in the p.m. trip; the Millie Lin took 6 to 6 pounds, the Zatta had 10 to 6 pounds, Dowrelio No. 6 an even dozen to 9 pounds and the Jackpot landed 18 to 6 pounds. Figures out at about one fish per rod.

BY THE way, congratulations to the petitie wife of Johnny Sivera, skipper of the Happy Days, for hooking a huge sturgeon on the Benecia Flats. Skipper Johnny had to take over the chore of landing the five-foot, six-inch, 122-pound monster. When opened, this sturgeon was found to have one partly digested and one practically fresh striped bass of keepable size in its stomach.

TAKING THE inclement weather and rather poor tidal conditions into consideration, we may call bait fishing on the upper San Pablo Bay fair with many indications that it will become pregressively better as the week advances.

IT IS A far different story in the downstream areas, especially in the Alcatraz-Yellow Bluff regions. Perhaps never before has there been faster action trolling for stripers in those sections. Here is the proof of that statement: (Hal Boenner of the Lee Anderson Bait shop reporting) — Boat Cherokee, 6 limits to 16 pounds . . . Keesa, 6 limits to 10 pounds . . . Trade Winds, 11 limits to 15 pounds, and the Troller made three trips on Monday with a perfect score each trip.

SALMON TROLLING was a bit on the slow side, but several boats stopped on the way back and cleaned up on stripers. The Wilma H. netted 15 salmon to 22 pounds, took 12 bass off Alcatraz and landed a 15-pound halibut; the Miss Dragnet took 15 salmon, and 14 bass with the bass running to 18 pounds and then landed a 50-pound halibut; The Lucky Day landed 22 salmon and on the way in netted 16 limits of striped bass in 35 minutes of fishing.

WITH A fond wish that by the time this is read the wind will have blown itself out, I sign off with the usual goodbye, good luck and go get 'em!

World Series Of Pro Golf This Weekend

AKRON, Ohio (AP) — Golfdom's top-titled trio moved into town today for two practice rounds preceding the Saturday-Sunday $75,000 "world series" over Firestone Country Club's troublesome terrain.

Arnold Palmer, big-money winner and holder of the British Open and Masters crowns, goes against PGA champion Gary Player and National Open king Jack Nicklaus in the 36-hole medal play chase.

The winner gets $50,000, the second-placer $15,000 and the tailender $10,000. The payoff could jumble the money-won standings.

$357 PER SHOT

One thing is certain, if par for the 36 holes takes the big prize over the 7,165-yard par 70 layout, the victor will get $357 for each shot he makes, and $25,000 per day.

The gallery will be limited to 8,000 per day for the two-day scrap from which the winner will emerge as the "world champion golfer."

The unique affair, set up as a television extravaganza, promises plenty for the stay-at-home viewers. The NBC-TV network will telecast the final six holes in color each day, and on an elaborate equipment and personnel setup will handle it.

What A Day!

NEW YORK (UPI)—Joe Adcock of the Milwaukee Braves hit four home runs and one double in a single game against the old Brooklyn Dodgers on July 31, 1954, to set two major league records and tie two others.

Fred Brown Leads Field In M.V. Golf Tourney Opener

Fred Brown, 24-year-old student at San Francisco State College, leads a field of 88 golfers who will tee-off Sunday in the first round of the 54-hole Mill Valley City Golf Championship at the Mill Valley municipal course.

The tournament, a match play in past years, has been changed to medal play this year.

Brown led the field in qualifying with a one-under par 66 at the nine-hole Mill Valley course. Defending champion is Byron Eggleston who qualified for the championship flight with a 70.

Second round is scheduled Sept. 16 and the final 18 holes on Sept. 23.

Downbeat Tea Set By Symphony's Units

The Symphony Guild's Downbeat Tea, sponsored by Marin Symphony Auxiliary, will be given Sept. 14, at 2:30 p.m., at the Kentfield home of Mrs. Mozart Kaufman, attended by members of the guild and their friends.

Mrs. Robert L. Schultz of Mill Valley, auxiliary president, is chairman of the tea. She is assisted by Mesdames Hugh Middleton, reservations; Juan Hays and George Stephens, invitations; Charles Meacham, program, and Arthur Piver, Hugh Shippey Jr., Eugene Yates and Edward R. Hindley, tea arrangements.

Mrs. J. Benton Tulley, guild president, will pour tea.

Soloist will be Miss Mia Phoebus, mezzo-soprano, who lives in Sausalito. Miss Phoebus has studied at Juillard School of Music and in Paris and has given concerts in Europe and in this country. Eugene Ramey will accompany her.

The Downbeat Tea signals the second phase of the membership program conducted by the Symphony Guild during the month of September. Following the tea, former members will be called and new members will be sought.

Symphony Guild of Marin sponsors the Marin Symphony Orchestra, Marin Youth Orchestra, Music for Minors, Workshop for Strings and the Scholarship Fund. The 75-member orchestra is under the baton of Sandor Salgo.

The scholarship fund provides for an award of $500 for a qualified Marin County musician. This award will be offered for the first time this year.

Diana Getchell To Become Bride Of Richard Hawkins

Mr. and Mrs. Bayard M. Getchell of Medford, Ore. are announcing the engagement of their daughter, Diana Ruth, to Richard K. Hawkins, Mpwapawa, Tanganyika, Africa.

The bride-elect is a graduate of Medford High School and Stanford University, where she has been a member of the administrative staff of the university. She will travel to Africa where the wedding is planned to take place in early October in the Anglican Church in Dar Es Salaam, Tanganyika.

The Rev. Philip Getchell, brother of the bride-elect, is in Toleda, Parana, Brazil, establishing a series of missions for the Episcopal Church.

The future bridegroom was graduated from San Rafael High School and Stanford University. He is a member of Alpa Tau Omega fraternity, and was captain of the gymnastics team at Stanford. He also was head sponsor of Wilbur Hall men's dormitory. Awarded a fellowship from Columbia University, he studied for one year at Makerere University, Kampala, Uganda, Africa. He is now employed as a teacher by the Tanganyika government, and is sponsored by the United States Agency for International Development.

Richard is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth E. Hawkins of San Rafael and the grandson of Mr. and Mrs. OB Cavanaugh of Bolinas and the late Mr. and Mrs. Joseph K. Hawkins. He has a sister, Margene Hawkins.

Ballroom Of Belvedere Home To Be Setting For Big Party

By FLORENCE DONNELLY

The ballroom of the home of Mr. and Mrs. Russell Gomez of Belvedere will be the setting for the buffet dinner and dancing party they are giving Saturday night for about a hundred friends. It will have a back to school theme so that most of the guests will be dressed as school going youngsters. Mr. and Mrs. Gomez, long time residents of Belvedere, moved about two and a half years ago to the Howells house they bought on Golden Gate Ave. It is almost on the tip of Belvedere Island so the home affords a marvelous view of the San Francisco Bay and Sausalito and San Francisco.

AT LAKE TAHOE two San Rafael families staged a reunion during their recent vacations. The Walter Birds had a house at Homewood at Lake Louise. With them were their four daughters, Mary Jane, Nora, Judy and Caseu. House-guest of Nora was Heidi Hickingbotham, daughter of the Joseph Hickingbothams of San Rafael, a former classmate at Dominican. With Casey was her friend, Genelle Steiger. Genelle had to return to be an attendant at the wedding of her sister, Georgette, to H. James Price III Sunday. The garden reception following the ceremony was at the San Rafael home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. George Steiger.

The Rudy Langs, who stayed at Tahoe Sands on the south side of the lake, visited with the Bairds. With the Langs were their daughter, Sue Lang, and her house guest, Cindi Reynolds of Albuquerque, N. M. The girls, who will return to Scripps College in Claremont will be sophomores and roommates.

A LUNCHEON was given at Peacock Gap Golf and Country club recently honoring Mrs. "Dusty" Rhodes. Lieut. Rhodes, who has been with the 84th Fighter Squadron at Hamilton Air Force Base has been assigned to duty at Magu near Oxnard. The luncheon, attended by 30 guests, was arranged by Mrs. Marvin Good, wife of the commander of the 84th Squadron, and Mrs. Lyle Stouffer, wife of Captain Stouffer, commander of A Flight.

MRS. BORIS MARCHANT of Larkspur was hostess at a luncheon Tuesday at her home. Her 20 guests from San Francisco, Marin and the Peninsula, were members of Daughters of St. George of California, Westminster Lodge of San Francisco of which Mrs. Marchant is a past president.

Growing is the list of "tuning" parties being given in September, to spotlight membership month of Symphony Guild of Marin. Four parties are being given in Novato. Mrs. Charles P. Davies of Indian Valley Ranch sent 90 invitations to the tea she is giving today. Mrs. Joseph Sereda, who lives on Sutro Avenue, has invited 30 friends to her tea Sept. 12. A morning party will be given by Mrs. Jerome Gilbert Friday at her Oak Knoll home. She has invited 30 guests and John Novak will be host at an evening party Sept. 13. Over in Kent Woodlands the Ernest Kirschner home was the setting for a tea today. Mrs. Kirschner and Mrs. A. Barlow Ferguson were the hostesses.

MRS. CLAUDE HOUSMAN and her children, Laurie and Kent, who have been visiting relatives and friends in the Bay Area for about three months, left Tuesday for their home in Mexico. Claude and his wife bought a beautiful old home in Guadalajara, remodeled it extensively and bought furniture which is of the same era as the house. Mrs. Housman spent some time while here with her mother, Mrs. Mary G. Gonsalves of Santa Rosa. The Housmans lived in San Rafael many years before they moved to Guadalajara.

UNDER THE CANOPY of ivy for their garden wedding on Sunday afternoon are Mr. and Mrs. James Marshall Nichelini Jr. The bride, the former Aileen Miller, was married at the home of her parents, Dr. and Mrs. Alex Miller in San Rafael. (Don Faulkner photo)

FACE AND FIGURE

Nowadays Gray Hair Has Become Flattering Style

It wasn't too long ago that the sight of the first gray hair was a matter of deep concern to a woman who hurriedly headed for the dye bottle to disguise the silver strand.

Nowadays, however, gray hair can be so attractive that many young women wait impatiently for the first signs of gray or anticipate time by the use of color treatments that give them the silver shades they want.

Gray or white hair is the most flattering frame a complexion can have. But it must be arranged in smooth waves and soft curls. Straight, hanging hair-dos are unbecoming to gray hair, as are frizzy or teased, high fashion styles.

Unless it is kept lustrous and shining, gray hair loses its attractive appearance. It requires frequent shampooing with a crystal-clear shampoo, followed by a creme rinse for manageability. Because it has a tendency to be a bit dry or thin, use a hair conditioner to keep it soft and healthy. There are hair conditioners made especially for gray hair.

You'll find also that a spray for gray hair will help keep your hair-do in place while letting its natural luster shine through.

A silver-gray head will enhance your complexion, but requires that you use a light touch with your make-up. Perfect your skin tones with foundation and powder and avoid dark lipstick or rouge and heavy eye make-up. Strive to achieve a light effect in make-up that gives a glow-from-within quality.

Gray hair will also require lighter colors in your wardrobe to set off your silver head. You can adopt the many grays that complement your hair shade, varying them with rich pastels and occasionally a dark shade such as royal blue.

Deanna Denman Recites Vows With David Hendricks Spooner

VANCOVER, Wash., will be the home of Mr. and Mrs. David Hendricks Spooner (Deanna Marie Denman) who were married Saturday in San Rafael (Jim Kean photo)

St. Raphael's Church in San Rafael was the setting for the wedding of Deanna Marie Denman and David Hendrikcs Spooner, who exchanged vows at a nuptial mass on Saturday.

The Rev. Roland G. Simonitsch of the University of Portland officiated at the ceremony, for which the bride chose a full length gown of white satin brocade. The bride, who is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. C. K. Denman of San Rafael, was escorted to the altar by her father.

Marleen Todt of Tiburon was maid of honor and the bride's sister, Sue Denman and Susie Borchers of Millbrae were bridesmaids, all wearing tangerine redingotes in organza over satin sheaths.

Frank J. Twiss of Portland, Ore. served as best man for the bridegroom, who is the son of E. L. Spooner of Portland and the late Mrs. Spooner.

Ushers were the bride's brothers, Ron and Gerry Denman, both of San Rafael.

After the nuptials a reception was given at the San Rafael Improvement Club. The couple left on a trip to Oregon and will live in Vancouver, Wash.

The bride was graduated from Marin Catholic High School and is a senior at the University of Portland. She is the sister of Jim Denman and the granddaughter of Mrs. Mildred Taylor of San Rafael, Mrs. Ruth Denman of San Francisco and Charles Denman of Point Reyes. She is the great granddaughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. W. J. Wickman.

FACE AND FIGURE

Nowadays Gray Hair Has Become Flattering Style

It wasn't too long ago that the sight of the first gray hair was a matter of deep concern to a woman who hurriedly headed for the dye bottle to disguise the silver strand.

Nowadays, however, gray hair can be so attractive that many young women wait impatiently for the first signs of gray or anticipate time by the use of color treatments that give them the silver shades they want.

Gray or white hair is the most flattering frame a complexion can have. But it must be arranged in smooth waves and soft curls. Straight, hanging hair-dos are unbecoming to gray hair, as are frizzy or teased, high fashion styles.

Unless it is kept lustrous and shining, gray hair loses its attractive appearance. It requires frequent shampooing with a crystal-clear shampoo, followed by a creme rinse for manageability. Because it has a tendency to be a bit dry or thin, use a hair conditioner to keep it soft and healthy. There are hair conditioners made especially for gray hair.

You'll find also that a spray for gray hair will help keep your hair-do in place while letting its natural luster shine through.

A silver-gray head will enhance your complexion, but requires that you use a light touch with your make-up. Perfect your skin tones with foundation and powder and avoid dark lipstick or rouge and heavy eye make-up. Strive to achieve a light effect in make-up that gives a glow-from-within quality.

Gray hair will also require lighter colors in your wardrobe to set off your silver head. You can adopt the many grays that complement your hair shade, varying them with rich pastels and occasionally a dark shade such as royal blue.

Crowded Schools, Harsh Discipline Contribute To Student Misbehavior

Would you send your children to a school like this?

It had at least 50 pupils crowded into one stuffy room. Only boys attended. They sat on wooden benches, without desks. Every fifth or sixth boy was a monitor. He went to the front of the room, and learned the lesson from the teacher. Then he came back and taught it to other pupils. He saw to it that they did their work, too.

The teacher sat on a high platform. He had whips on the desk in front of him. If a boy so much as looked cross-eyed, the teacher whacked him. If he was bad again, the teacher made him stand with his back to the class. Then he gave him a caning, from the knees to the neck. Some boys had to be carried home, after being caned.

The real payoff was the cage. Exceptionally bad boys were caned, then stuffed into the cage. It was arranged so they couldn't lie down, or stand up. They had to crouch, awkwardly. There was a rope on the top of the cage, running through a pulley at the ceiling. After being locked in, the boy was hoisted above everyone's head. He stayed there as long as the teacher thought he should—all day, in most cases.

The school? It was a unique institution of learning, back in the earliest days of public education. The pupils were from European merchant families. They had to learn how to read, write and figure. After learning they went into the family businesses.

Did the boys behave? No. They did things that would curl your hair. They even murdered at least one of their teachers. Do you blame them?

READERS' FORUM

(Q) "Does harsh and unreasonable discipline guarantee good conduct in school?"
—Mrs. L.

(A) No. The timid children are good, out of fear. But the braver ones always rebel. The result is extreme disorder. Good conduct comes from a combination of (1) good rules reasonably enforced; (2) friendly teachers who give children the feeling they are liked; and (3) studies which are of value and interest. Modern schools have better discipline than the old schools had.

Pixie Parents Inc. Is Growing

Playground Now Has 300 Member Families

The membership tea of Pixie Parents, Inc., an affiliate of the Marin Art and Garden Center, will be given from 2 to 4 p.m. on Sept. 13, at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Evan Goldenberg in Ross.

Officers who will receive the current and prospective members on the pool-side patio are Mesdames Robert Berry, president; Gary Williams, vice president; Geoffrey Fullick, secretary; Henry Whittier, treasurer; Doris Lowe, operations chairman and C. E. Bodington, member-at-large.

MRS. BERRY will describe Pixie's activities for the year, "to acquaint parents and guardians of pre-school youngsters with the facilities offered by Pixie. Not only is it a place where children can play on equipment geared to their abilities, but it is a place for mothers to relax and meet others from all over the county," she says.

Tea chairman is Mrs. Williams, assisted by Mrs. James McKenney, Mrs. J. E. Stevens and Mrs. Denis Kim.

PIXIE PLAYGROUND began in 1952 as a project of the child study group of the Marin Branch of the American Assn. of University Women. It managed the playground at the Art and Garden Center until 1956, when Pixie Parents, which had been organized to take over the playground, assumed responsibility.

Robert Royston, landscape architect, was commissioned to design a permanent playground. At his request 1.2 acres were acquired from the Art and Garden Center, the program costing $15,000. The debt was paid off within four years by means of fund raising activities sponsored by the members.

WHEN THE playground began with the AAUW, the membership was about 30 families. At present there are 300 families in the organization.

Pixie Parents is open to parents or guardians of pre-first grade children and membership carries with it affiliation with the Marin Art and Garden Center. Persons interested in joining the organization may attend the tea.

Way To Fight Communism Is Perfect American Ideal

(NOTE: Today's Guest Editorial is written by the Attorney General of the United States through United Press International.)

By ROBERT F. KENNEDY
U.S. Attorney General

Communism in the United States has presented the American people with one of the most perplexing problems of the post-war era — a small but dedicated group posing as a political party, but dedicated to advancing the aims of those who would destroy the free world.

The international Communist threat is very real and very dangerous. We are keeping nearly two million of our young men under arms and spending half the federal budget to advance the cause of freedom and thwart the Communists' announced goal of forcing the world to live under their system.

Americans rightly have been troubled by the actions of the few in our midst who are willing to serve the enemy. But over the years, through the work of the FBI, newspapers and dedicated public officials, labor leaders, educators, businessmen and private citizens, the Communist Party has been effectively opposed at every turn here in the United States.

Still, today, even though it is obvious that the American Communists obediently follow the line put out from the Kremlin — just as they have done through the years — we must remain constantly alert to a domestic danger which the Communists pose.

Perhaps on no other public issue has there been so much misinformation and misunderstanding. Reaction has ranged from dangerous indifference to harmful hysteria.

This confusion has come about, to a large extent, by design of the Communists. Just as they have posed as agrarian reformers in China, native guerrillas in South Viet Nam and friends of the working class the world over, they have attempted to adopt the protective covering of a legitimate political organization in this country and have sought to avail themselves of the rights we carefully guard for political activity.

But the Communists in this country are not a political organization in the true sense. Last year, the Supreme Court affirmed an order of the Subversive Activities Control Board which described the party as "substantially directed, dominated and controlled by the Soviet Union, which controls the world Communist movement." The board had issued this order after an extensive hearing in which the Communist Party submitted testimony and evidence and cross-examined government witnesses.

Congress passed the Internal Security Act of 1950 to help control foreign dominated groups posing as political organizations. That act did not outlaw the Communist Party but required it to register and give information about its activities.

The party has refused to comply and through a decade of hearings, trials and appeals, the Department of Justice has enforced this law. The party and two of its top leaders have been indicted for failure to register and action is pending against ten more.

Organizations infiltrated or substantially dominated by Communists also are required to register and they have been equally reluctant to do so. There are now 11 cases pending in the courts against such groups.

These controls and, more importantly, the American peoples' rejection of the Communist doctrine, have made the Communist Party politically powerless in this country. But the Communists remain a problem because they and their followers constantly seek to move into areas of conflict and agitate to make them worse.

They seek to exploit racial tensions, for example, or obtain employment in sensitive industries — communications, transportation, steel and many others. Recently they have intensified their efforts to penetrate university student groups.

The Communists are involved in espionage as well as political agitation. They are constantly seeking vital information for eager eyes behind the Iron Curtain. However, espionage is not usually conducted by professed Communist Party members—they are generally too well known to be effective. Instead it is often supervised and sometimes done by Communist diplomats from Iron Curtain countries.

Stopping modern day espionage with its ingenious devices such as tiny microphones and cameras is a job for experts, and we have the best in the business—the FBI. The Communist threat does not require vigilante action. Persons or organizations which profess to see Communists behind every bush, although well intentioned, do more harm than good.

Where Communist activity is suspected, the FBI should be informed. The most valuable contribution which private citizens and organizations can make is to help correct the conditions which the Communists exploit.

The status of the Communist Party here in the United States is not the great issue facing the American people. Of far greater significance is the challenge which Communism poses around the world—at the wall in Berlin; in the green hills and swamps of South Viet Nam; among the desperately poor people in Central and South America.

To meet this challenge, the American people must put their own house in order and make greater progress in peacefully settling racial conflict, combatting unemployment and in such problems as crime and juvenile delinquency. If we are to remain the leaders of the free world, we must give full meaning to the Declaration of Independence and the Constitution.

In the long run, the best defense against the Communist menace both domestic and international is to continue to perfect the American ideal, to eliminate injustice, and to show the world that our system of freedom under law not only provides more material benefits for more people but also assures individual liberty and dignity.

RAFFERTY-RICHARDSON-III

Should State Textbooks Be Selected? Printed?

By ROBERT FAIRBANKS

SACRAMENTO (UPI) — Max Rafferty and Ralph Richardson, candidates for superintendent of public instruction, take opposite positions on the current practice of state selection and frequent printing of elementary school textbooks.

The candidates took their positions in answers to identical questions from United Press International.

Following are the questions and answers:

1—Would you continue state selection of elementary texts?

RAFFERTY—No. I would do what the high school districts have been doing all along: select and purchase their own books from a widely representative list approved by the State Department of Education.

This will insure a proper supervision of titles and content by the state. But at the same time it will put our local school districts back into the business of purchasing their own textbooks on the free and competitive American market, thus making possible a greater variety and improved quality in the books available to California children.

RICHARDSON — Yes. I would continue the state selection of elementary textbooks while recognizing that this is a decision made not by the superintendent but mandated by the Constitution and implemented by statutes.

I would definitely oppose, to the extent of my ability and the impact of my office, the abandonment of state selection and the granting of absolute local, direct control of elementary textbook selection.

My reasons are:

1—Costs would rise. The absence of mass buying leverage, together with expenses of sales and promotion which publishers would necessarily have to add to the sale price, would cause costs to rise inordinately.

2—Our children must be guaranteed minimum educational experiences, with the least interruption, when moving to another part of the state. Standardization of basic textbooks can provide this guarantee.

3—The Curriculum Commission, working with the state Department of Education, has the resources thoroughly to evaluate every book available for adoption. Thus the highest quality books can be secured for our children. In the last state adoption of reading textbooks, 11,084 experts and consultants were used to evaluate textbooks. Many smaller districts would not have the resources for a thorough screening process.

4—Local control, a value and valuable concept, must be kept consistent with minimum educational needs for our children. This means that we must establish statewide standards reinforced by the selection of basic textbooks of high quality. It is the privilege and the duty of local districts to improve these standards with enriched curricula and supplemental textbooks.

2—Do you favor state printing of elementary textbooks?

RAFFERTY—No. No other state in the Union prints its own textbooks and I see no reason why California should be the great exception.

RICHARDSON — I favor the state printing of elementary textbooks whenever publishers can be persuaded to lease their plates for such purpose and whenever such state printing can be shown to be a saving of tax dollars.

If publishers refuse to lease their plates and if such publishers have the books believed by the Curriculum Commission to be the best, then I favor direct purchase from the publishers.

Dared To Exercise Legal Rights

EDITOR,
Independent-Journal:

On Wednesday, Aug. 29, the Independent-Journal reported that a 62-year-old man had been sentenced to serve in jail, plus assorted other penalties for driving too slowly on Highway 101.

The report further indicated that the usual penalty for this offense was a $12 fine. Apparently the jail term and the balance of the sentence represented Judge Thomas' outrage at the fact that Mr. Dobkowitz had dared to exercise his constitutional right to demand a jury trial of the charge against him.

Although I do not know Mr. Dobdowitz, I feel that the issue involved here—whether judges should have the right to punish citizens for exercising their constitutional rights —is sufficiently important to all citizens to merit my financial support.

I am enclosing a five dollar bill with the request that the Independent-Journal pass it along to the defendant to help with the cost of his appeal. I hope that other readers of your paper will feel similarly moved to help Mr. Dobkowitz continue to exercise his rights which, after all, are our rights too.

New Citizens Know Parties

EDITOR,
Independent-Journal:

Watching the news Aug. 30, I heard Roger Kent criticize the way the Republicans invite new citizens to join their party.

Mr. Kent complains that because we were not educated in the U.S.A. we could be misguided.

What Mr. Kent forgets is that when we became citizens we know United States history and know more about American government than many Americans.

In simple words, no one can brainwash us because we have a mind of our own. Having freedom in this wonderful country we know how to appreciate it.

I-J REPORTER'S NOTEBOOK

By FRED WYATT

Residents Don't Speak Often But When They Do They Use Loud Voice

City councilmen and planning commissioners in Marin lament that they meet painfully week after week with few citizens attending. (The Larkspur council set the tax rate Aug. 29 before an empty house.)

At infrequent times residents show up in platoon formation to yowl against a decision they don't like—that they scarcely heeded when the issue first came up.

In planning matters particularly citizens tend to stay away until some very localized thing has incensed a neighborhood.

A RECENT Larkspur City Council adjourned meeting was a case in point—a beef over a 13,800-square-foot lot. This developed into a kind of amateur night, in which dramatics paid off for angry Chevy Chase residents.

The council asked polite questions as performers chewed the scenery for two hours. Then it voted 4-0 (one member absent) to overrule a planning commission vote of 3-0 (two members absent) that had approved the split of a lot, at Magnolia Avenue and Park Way, into two substandard lots of 7,070 and 6,730 square feet.

The lot might be called wasp-waisted or hour-glass-shaped. Some couldn't see how one house could be put on it, let alone two.

Winners at the council meeting were 30 to 40 Chevy Chase residents represented by eight or nine who spoke at the meeting. This highly vocal cadre streamed joyfully from the meeting after the vote, leaving only three spectators.

LOSER WAS San Francisco designer Norman Gilroy, a British-born Ivy League type in his 30s who defended the split in a world-weary manner.

Gilroy in nasal Hamlet tones had said the narrow center of the lot discouraged building a house in the middle because a structure located there would have to be "attentuated." His arguments of "hardship" were smothered largely by former councilman Ashley Lee Stow and George A. Rosselet, "Mayor of Chevy Chase."

Residents booed when Gilroy said his projected development "doesn't affect the hillside." Several times they murmured like a chorus in a Greek drama.

Stow orated that he revered the planning commission —then blasted it for approving "creeping variations crawling up the hill."

Rosselet in a rich French accent like a character in a spicy comedy, complained, "Mr. Gilroy is only acting as agent for the owner. We cherish our places. We don't put hands in other people's pockets. This lot split would deprive us of value . . ."

Councilmen repeatedly said the residents had submitted "nothing new"—but voted in their favor anyway.

A SEQUEL WAS produced at a planning commission meeting three weeks later. The commission approved a new plan for the lot, 4-0, one member absent.

Instead of splitting the land into two runt lots, Gilroy would chop it three ways. He would keep 7,600 square feet (100 more than the minimum legal size) and sell two 3,100-square-foot sections to families with land adjoining his.

Those who thus would get their land enlarged are William Heinemann, 89 Magnolia Avenue, and George E. Willis, 10 Park Way.

Cheering the commission as it approved the new plan were residents including "Mayor" Rosselet. This reaction indicated there would be no ruckus when the matter reached the council.

Problem Of Liberal President Is Conservatives Control Congress

WASHINGTON — The reasons usually assigned for President Kennedy's failure to get his bills through his Democratic Congress do not go to the heart of the matter.

His trouble is that the political center of the Democratic Party in Congress is so much to the right of the political center of President Kenendy's campaign promises and program that the two do not meet—very often or very much.

This condition is not in the least peculiar to the Kennedy administration. Except in times of war and of great national emergency — like the depression of the 'thirties — every Democratic President in the past quarter-century has had exactly the same difficulty.

IT IS EVIDENT from the facts that of the Congresses from 1939 through 1962 those which have been least productive and least responsive to Presidential leadership have been the 12-year period of Democratic Congresses holding office with Democratic Presidents in the White House.

This suggests that the blame is not particularly President Kennedy's.

But if the blame isn't President Kennedy's, then what accounts for this 12-year span of substantial non-cooperation between the Democratic Presidents and the Democratic Congresses?

THE BEST ANSWER I can offer, with some over-simplification, is that the big cities —which usually want the government to do more and more and spend more and more—do most to elect a Democratic President, while the countryside does most to elect the Congress.

The countryside, favored by the apportionment of districts which gives it special political power, elects a "conservative" Congress — whether Democratic or Republican —while the big-city vote can succeed in electing a "liberal" Democratic President.

This creates an automatic gulf between a Democratic Congress and a Democratic President.

You can put it another way. The political power complexes—the labor vote, the big-city vote, and the minority-group vote—must be won in order for a Democrat to win the Presidency. This requires that the Democratic nominee commit himself to a legislative program which the Congress, dominantly elected by the small-city and rural vote, apparently will not legislate.

THIS PUTS Congress, even those with large Democratic majorities, well to the right of any Democratic President's legislative program. It is this situation, not the personality or the tactics of President Kennedy, which creates the stalemate.

Theoretically Kennedy could adapt his legislative requests more to the views of Congress and thus quite possibly make more headway on several fronts. But this course is not realistically open to him because the President must, for the most part, live by and hold to the campaign promises he made to get elected—even if he can't get a Democratic Congress to enact many of them.

Way To Fight Communism Is Perfect American Ideal

(NOTE: Today's Guest Editorial is written by the Attorney General of the United States through United Press International.)

By ROBERT F. KENNEDY
U.S. Attorney General

Communism in the United States has presented the American people with one of the most perplexing problems of the post-war era — a small but dedicated group posing as a political party, but dedicated to advancing the aims of those who would destroy the free world.

The international Communist threat is very real and very dangerous. We are keeping nearly two million of our young men under arms and spending half the federal budget to advance the cause of freedom and thwart the Communists' announced goal of forcing the world to live under their system.

Americans rightly have been troubled by the actions of the few in our midst who are willing to serve the enemy. But over the years, through the work of the FBI, newspapers and dedicated public officials, labor leaders, educators, businessmen and private citizens, the Communist Party has been effectively opposed at every turn here in the United States.

Still, today, even though it is obvious that the American Communists obediently follow the line put out from the Kremlin — just as they have done through the years — we must remain constantly alert to a domestic danger which the Communists pose.

Perhaps on no other public issue has there been so much misinformation and misunderstanding. Reaction has ranged from dangerous indifference to harmful hysteria.

This confusion has come about, to a large extent, by design of the Communists. Just as they have posed as agrarian reformers in China, native guerrillas in South Viet Nam and friends of the working class the world over, they have attempted to adopt the protective covering of a legitimate political organization in this country and have sought to avail themselves of the rights we carefully guard for political activity.

But the Communists in this country are not a political organization in the true sense. Last year, the Supreme Court affirmed an order of the Subversive Activities Control Board which described the party as "substantially directed, dominated and controlled by the Soviet Union, which controls the world Communist movement." The board had issued this order after an extensive hearing in which the Communist Party submitted testimony and evidence and cross-examined government witnesses.

Congress passed the Internal Security Act of 1950 to help control foreign dominated groups posing as political organizations. That act did not outlaw the Communist Party but required it to register and give information about its activities.

The party has refused to comply and through a decade of hearings, trials and appeals, the Department of Justice has enforced this law. The party and two of its top leaders have been indicted for failure to register and action is pending against ten more.

Organizations infiltrated or substantially dominated by Communists also are required to register and they have been equally reluctant to do so. There are now 11 cases pending in the courts against such groups.

These controls and, more importantly, the American peoples' rejection of the Communist doctrine, have made the Communist Party politically powerless in this country. But the Communists remain a problem because they and their followers constantly seek to move into areas of conflict and agitate to make them worse.

They seek to exploit racial tensions, for example, or obtain employment in sensitive industries — communications, transportation, steel and many others. Recently they have intensified their efforts to penetrate university student groups.

The Communists are involved in espionage as well as political agitation. They are constantly seeking vital information for eager eyes behind the Iron Curtain. However, espionage is not usually conducted by professed Communist Party members—they are generally too well known to be effective. Instead it is often supervised and sometimes done by Communist diplomats from Iron Curtain countries.

Stopping modern day espionage with its ingenious devices such as tiny microphones and cameras is a job for experts, and we have the best in the business—the FBI. The Communist threat does not require vigilante action. Persons or organizations which profess to see Communists behind every bush, although well intentioned, do more harm than good.

Where Communist activity is suspected, the FBI should be informed. The most valuable contribution which private citizens and organizations can make is to help correct the conditions which the Communists exploit.

The status of the Communist Party here in the United States is not the great issue facing the American people. Of far greater significance is the challenge which Communism poses around the world—at the wall in Berlin; in the green hills and swamps of South Viet Nam; among the desperately poor people in Central and South America.

To meet this challenge, the American people must put their own house in order and make greater progress in peacefully settling racial conflict, combatting unemployment and in such problems as crime and juvenile delinquency. If we are to remain the leaders of the free world, we must give full meaning to the Declaration of Independence and the Constitution.

In the long run, the best defense against the Communist menace both domestic and international is to continue to perfect the American ideal, to eliminate injustice, and to show the world that our system of freedom under law not only provides more material benefits for more people but also assures individual liberty and dignity.

Should State Textbooks Be Selected? Printed?

By ROBERT FAIRBANKS

SACRAMENTO (UPI) — Max Rafferty and Ralph Richardson, candidates for superintendent of public instruction, take opposite positions on the current practice of state selection and frequent printing of elementary school textbooks.

The candidates took their positions in answers to identical questions from United Press International.

Following are the questions and answers:

1—Would you continue state selection of elementary texts?

RAFFERTY—No. I would do what the high school districts have been doing all along: select and purchase their own books from a widely representative list approved by the State Department of Education.

This will insure a proper supervision of titles and content by the state. But at the same time it will put our local school districts back into the business of purchasing their own textbooks on the free and competitive American market, thus making possible a greater variety and improved quality in the books available to California children.

RICHARDSON — Yes. I would continue the state selection of elementary textbooks while recognizing that this is a decision made not by the superintendent but mandated by the Constitution and implemented by statutes.

I would definitely oppose, to the extent of my ability and the impact of my office, the abandonment of state selection and the granting of absolute local, direct control of elementary textbook selection.

My reasons are:

1—Costs would rise. The absence of mass buying leverage, together with expenses of sales and promotion which publishers would necessarily have to add to the sale price, would cause costs to rise inordinately.

2—Our children must be guaranteed minimum educational experiences, with the least interruption, when moving to another part of the state. Standardization of basic textbooks can provide this guarantee.

3—The Curriculum Commission, working with the state Department of Education, has the resources thoroughly to evaluate every book available for adoption. Thus the highest quality books can be secured for our children. In the last state adoption of reading textbooks, 11,084 experts and consultants were used to evaluate textbooks. Many smaller districts would not have the resources for a thorough screening process.

4—Local control, a value and valuable concept, must be kept consistent with minimum educational needs for our children. This means that we must establish statewide standards reinforced by the selection of basic textbooks of high quality. It is the privilege and the duty of local districts to improve these standards with enriched curricula and supplemental textbooks.

2—Do you favor state printing of elementary textbooks?

RAFFERTY—No. No other state in the Union prints its own textbooks and I see no reason why California should be the great exception.

RICHARDSON — I favor the state printing of elementary textbooks whenever publishers can be persuaded to lease their plates for such purpose and whenever such state printing can be shown to be a saving of tax dollars.

If publishers refuse to lease their plates and if such publishers have the books believed by the Curriculum Commission to be the best, then I favor direct purchase from the publishers.

Dared To Exercise Legal Rights

EDITOR,
Independent-Journal:

On Wednesday, Aug. 29, the Independent-Journal reported that a 62-year-old man had been sentenced to serve in jail, plus assorted other penalties for driving too slowly on Highway 101.

The report further indicated that the usual penalty for this offense was a $12 fine. Apparently the jail term and the balance of the sentence represented Judge Thomas' outrage at the fact that Mr. Dobkowitz had dared to exercise his constitutional right to demand a jury trial of the charge against him.

Although I do not know Mr. Dobdowitz, I feel that the issue involved here—whether judges should have the right to punish citizens for exercising their constitutional rights —is sufficiently important to all citizens to merit my financial support.

I am enclosing a five dollar bill with the request that the Independent-Journal pass it along to the defendant to help with the cost of his appeal. I hope that other readers of your paper will feel similarly moved to help Mr. Dobkowitz continue to exercise his rights which, after all, are our rights too.

New Citizens Know Parties

EDITOR,
Independent-Journal:

Watching the news Aug. 30, I heard Roger Kent criticize the way the Republicans invite new citizens to join their party.

Mr. Kent complains that because we were not educated in the U.S.A. we could be misguided.

What Mr. Kent forgets is that when we became citizens we know United States history and know more about American government than many Americans.

In simple words, no one can brainwash us because we have a mind of our own. Having freedom in this wonderful country we know how to appreciate it.

I-J REPORTER'S NOTEBOOK

By FRED WYATT

Residents Don't Speak Often But When They Do They Use Loud Voice

City councilmen and planning commissioners in Marin lament that they meet painfully week after week with few citizens attending. (The Larkspur council set the tax rate Aug. 29 before an empty house.)

At infrequent times residents show up in platoon formation to yowl against a decision they don't like—that they scarcely heeded when the issue first came up.

In planning matters particularly citizens tend to stay away until some very localized thing has incensed a neighborhood.

A RECENT Larkspur City Council adjourned meeting was a case in point—a beef over a 13,800-square-foot lot. This developed into a kind of amateur night, in which dramatics paid off for angry Chevy Chase residents.

The council asked polite questions as performers chewed the scenery for two hours. Then it voted 4-0 (one member absent) to overrule a planning commission vote of 3-0 (two members absent) that had approved the split of a lot, at Magnolia Avenue and Park Way, into two substandard lots of 7,070 and 6,730 square feet.

The lot might be called wasp-waisted or hour-glass-shaped. Some couldn't see how one house could be put on it, let alone two.

Winners at the council meeting were 30 to 40 Chevy Chase residents represented by eight or nine who spoke at the meeting. This highly vocal cadre streamed joyfully from the meeting after the vote, leaving only three spectators.

LOSER WAS San Francisco designer Norman Gilroy, a British-born Ivy League type in his 30s who defended the split in a world-weary manner.

Gilroy in nasal Hamlet tones had said the narrow center of the lot discouraged building a house in the middle because a structure located there would have to be "attentuated." His arguments of "hardship" were smothered largely by former councilman Ashley Lee Stow and George A. Rosselet, "Mayor of Chevy Chase."

Residents booed when Gilroy said his projected development "doesn't affect the hillside." Several times they murmured like a chorus in a Greek drama.

Stow orated that he revered the planning commission —then blasted it for approving "creeping variations crawling up the hill."

Rosselet in a rich French accent like a character in a spicy comedy, complained, "Mr. Gilroy is only acting as agent for the owner. We cherish our places. We don't put hands in other people's pockets. This lot split would deprive us of value . . ."

Councilmen repeatedly said the residents had submitted "nothing new"—but voted in their favor anyway.

HOW TO PLAY

WINNING BRIDGE

By ALFRED SHEINWOLD

Some Bridge Players Should Learn To Beware Of Curiosity

Some bridge players remind me of the lady who gaped at the hippopotamus in the zoo and asked the keeper if the animal was male or female.

"That," replied the keeper, "can be of interest only to another hippopotamus."

When this hand was played East took the first two diamonds and returned a trump.

DREW TRUMPS

South drew trumps and then began to wonder which opponent had the queen of clubs. To find out, he led a club to dummy's king and returned the jack of club's for a finesse.

He got the answer when West won with the queen of clubs.

By this time, of course, South was hopelessly lost. He had already lost three tricks and was sure to lose at least one heart.

USELESS INFORMATION

South was the victim of his own aimless curiosity. The location of the queen of clubs, like the gender of a hippopotamus, is useless information.

The location of the jack of hearts is a different story. South must go after the hearts and must try to limit the loss in that suit to one trick.

He should plan o discard a club from dummy on his own fourth heart; and that's why the queen of clubs should never play an active role in this hand.

BEST PLAN

The best plan is to lead a low heart from the South hand toward dummy's queen. When this wins, declarer should return the nine of hearts for a finesse. This method permits declarer to avoid a first-round finesse in hearts and enables him to cope with four to the jack.

If declarer leads the first heart to his own king, he cannot cope with four hearts to the jack.

South cannot tell who has the jack but should play the suit in such a way as to make the most out of his holding if he does happen to guess right. hearts right or wrong, however, he should tackle the hearts and not the clubs.

"Now, make me a newspaper by tonight"

Tall order... since a complete newspaper such as the Independent-Journal is at once the most complex yet lowest-priced product that can be made in one day.

Every day a new "model" . . . delivered by nightfall. To do this job against the clock—

- our 18 reporters comb the county, observing, interviewing, phoning, writing, getting the facts for you.
- thousands of AP and UPI newsmen check the world for you, put its pulse on the wire.
- teletypes chatter some 120,000 words to us, from as close as Mill Valley, as far away as Capetown.
- rolls of paper, each 850 lbs., move in from Canada and the Northwest.
- electronic impulses turn into photographs on a machine—the world in black and white, caught in action.
- the managing editor watches for the big stories, gauging the importance of each, overseeing the editorial "construction" of the paper, from content to design.
- pressmen feed the giant press with ink and paper—a taste of what's to come.
- "Circulation" readies for the job of distributing the paper, via 600 newspaperboys, to two out of three homes in the county.
- experts set type for news, for ads—enough in one day to fill a good-sized book.
- the retail advertising staff, 10 strong, contacts almost every business in the county . . . planning campaigns, offering merchants professional service in copywriting, layout and merchandising.
- the city editor "feels" for the news on a hundred fronts, hands out assignments, shaping the news force to the shape of events.
- engravers work their chemical magic, placing print and picture on metal.
- the women's editor and staff of 5 molds food and fashions, social doings, meetings, school events, into a women's world.
- syndicates send in both national and world-wide features—columns, comics, cartoons.
- specialists "make up" the paper, designing every page of news and ads.
- the art department creates illustrations, layouts, designs, cartoons.
- photographers race the news throughout the county, clicking the visual happenings of Marin today.
- ink for the press arrives not in bottles but by tank trucks.

★ ★ ★

- color plates and color inks are being readied for ads, special editions, covers—all to brighten your reading eye.
- sports "jump" in the typewriters of the sports department and Willie Mays leaps up into a headline.
- "Classified" is setting up the county's daily market place, and the phones ring with "wanted" and "for sale."
- headlines are being written against deadlines—and the tight confines of space.
- vital statistics are being compiled; weather and stock reports are coming in.
- the mechanical superintendent moves the copy through a maze of linotypes, electronic typesetters and the precise hands of men who literally know type up-side down.
- the library is digging up background data for stories, filing photos, micro-filming each edition of the newpaper.
- legal ads get eagle-eyed checking for accuracy.
- orders are coming in from the nation's advertising agencies with mats for advertisements—everything from autos to ant spray.
- issues become the tissues of editorials—the reasoned interpretation of events.
- proofreaders scan every line of news and advertising trying to hold errors to a minimum against the pressure of time.
- letters to the editor are being read for possible publication.
- the dispatch office is moving ads into production—checking size, type, mats, insertion dates, art, photos—a hundred elements.
- our national representatives are meeting with ad agencies and advertisers in New York, Detroit, Chicago—a dozen cities—telling them about Marin County and its newspaper.
- special contributors' columns on fishing, baseball and many others are being processed.
- Marin Magazine is being dummied; stories developed for the Saturday edition—picturing life in Marin.
- the business office moves against a mountain of financial and administrative detail.
- stereotypers cast the weighty printing cylinders for the big press—the final imprint of the news on metal.
- last minute news comes through and the front page changes under the expert fingers of typographers and the eye of the editor.

- rolls of paper, each 850 lbs., move in from Canada and the Northwest.
- electronic impulses turn into photographs on a machine—the world in black and white, caught in action.
- the managing editor watches for the big stories, gauging the importance of each, overseeing the editorial "construction" of the paper, from content to design.
- pressmen feed the giant press with ink and paper—a taste of what's to come.
- "Circulation" readies for the job of distributing the paper, via 600 newspaperboys, to two out of three homes in the county.
- experts set type for news, for ads—enough in one day to fill a good-sized book.
- the retail advertising staff, 10 strong, contacts almost every business in the county ... planning campaigns, offering merchants professional service in copywriting, layout and merchandising.
- the city editor "feels" for the news on a hundred fronts, hands out assignments, shaping the news force to the shape of events.
- engravers work their chemical magic, placing print and picture on metal.
- the women's editor and staff of 5 molds food and fashions, social doings, meetings, school events, into a women's world.
- syndicates send in both national and world-wide features—columns, comics, cartoons.
- specialists "make up" the paper, designing every page of news and ads.
- the art department creates illustrations, layouts, designs, cartoons.
- photographers race the news throughout the county, clicking the visual happenings of Marin today.
- ink for the press arrives not in bottles but by tank trucks.
- color plates and color inks are being readied for ads, special editions, covers—all to brighten your reading eye.
- sports "jump" in the typewriters of the sports department and Willie Mays leaps up into a headline.
- "Classified" is setting up the county's daily market place, and the phones ring with "wanted" and "for sale."
- headlines are being written against deadlines—and the tight confines of space.
- vital statistics are being compiled; weather and stock reports are coming in.
- the mechanical superintendent moves the copy through a maze of linotypes, electronic typesetters and the precise hands of men who literally know type up-side down.
- the library is digging up background data for stories, filing photos, micro-filming each edition of the newpaper.
- legal ads get eagle-eyed checking for accuracy.
- orders are coming in from the nation's advertising agencies with mats for advertisements—everything from autos to ant spray.
- issues become the tissues of editorials—the reasoned interpretation of events.
- proofreaders scan every line of news and advertising trying to hold errors to a minimum against the pressure of time.
- letters to the editor are being read for possible publication.
- the dispatch office is moving ads into production—checking size, type, mats, insertion dates, art, photos—a hundred elements.
- our national representatives are meeting with ad agencies and advertisers in New York, Detroit, Chicago—a dozen cities—telling them about Marin County and its newspaper.
- special contributors' columns on fishing, baseball and many others are being processed.
- Marin Magazine is being dummied; stories developed for the Saturday edition—picturing life in Marin.
- the business office moves against a mountain of financial and administrative detail.
- stereotypers cast the weighty printing cylinders for the big press—the final imprint of the news on metal.
- last minute news comes through and the front page changes under the expert fingers of typographers and the eye of the editor.

HOW TO KEEP WELL

By DR. THEODORE R. VAN DELLEN

Venereal Disease Back With Us And Rate Is On The Rise

VAN DELLEN

Venereal disease is back. The incidence was high during World War II, as is always the case during war times. Thereafter, the rate began to drop. There were so few cases in the early 1950s, many clinics closed and physicians specializing in the disease went into other fields. Complete eradication loomed as a possibility.

But the rate has increased gradually since 1955, not only here but in other countries. In England, for example, increased immigration, perversions, and promiscuity among the young are blamed. Our situation is somewhat the same but a deterioration in morals is not always the cause.

MOST CONTAGIOUS infections, including the venereal diseases, are kept under control thru constant vigilance. The conditions return and the incidence goes up when the bars go down and everyone becomes too complacent or careless. Venereal disease control requires education, case reporting, tracking down the source, and, above all, early diagnosis and treatment.

The stigmata associated with these infections have discouraged many victims from seeking early care. This is unfortunate because syphilis and the others are easily cured when treated during the initial stages. It is well to remember that not every discharge or open sore represents a venereal disease. The physician must be equipped to make the necessary microscopic and blood studies for accurate diagnoses.

FURTHERMORE, once it is made, full treatment must be given. Too little therapy may create a strain of drug resistant organisms and open the way for a long, drawn out series of treatments.

We must stress also the need for routine blood tests because a disorder such as syphilis may escape detection. Never hesitate to ask for a test when the possibility exists.

(Dr. Van Dellen will answer questions on medical topics if stamped-self-addressed envelope accompanies request.)

BLOOD CLOTTING

J. C. writes: What kind of test is "prothrombin time determination"?

REPLY

This test is an old friend of many victims of heart attacks who are taking an anticoagulant. Prothrombin is a body protein that forms thrombin, an essential substance in blood clots. Anticoagulants reduce the level in the blood to prevent clotting. The test is made at frequent intervals to determine whether the individual is likely to bleed spontaneously.

SWALLOWED GLASS

M. Y. writes: How long does a piece of glass, swallowed with food accidentally, remain in the system?

REPLY

Twenty-four hours, unless it gets stuck somewhere along the approximately 26 feet of the intestinal tract. There is no need for concern so long as symptoms do not occur.

LOW BACKACHE

R. F. K. writes: What is low back syndrome?

REPLY

Pain or vague aching in the lower back, associated usually with fatigue, strain, or faulty posture. Heat and aspirin help temporarily and more lasting results follow exercises that strengthen the muscles of the back and abdomen.

BROWN PATCHES

E. P. writes: Does a woman in the menopause just have to accept the brown spots on her hands?

REPLY

No; she can have them removed, wear gloves, or camouflage the patches with cosmetics. These spots do no harm.

TOXIC LEAVES

D. A. writes: Is rhubarb fit to eat?

REPLY

Yes—the stalks but not the leaves. The latter contain oxalic acid and are poisonous.

Catholic High Magazine Gets Award

Marin Catholic High School has received the highest rating awarded by a board of review for its five issues last year of Emcee Echoes, the campus news magazine.

Announcement of the award came this week from the Catholic Press Assn., a reviewing board for all Catholic publications operated under Marquette University. The student publishers of the magazine will soon receive a scroll recording the honor.

Sister Marian Leona, moderator for the publication, said last year was the first time the school had tried the magazine format. The school had used a regular newspaper format in the past.

Five issues were published during the school year—four with eight pages and one of 12 pages. Editors for the year were Lenore Courter of Fairfax and Jim Ringrose of San Anselmo. Both graduated last June.

Sister Marian Leona said the magazine was given the rating of "All Catholic." She said it was cited for outstanding physical appearance, including topography, layout and design.

News coverage was also considered excellent. Attention was called to interviews with Gov. Edmund G. Brown and Richard M. Nixon.

Strep Infections Lead Disease List In Marin

Streptococcus infection led the list of new cases of communicable diseases reported in Marin County during the week ending last Saturday, according to County Health Officer Dr. Carolyn B. Albrecht.

Her weekly report showed 12 new cases of streptococcus, 10 cases of gonorrhea and two cases of measles.

SECTION I: The Zoning Map of the City of San Rafael, County of Marin, State of California, adopted by reference by Section 14.12.020 of the Municipal Code is hereby amended under the provisions of Chapter 14.92 thereof, so as to amend Chapter 14.12, Establishment of Districts, Sub-section 14.12.010, to include a Special Multiple Residential or R-3-S District, and consisting of the following regulations:

The following regulations shall apply in all R-3-S Districts and shall be subject to the provisions of Section 14.72 (General Provisions and Exception).

(a) USES PERMITTED: Multiple Family Dwellings.

If the lot or parcel of land is of a size and shape which would permit subdivision in compliance with the Subdivision Ordinance of the City of San Rafael, all the requirements of that ordinance concerning dedication and improvements shall be met.

All development permitted under this subsection shall be subject to architectural control in accordance with procedures established by Section 14.72.070.

Accessory uses normally incidental to dwellings. This shall not be construed as permitting any commercial use except a home occupation as hereinafter defined in Section 14.08.150.

One unilluminated sign for each building, not over four (4) square feet in area, and pertaining only to the sale, lease or rental of the property upon which the sign is to be located.

(b) BUILDING HEIGHT LIMIT:

(a) For main building—maximum one hundred thirty (130) feet, maximum ten (10) habitable stories.

(b) For accessory buildings — maximum fifteen (15) feet.

(c) BUILDING SITE AREA REQUIRED:

(a) For each building a minimum of one hundred sixty eight thousand (168,000) square feet (3.68 acres) and a minimum width of two hundred (200) feet.

(b) For each family unit in any building minimum of three thousand (3,000) square feet.

(d) PERCENTAGE OF LOT COVERAGE:

(a) For aggregate building coverage and required parking spaces — maximum of twelve (12) percent of lot area.

(e) YARDS REQUIRED:

(a) Front Yard—minimum required twenty five (25) feet.

(b) Side Yards — minimum required seventy five (75) feet for tower or habitable portion of structure and fifty (50) feet for parking portion of structure.

(c) Distance between buildings in any dwelling group one hundred fifty (150) feet for tower or habitable portion of structure and one hundred (100) for parking portion of structure. No parking of automobiles in required front yard area.

(f) PARKING SPACE:

Garage space shall be as required in Sections 14.64.020 (a) and 14.72.060 (c). Plus additional parking spaces, minimum of ten (10) percent of the total dwelling units, for guest parking.

SECTION 2: This Ordinance shall be published once in full before its final passage in the Independent-Journal, a daily newspaper of general circulation, printed, published and circulated in the City of San Rafael, and shall be in full force and effect thirty (30) days after its final passage.

HOW TO KEEP WELL

By DR. THEODORE R. VAN DELLEN

Venereal Disease Back With Us And Rate Is On The Rise

VAN DELLEN

Venereal disease is back. The incidence was high during World War II, as is always the case during war times. Thereafter, the rate began to drop. There were so few cases in the early 1950s, many clinics closed and physicians specializing in the disease went into other fields. Complete eradication loomed as a possibility.

But the rate has increased gradually since 1955, not only here but in other countries. In England, for example, increased immigration, perversions, and promiscuity among the young are blamed. Our situation is somewhat the same but a deterioration in morals is not always the cause.

MOST CONTAGIOUS infections, including the venereal diseases, are kept under control thru constant vigilance. The conditions return and the incidence goes up when the bars go down and everyone becomes too complacent or careless. Venereal disease control requires education, case reporting, tracking down the source, and, above all, early diagnosis and treatment.

The stigmata associated with these infections have discouraged many victims from seeking early care. This is unfortunate because syphilis and the others are easily cured when treated during the initial stages. It is well to remember that not every discharge or open sore represents a venereal disease. The physician must be equipped to make the necessary microscopic and blood studies for accurate diagnoses.

FURTHERMORE, once it is made, full treatment must be given. Too little therapy may create a strain of drug resistant organisms and open the way for a long, drawn out series of treatments.

We must stress also the need for routine blood tests because a disorder such as syphilis may escape detection. Never hesitate to ask for a test when the possibility exists.

(Dr. Van Dellen will answer questions on medical topics if stamped- self-addressed envelope accompanies request.)

BLOOD CLOTTING

J. C. writes: What kind of test is "prothrombin time determination"?

REPLY

This test is an old friend of many victims of heart attacks who are taking an anticoagulant. Prothrombin is a body protein that forms thrombin, an essential substance in blood clots. Anticoagulants reduce the level in the blood to prevent clotting. The test is made at frequent intervals to determine whether the individual is likely to bleed spontaneously.

SWALLOWED GLASS

M. Y. writes: How long does a piece of glass, swallowed with food accidentally, remain in the system?

REPLY

Twenty-four hours, unless it gets stuck somewhere along the approximately 26 feet of the intestinal tract. There is no need for concern so long as symptoms do not occur.

LOW BACKACHE

R. F. K. writes: What is low back syndrome?

REPLY

Pain or vague aching in the lower back, associated usually with fatigue, strain, or faulty posture. Heat and aspirin help temporarily and more lasting results follow exercises that strengthen the muscles of the back and abdomen.

BROWN PATCHES

E. P. writes: Does a woman in the menopause just have to accept the brown spots on her hands?

REPLY

No; she can have them removed, wear gloves, or camouflage the patches with cosmetics. These spots do no harm.

TOXIC LEAVES

D. A. writes: Is rhubarb fit to eat?

REPLY

Yes—the stalks but not the leaves. The latter contain oxalic acid and are poisonous.

Catholic High Magazine Gets Award

Marin Catholic High School has received the highest rating awarded by a board of review for its five issues last year of Emcee Echoes, the campus news magazine.

Announcement of the award came this week from the Catholic Press Assn., a reviewing board for all Catholic publications operated under Marquette University. The student publishers of the magazine will soon receive a scroll recording the honor.

Sister Marian Leona, moderator for the publication, said last year was the first time the school had tried the magazine format. The school had used a regular newspaper format in the past.

Five issues were published during the school year—four with eight pages and one of 12 pages. Editors for the year were Lenore Courter of Fairfax and Jim Ringrose of San Anselmo. Both graduated last June.

Sister Marian Leona said the magazine was given the rating of "All Catholic." She said it was cited for outstanding physical appearance, including topography, layout and design.

News coverage was also considered excellent. Attention was called to interviews with Gov. Edmund G. Brown and Richard M. Nixon.

Strep Infections Lead Disease List In Marin

Streptococcus infection led the list of new cases of communicable diseases reported in Marin County during the week ending last Saturday, according to County Health Officer Dr. Carolyn B. Albrecht.

Her weekly report showed 12 new cases of streptococcus, 10 cases of gonorrhea and two cases of measles.

ORDINANCE NO. 754
AN ORDINANCE AMENDING THE ZONING OR DISTRICTING ORDINANCE OF THE CITY OF SAN RAFAEL, CALIFORNIA, BY AMENDING THE ZONING MAP OF THE CITY OF SAN RAFAEL ADOPTED BY REFERENCE BY SECTION 14.12.020 OF THE MUNICIPAL CODE SO AS TO AMEND CHAPTER 14.12 ESTABLISHMENT OF DISTRICTS, SUBSECTION 14.12.010 THEREOF, TO INCLUDE AN R-3-S (SPECIAL MULTIPLE RESIDENTIAL) DISTRICT.

The Council of the City of San Rafael do ordain as follows:

SECTION I: The Zoning Map of the City of San Rafael, County of Marin, State of California, adopted by reference by Section 14.12.020 of the Municipal Code is hereby amended under the provisions of Chapter 14.92 thereof, so as to amend Chapter 14.12, Establishment of Districts, Sub-section 14.12.010, to include a Special Multiple Residential or R-3-S District, and consisting of the following regulations:

The following regulations shall apply in all R-3-S Districts and shall be subject to the provisions of Section 14.72 (General Provisions and Exception).

(a) USES PERMITTED: Multiple Family Dwellings.

If the lot or parcel of land is of a size and shape which would permit subdivision in compliance with the Subdivision Ordinance of the City of San Rafael, all the requirements of that ordinance concerning dedication and improvements shall be met.

All development permitted under this subsection shall be subject to architectural control in accordance with procedures established by Section 14.72.070.

Accessory uses normally incidental to dwellings. This shall not be construed as permitting any commercial use except a home occupation as hereinafter defined in Section 14.08.150.

One unilluminated sign for each building, not over four (4) square feet in area, and pertaining only to the sale, lease or rental of the property upon which the sign is to be located.

(b) BUILDING HEIGHT LIMIT:

(a) For main building—maximum one hundred thirty (130) feet, maximum ten (10) habitable stories.

(b) For accessory buildings — maximum fifteen (15) feet.

(c) BUILDING SITE AREA REQUIRED:

(a) For each building a minimum of one hundred sixty eight thousand (168,000) square feet (3.68 acres) and a minimum width of two hundred (200) feet.

(b) For each family unit in any building minimum of three thousand (3,000) square feet.

(d) PERCENTAGE OF LOT COVERAGE:

(a) For aggregate building coverage and required parking spaces — maximum of twelve (12) percent of lot area.

(e) YARDS REQUIRED:

(a) Front Yard—minimum required twenty five (25) feet.

(b) Side Yards — minimum required seventy five (75) feet for tower or habitable portion of structure and fifty (50) feet for parking portion of structure.

(c) Distance between buildings in any dwelling group one hundred fifty (150) feet for tower or habitable portion of structure and one hundred (100) for parking portion of structure. No parking of automobiles in required front yard area.

(f) PARKING SPACE:

Garage space shall be as required in Sections 14.64.020 (a) and 14.72.060 (c). Plus additional parking spaces, minimum of ten (10) percent of the total dwelling units, for guest parking.

SECTION 2: This Ordinance shall be published once in full before its final passage in the Independent-Journal, a daily newspaper of general circulation, printed, published and circulated in the City of San Rafael, and shall be in full force and effect thirty (30) days after its final passage.

Bids or offers are invited for the property and must be in writing and may be delivered to the administratrix at the office of her attorneys, BURESH, SMITH, TRUETT & DURHAM, 1010 B Street, San Rafael, California, or may be filed in the office of the clerk of the Superior Court at any time after the first publication of this notice and before the making of the sale.

Terms and conditions of sale: Cash in lawful money of the United States of America; 10% of the amount bid to accompany the offer, and the balance to be paid upon confirmation of sale by the Superior Court. Taxes, rents, operating and maintenance expenses, and premiums on insurance acceptable to the purchaser shall be prorated as of the date of confirmation of sale. The examination of title, recording of conveyance, and any title insurance policy shall be at the expense of the purchaser or purchasers.

Bids will be opened at the office of BURESH, SMITH, TRUETT & DURHAM, 1010 B Street, San Rafael, California, at the hour of 10:00 A.M. of the above date.

The property herein described is commonly referred to as: No. 524 Olive Street, Sausalito, California. The undersigned reserves the right to reject any and all bids.

Dated: August 24, 1962.

NOTICE OF TRUSTEE'S SALE

On Thursday, the 27th day of September, 1962, at the hour of 10:00 o'clock A.M., at the entrance to the Court House, City of San Rafael, County of Marin, State of California, MARIN TITLE GUARANTY COMPANY, a corporation, as such Trustee, will sell at public auction to the highest bidder, for cash, in lawful money of the United States, all payable at the time of sale, the following described real property situated in the County of Marin, State of California, described as follows:

PARCEL ONE:

That portion of Lots 1, 2, and 3 of Lot 14, as shown on that certain Map entitled, "Subdivision of Lots 14-13, Division B, Millers Map Rancho De Novato", filed August 30, 1893 in Book 1 of Maps, page 73, Marin County Records, described as follows:

BEGINNING at a point on the Westerly line of said Lot 1, distant thereon North 5° 35′ West 380.0 feet from the Northerly line of Olive Street; thence at right angles to the said Westerly line, Easterly 200.0 feet; thence at a right angle Northerly and parallel with the said Westerly lot line, 110.0 feet; thence at right angles Easterly in a direct line 900.0 feet, more or less, to the Easterly line of said Lot 3; thence along the said Easterly line, Northerly to the Northeast corner thereof; thence along the Northerly lines of said Lots 3, 2 and 1, the following courses and distances, South 60° West 461.96 feet, North 82° 30′ West 198.0 feet, North 39° 45′ West 264.30 feet, South 85° 15′ West 198.0 feet and North 37° 30′ West 264.0 feet to the Northwest corner of said Lot 1, thence along the Westerly line of said Lot 1, South 5° 35′ East 1139.0 feet to the point of beginning.

PARCEL TWO:

LOT No. 14, in Division B, containing 34.42 acres of land, more or less, as designated and delineated on a certain map entitled, and known as "Map of East Part of Rancho de Novato, Marin County, California", surveyed by C. F. Miller, 1888.

Said property being further described as follows:

LOTS 1, 2 and 3 of Lot 14, as the same are shown on that certain map entitled, "Subdivision of Lots 14-13, Division B, Millers Map Rancho de Novato", filed August 30, 1893 in Map Book 1 at page 73.

EXCEPTING THEREFROM that parcel of land described as follows:

BEGINNING at a point on the Westerly line of said Lot 1, distant thereon North 5° 35′ West 380.0 feet from the Northerly line of Olive Street, thence at right angles to the said Westerly line, Easterly 200.0 feet; thence at a right angle Northerly and parallel with the said Westerly lot line, 110.0 feet, thence at right angles Easterly in a direct line 900.0 feet, more or less, to the Easterly line of said Lot 3, thence along the said Easterly line, Northerly to the Northeast corner thereof; thence along the Northerly lines of said lots 3, 2, and 1, the following courses and distances, South 60° West 461.96 feet, North 82° 30′ West 198.0 feet, North 39° 45′ West 264.30 feet, South 85° 15′ West 198.0 feet, and North 37° 30′ West 264.0 feet to the Northwest corner of said lot 1, thence along the Westerly line of said Lot 1, South 5° 35′ East 1139.0 feet to the point of beginning.

Said sale will be made, without covenant or warranty regarding title, possession or encumbrances, to satisfy the obligations secured by and pursuant to the power of sale conferred in that certain Deed of Trust executed by JOHN E. BOWEN and DIANE C. BOWEN, his wife, WILLIAM E. BOWEN and LUCILE E. BOWEN, his wife, and JACK H. CASANOVA and REBA CASANOVA, his wife, as Trustors, to MARIN TITLE GUARANTY COMPANY, as Trustee, for the benefit and security of NORTHWESTERN SAVINGS AND LOAN ASSOCIATION, a corporation, dated July 12, 1960, and recorded August 31, 1960, in the office of the Recorder of the County of Marin, State of California, in Book 1394 of Official Records at page 363.

In the Superior Court of the State of California, in and for the County of Marin.

In the Matter of the Estate of ALOYSIUS JOHN HAMELL, also known as JACK HAMELL, Deceased.
No. 14348

Notice is hereby given that on or after the 14th day of September, 1962, the undersigned, JUNE TANFORAN, as Special Administratrix of the estate of ALOYSIUS JOHN HAMELL, deceased, will sell at private sale to the highest net bidder, subject to confirmation by the above entitled court, all the right, title, interest, and estate of the decedent at the time of his death, and all the right, title, and interest the estate has, by operation of law or otherwise, acquired other than or in addition to that of the decedent at the time of his death, in and to that certain real property located in the County of Marin, State of California, described as follows:

Lot Number 10 in Block Number 51, as said lot and block are shown upon that certain Map entitled "Map of Woodward Valley, Sausalito, Marin County California, showing new subdivision of the lands of Sausalito Land and Ferry Company," recorded July 1, 1882 in Liber 1 of Maps, at page 18, Marin County Records.

Subject to: current taxes, covenants, conditions, restrictions, reservations, rights, rights of way, easements and encumbrances of record.

Bids or offers are invited for the property and must be in writing and may be delivered to the administratrix at the office of her attorneys, BURESH, SMITH, TRUETT & DURHAM, 1010 B Street, San Rafael, California, or may be filed in the office of the clerk of the Superior Court at any time after the first publication of this notice and before the making of the sale.

Terms and conditions of sale: Cash in lawful money of the United States of America; 10% of the amount bid to accompany the offer, and the balance to be paid upon confirmation of sale by the Superior Court. Taxes, rents, operating and maintenance expenses, and premiums on insurance acceptable to the purchaser shall be prorated as of the date of confirmation of sale. The examination of title, recording of conveyance, and any title insurance policy shall be at the expense of the purchaser or purchasers.

Bids will be opened at the office of BURESH, SMITH, TRUETT & DURHAM, 1010 B Street, San Rafael, California, at the hour of 10:00 A.M. of the above date.

The property herein described is commonly referred to as: No. 524 Olive Street, Sausalito, California. The undersigned reserves the right to reject any and all bids.

Dated: August 24, 1962.

PARCEL TWO:

LOT No. 14, in Division B, containing 34.42 acres of land, more or less, as designated and delineated on a certain map entitled, and known as "Map of East Part of Rancho de Novato, Marin County, California", surveyed by C. F. Miller, 1888.

Said property being further described as follows:

LOTS 1, 2 and 3 of Lot 14, as the same are shown on that certain map entitled, "Subdivision of Lots 14-13, Division B, Millers Map Rancho de Novato", filed August 30, 1893 in Map Book 1 at page 73.

EXCEPTING THEREFROM that parcel of land described as follows:

BEGINNING at a point on the Westerly line of said Lot 1, distant thereon North 5° 35' West 380.0 feet from the Northerly line of Olive Street, thence at right angles to the said Westerly line, Easterly 200.0 feet; thence at a right angle Northerly and parallel with the said Westerly lot line, 110.0 feet, thence at right angles Easterly in a direct line 900.0 feet, more or less, to the Easterly line of said Lot 3, thence along the said Easterly line, Northerly to the Northeast corner thereof; thence along the Northerly lines of said lots 3, 2, and 1, the following courses and distances, South 60° West 461.96 feet, North 82° 30' West 198.0 feet, North 39° 45' West 264.30 feet, South 85° 15' West 198.0 feet, and North 37° 30' West 264.0 feet to the Northwest corner of said lot 1, thence along the Westerly line of said Lot 1, South 5° 35' East 1139.0 feet to the point of beginning.

Said sale will be made, without covenant or warranty regarding title, possession or encumbrances, to satisfy the obligations secured by and pursuant to the power of sale conferred in that certain Deed of Trust executed by JOHN E. BOWEN and DIANE C. BOWEN, his wife, WILLIAM E. BOWEN and LUCILE E. BOWEN, his wife, and JACK H. CASANOVA and REBA CASANOVA, his wife, as Trustors, to MARIN TITLE GUARANTY COMPANY, as Trustee, for the benefit and security of NORTHWESTERN SAVINGS AND LOAN ASSOCIATION, a corporation, dated July 12, 1960, and recorded August 31, 1960, in the office of the Recorder of the County of Marin, State of California, in Book 1394 of Official Records at page 363.

FORD SALE

	WAS	NOW
'59 S. Wg.	$1495	$2195

A really clean 4-Dr. 6-passenger Country Sedan wagon with all the extras including power steering. Fordomatic, radio, heater, luggage rack and many other Ford luxuries. One owner - local car traded on new Buick wagon. Low mileage with lots of years of use for the family.

'57 S. Wg. $1095 $ 850

Another Country Sedan wagon, 4-Door, with power steering, V-8, Fordomatic, radio, heater and all the extras. One owner wagon traded on new Buick wagon. Low mileage. A really spotless wagon that has been used strictly as a family wagon.

'57 Cl. Cp. $1095 $ 850

Absolutely the cleanest little coupe in town. Yellow with matching, original custom interior that you can't tell from new. Power steering, Fordomatic, radio, heater, V-8 engine. We've just put brand new white tires on this car — that's the only thing we could find wrong with it.

Civil Air Patrol Cadet Gets Award

Cadet M/Sgt. Robert W. Alvarado of 724 Las Colindas Road, Terra Linda, was awarded the trophy as outstanding non-commissioned officer taking part in the recently completed California-Nevada Civil Air Patrol Summer Encampment at Mather Air Force Base, Sacramento County.

Sergeant Alvarado is a member of the Marin County Composite Squadron 4.

Elks Club Plans For Site Collapse

Plans to build a new Elks Club on Santa Venetia Island and a modern office building on the site of the present Elks Club at Fifth Avenue and B Street in San Rafael have collapsed for the present, Robert C. Forsyth, chairman of the San Rafael Elks Lodge board of trustees, said today.

Barton Construction Co. of San Francisco did not pick up an option on the B Street property, Forsyth said. The company had planned to construct a three-story building on the site and then build a new Elks Club on Santa Venetia Island in exchange for the Fifth Avenue site, now owned by the lodge.

"The company gave no reasons for the failure to pick up the option," Forsyth said. "The field is now wide open for a new site for our club. We're looking in all areas. But we will remain in our present building until we sell the property on Fifth Avenue."

Marin County supervisors had approved a use permit for the Santa Venetia Island clubhouse June 27.

Plastic Container For Gas Illegal

It is illegal to use plastic containers for gasoline, Lt. Richard Beyer of the Novato Fire Department today warned residents.

The warning came as an aftermath of several inquiries from Novato merchants and service stations on the use of plastic containers for gasoline.

Beyer said some merchants had sold the containers and complained service stations were refusing to sell flammable liquids into these containers.

Clausen-Bagley Press Aide Appointed

Walter J. Brown of Ross has been named to handle press relations for Republican Don Clausen's campaign for the First Congressional District seat, it was announced today by Price J. Hall, campaign director.

Brown, former publicity manager of the San Francisco Chamber of Commerce, has headed his own public relations firm for the past five years.

Brown will also serve on Hall's campaign staff as news director for incumbent Republican Assemblyman William T. Bagley's bid for re-election to the Seventh Assembly District.

When retirement comes, will you, for financial reasons, have to give up some of your activities just when you have more time to enjoy them? Not if you're like this couple. They knew that part of their retirement income would have to come from earnings on their savings, so they planned accordingly. They placed their savings with Citizens because of the protection from wide fluctuations in the value of their funds, the higher earnings and the regularity of the dividend checks they receive by mail every three months.

Theirs was only a small part of the nearly $2,000,000 in quarterly dividends Citizens paid or added to savers' accounts on June 30th but it helps make it possible for them to enjoy their relaxation on the fairways.

No matter why you save, drop in or phone the Citizens office nearest you. See for yourself why Citizens Federal, since 1885, is known as the better place to save. Citizens is California's oldest Federal Savings and Loan Association with 11 Bay Area offices from San Rafael to San Jose. Funds, placed by the 10th earn from the 1st at the current rate of 4¼% per annum.

Civil Air Patrol Cadet Gets Award

Cadet M/Sgt. Robert W. Alvarado of 724 Las Colindas Road, Terra Linda, was awarded the trophy as outstanding non-commissioned officer taking part in the recently completed California-Nevada Civil Air Patrol Summer Encampment at Mather Air Force Base, Sacramento County.

Sergeant Alvarado is a member of the Marin County Composite Squadron 4.

Elks Club Plans For Site Collapse

Plans to build a new Elks Club on Santa Venetia Island and a modern office building on the site of the present Elks Club at Fifth Avenue and B Street in San Rafael have collapsed for the present, Robert C. Forsyth, chairman of the San Rafael Elks Lodge board of trustees, said today.

Barton Construction Co. of San Francisco did not pick up an option on the B Street property, Forsyth said. The company had planned to construct a three-story building on the site and then build a new Elks Club on Santa Venetia Island in exchange for the Fifth Avenue site, now owned by the lodge.

"The company gave no reasons for the failure to pick up the option," Forsyth said. "The field is now wide open for a new site for our club. We're looking in all areas. But we will remain in our present building until we sell the property on Fifth Avenue."

Marin County supervisors had approved a use permit for the Santa Venetia Island clubhouse June 27.

Plastic Container For Gas Illegal

It is illegal to use plastic containers for gasoline, Lt. Richard Beyer of the Novato Fire Department today warned residents.

The warning came as an aftermath of several inquiries from Novato merchants and service stations on the use of plastic containers for gasoline.

Beyer said some merchants had sold the containers and complained service stations were refusing to sell flammable liquids into these containers.

Eighteen at sixty eight

When retirement comes, will you, for financial reasons, have to give up some of your activities just when you have more time to enjoy them? Not if you're like this couple. They knew that part of their retirement income would have to come from earnings on their savings, so they planned accordingly. They placed their savings with Citizens because of the protection from wide fluctuations in the value of their funds, the higher earnings and the regularity of the dividend checks they receive by mail every three months.

Theirs was only a small part of the nearly $2,000,000 in quarterly dividends Citizens paid or added to savers' accounts on June 30th but it helps make it possible for them to enjoy their relaxation on the fairways.

No matter why you save, drop in or phone the Citizens office nearest you. See for yourself why Citizens Federal, since 1885, is known as the better place to save. Citizens is California's oldest Federal Savings and Loan Association with 11 Bay Area offices from San Rafael to San Jose. Funds, placed by the 10th earn from the 1st at the current rate of 4¾% per annum.

COURAGE ON CRUTCHES—Larry Montoya, an 11-year-old Berkeley boy, has been named "K.O. Polio Boy" for the polio eradication campaign in six Bay Area counties, in which Sabin oral vaccine will be given to all from babies to the eldest senior citizens on Sept. 23, Nov. 4, and Dec. 9. Larry's leg braces never let him forget polio, which crippled him before he was 6 months old.

Brave Youth Saves Pilot After Crash

CHINA LAKE (UPI)—For 14-year-old Jimmy Aaron it was almost a pleasure cruise — a chance to take a Civil Air Patrol "orientation" flight.

The day was March 18, 1962, and it was beautiful spring weather when he and pilot Bud St. Louis took off from the Inyokern Airport in the desert area of Southern California.

The flight was to last about 15 minutes and he would get a chance to fly over Owens Peak, near the valley that furnishes populous Los Angeles with part of its water supply.

The plane had been in the air for about 10 minutes when it suddenly hit a downdraft of air, slamming the light craft toward the ground as if it was a falling stone.

"The next thing I knew, the pilot was telling me we were going to crash," said Jimmy. "And then the ground came up fast and we were down."

"Two hours later I woke up. I was by the left wing of the plane."

Both seat belts had been strapped when the plane went down but doctors told Jimmy that he probably unstrapped himself while semiconscious and stumbled out of the craft.

The pilot was still in the plane but he was unconscious.

"I tried to stand up," said Jimmy. "I couldn't. I crawled to the side of the wing. I tried to call to the pilot but he wasn't making any sense.

"I stayed there for about a half hour, I guess. I could hear planes flying around. I tried to get them by radio. It was out.

"So I started crawling up the mountain."

The plane had bellied in to the side of a mountain and the area was covered with huge rocks and some brush. Not much grows in the desert area where Jimmy and St. Louis crashed.

"I knew there was a road about 10 miles away and I started crawling toward it," said Jimmy. "It was not easy to crawl and it hurt."

Jimmy had suffered major injuries in the crash. His back was broken in four places, his neck was cracked, his head cut and his leg was badly wrenched.

"By this time it was real dark," he continued. "But I could see the search party's lights after I'd crawled about two miles and I began to yell. They found me."

After the party found Jimmy, they sped to the rescue of St. Louis, who still was in the plane and losing blood fast.

Said one doctor: "If Jimmy hadn't crawled out of the scene and helped the rescue party reach the pilot in time, St. Louis would have been dead when we reached the scene."

But St. Louis' life was saved and the only marks Jimmy bears now is a deep scar between his eyes. He wears it proudly.

'DRY-RUN CLINIC'

K.O. Polio Workers Will Take Vaccine

Five hundred volunteers for clinic work connected with the approaching K.O. Polio campaign will practice what they are to preach by accepting vaccine immunization at a "dry-run clinic" to be conducted at 8 p.m. Sept. 17 in the Marin Catholic High School auditorium in Kentfield.

Dr. Eugene Shatkin, chairman of the Marin K.O. Polio Committee, will be chairman for the evening.

Shatkin will also conduct an earlier meeting of physician clinic directors and clinic executive officers at 8 p.m. Sept. 13 in the Ross Hospital Classroom. In most instances the executive officers will be the principals of schools where clinics will be open on the three K.O. Polio Sundays, Sept. 23, Nov. 4 and Dec. 9 for administration of oral vaccine drops to all comers.

This meeting will constitute a briefing session for the first of the three Sundays, as well as giving opportunity for detailed arrangements for the meeting of clinic volunteers.

Decision to hold the two meetings was made yesterday at a meeting of the Marin Medican Society K.O. Polio Committee at Marin General Hospital.

Chiropractic Seminar

Dr. Stephen A. Duff, 1104 Irwin Street, San Rafael, has returned from the annual educational seminar of Palmer College of Chiropractic in Davenport, Iowa.

Sabin Vaccine Has Arrived

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI)—Ten million doses of Sabin oral vaccine in frozen vials arrived in San Francisco by jet yesterday for use in a mass polio immunization program in the Bay Area.

The vaccine was distributed to nine supply centers throughout the Bay Area for storage until the start of the immunization Sept. 23. It will be administered in three doses consisting of a drop of vaccine on a cube of sugar.

The Bay Area Medical Assn. committee, an ad hoc committee formed by Bay Area medical societies to handle the polio immunization, is urging all Bay Area residents to take the vaccine.

In DeLasaux Honor

Due to a typographical error it was not made clear in yesterday's Independent-Journal that Marin County supervisors adjourned Tuesday in respect to the memory of T. J. DeLasaux of Mill Valley, Marin representative on the board of the Bay Area Rapid Transit District.
